WITH IRON HAND

President Carnot Said to Be Ready to Crush
Any Insurrection That May Appear in France.

As Stern and Resolute in Enforcing Authority
as Any Man Who Has Ever Ruled France.

The Action of the Government in Expelling Foreign Detractors Generally Approved by the People.

The Army, Both Officers and Privates, Said to Be Devoted to the Republic's Maintenance.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—The government is greatly irritated at the exaggeration of the Panama scandal by foreign journalists and resolved to exercise to the full extent in the suppression of such reports, the authority to expel obnoxious aliens. Today the expulsion was announced of Signor Bernasconi, Paris correspondent of the Corriere della Sera, a newspaper of considerable circulation in Milan, for having thrown suspicion upon Gen. Menabrea, formerly Italian ambassador in Paris, as having been implicated in Panama bribery. This act of the ministry is generally approved, as Marquis Menabrea was a personal favorite with the people of France, notwithstanding the antagonism of late years between France and the Italian governments. Nobody believes the charge against Menabrea, who always possessed a high reputation for integrity, and the insinuations against Baron Mohrenheim are believed to be equally unfounded. The government is also much displeased with the reports that have been sent abroad regarding the danger of an insurrection.

It is rumored that the exemplary action of the government against alien retailers of Panama scandal is not without sympathy among foreign correspondents themselves, some of whose names have been mentioned in connection with the general corruption of the press. One correspondent of an English paper, unless rumor does him grave injustice, profited largely by the desire of the Panama directors to keep certain facts regarding their enterprise out of the public press. The report is that he was paid to say anything in favor of the company, but was paid to devote his attention to other subjects, when the Panama enterprise might have been a profitable field of investigation.

Notwithstanding the government's professions of security, there is no doubt that the troops of the Paris garrison are kept ready in an emergency, and that on a few minutes' notice any street in Paris could be closed by bayonets, cavalry and artillery. Gen. Loizillon, the new minister of war, had a long conference yesterday with Gen. Saussier and it is also known that Gen. Saussier visited to President Carnot had other motives than the desire of Saussier to disclaim ambition for the presidency. Carnot's intimates assert that he is capable of being as stern and resolute in the enforcement of authority, as any man who has ever ruled France, should the occasion arise, and that his courteous and polished manners are the glove on an iron will. Should Carnot be compelled, his friends say, to face either a monarchist or anarchist uprising, he would astonish the people with his severity in crushing insurrection and punishing the insurrectionists.

In some respects he is said to greatly resemble his famous ancestor of the revolutionary period and to be fully as capable of skill, energy and heroism in an emergency. Besides, he has the complete devotion of Gen. Saussier and it is believed of military commanders generally. It is said that secret orders have been sent to the commanders of the several army corps, enjoining on them to be ready to co-operate in case of necessity with the civil authority and to promptly and thoroughly with any symptoms of insubordination in the army itself.

There is no reason to suppose, however, that any insubordination exists. The army, from the commanding generals to the soldiers in the ranks, is contented with its treatment and the system of promotion has never been more fairly carried out than under the administration of President Carnot. Both officers and soldiers generally are loyal to the republic and feel that their own interests are identified with its maintenance. The Paris newspapers today show each a decided leaning or a milder opposition toward the government. The resolute course of the ministry has had a favorable influence and there is virtually unanimous approval of the expulsion of the foreign detractors.

AN OLD EDITOR DYING.

The Founder of Graham's Magazine is Now on His Death Bed.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 16.—George R. Graham, the founder of Graham's Magazine, is ill at the Memorial hospital at Orange and his death is expected at any moment. Mr. Graham has been an inmate of the hospital for several years, his board being paid by George W. Childs, of the Philadelphia Ledger.

At one time Mr. Graham was worth between $200,000 and $300,000 but lost his money in wild speculation. For many years previous to his present illness, he earned a precarious living with his pen. He is 86 years old.

Wants to Meet Hagen.

St. Johns, N. F., Jan. 16.—Charles Gillespie, of this city, claims the amateur backward skating championship of the world and is willing to meet Hagen, who defeated Breen at Minneapolis Saturday. If Hagen agrees, a race will be arranged to take place here.

LOTH ELECTROCUTED TODAY.

The Murderer of a Woman Paid the Penalty By Electricity.

DANMORA, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Loth met death by electricity at Clinton prison at 11:57 o'clock this morning. In the court of over and terminer at Schenectady, N. Y., on the afternoon of Nov. 3, 1892, Cornel E. Loth was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Etta Demacsek. He was sentenced Dec. 2 to be executed at Clinton prison, Danmora, during the week beginning Jan. 16, 1893. The history of the crime for which he was condemned is as follows:

At midday on Tuesday, June 14, Mrs. Alexander Demacsek, comely young woman, was murdered in her house, 106 Rotterdam street, Schenectady. Her skull was crushed in and her body received many stabs. Gussie Frisch, a little girl who chanced to go to the house, found the dead woman and at the same time she saw a man run out of the door and up the street. The murdered woman's husband was at work at the Edison shops when the deed was done, but he insisted that John Feltheimer, a former boarder, had committed it.

Feltheimer was taken before the police justice but he proved an alibi, showing that he was working at the locomotive shops. Then Feltheimer set to work as a detective to catch the real murderer. He followed up clues which the police knew nothing and then went down to New York. He told his suspicions at police headquarters there and Detective Nugent, of the Mulberry police station, was detailed to assist him. On Friday, July 15, Cornel E. Loth, a young Hungarian, was arrested at the gas foundry of John Williams, 544 West Twenty-eighth street. He was charged with the murder. The following Monday he was brought to Schenectady. The day following his arrest he made a full confession.

In this he said he was deeply in debt to Alexander Demacsek, who promised him only to forgive the debt but to pay him well if he would kill Mrs. Demacsek. He refused at first but at length consented and taking the midnight train from New York arrived here on the morning of June 16. He went directly to the house. A plasterer was at work there, so he spent the morning with the woman. As soon as the plasterer went away he rushed upon the woman, beat her head with a brass bar he had bought for the purpose, stabbed her and then cut her throat and fled from the house as Gussie knocked at the door.

Demacsek arrested on the strength of Loth's statement, but the grand jury refused to indict him and he was discharged. Loth afterward acknowledged that his "confession" was untrue. He was 26 years of age, a Roman Catholic and unmarried.

HE WILL STAY HIS HAND.

President Harrison Not Likely Now to Suspend the Consular Sealing System at the Border.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—[Special to The Herald.]—Senator Washburn is of the opinion today that President Harrison may not put into effect his order changing the consular sealing system affecting the Canadian roads. This is because of a dispatch from Ottawa stating that the Canadian government has decided to drop the tolls imposed on American vessels in the Welland canal. If this is put into operation there is no possible need for retaliation on the part of this government.

Senator Davis has recommended Frank Brett, of the City of George Robinson, of Stillwater, and D. W. Hayden, of Duluth, to appraise the remaining timber lands on the White Earth Indian reservation and the appointments will be made in the near future.

HE FOLLOWED "VIVIE."

A Young Man Stole $500 to Follow a Southerner.

MANSFIELD, O., Jan. 16.—Edward Price, who was sent to deposit $500 in the bank Saturday by R. B. Maxwell and failed to reach the bank or return to the dry goods store, is now in the county jail. He was arrested at Springfield last night.

He admits following Vivie Nobriga, of the "Grimes Cellar Door" company, but failed to overtake the company before being arrested. The money was all recovered excepting $50, which he had spent.

PASSED A GOOD NIGHT.

Mr. Blaine's Condition is Not Materially Changed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Mr. Blaine passed a very good night and rested well. Dr. Johnson called at the Blaine mansion shortly after 10 o'clock this morning and remained inside much longer than usual.

He stated on leaving the house that Mr. Blaine's condition remained unchanged. He said further that the physicians would give a statement this afternoon as to Mr. Blaine's condition, which would be fuller in purport than those heretofore issued to the press.

PANTON & WATSON,

SERMON ON THE MOUNT

Rev. Dr. Johnson of South Bend, Ind., Preached to the First Presbyterian Church Yesterday.

His Able Discourse Was Based on a Text
From the Sermon on the Mount.

Dr. Johnson Has Now Under Consideration
a Call to the Pastorate in This City.

Rev. Henry Johnson, of South Bend, Indiana, occupied the pulpit at the First Presbyterian church yesterday morning and evening. Some weeks ago a committee from the Duluth church made a pilgrimage to the Hoosier town, stole in upon Dr. Johnson without his knowledge, heard him deliver one of his regular sermons and so satisfactory was all to the committee that a call to the Duluth pastorate was extended to the shepherd of the First Presbyterian fold in South Bend. The recipient of the call refused to deliver a decisive answer one way or another but under promise that his congregation should be kept in ignorance of the matter at that time, he consented to appear before the Duluth congregation and deliver a couple of samples of his sermons and at the same time spy out the field offered him in this city of the northland. Yesterday he kept his promise.

Dr. Johnson is a man in the prime of life, of medium size and weight, has a full, smoothly shaven face, plainly marked with lines of character, a well-balanced, compact head, covered with closely cut hair touched with sunlight. The nose is above the average in symmetry and beauty and his observant blue eyes have dark depths that make their color uncertain to one not posted on all the shades and colors of those "windows of the soul." The voice is earnest, fairly deep, resonant but at times seems to lack power—possibly the effect of a temporary cold or hoarseness.

The discourse yesterday morning was delivered with great earnestness, appropriate gestures and without notes. The speaker employed his full physical and intellectual force. The text he chose from the gospel according to St. Matthew—fifth chapter, sixth verse—"Blessed are they who hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled."

The sermon on the mount impresses one with its modern air more than it is still fresh. The words of Homer breathe the air of a former age. The sermon on the mount will be the same 1000 years hence as it was 1800 years ago or is today. Its ideas are those which nations will mount. The scriptures are not a dead book. A modern work of science is out of date in ten years. The inspired scriptures are as fresh today as when they came from the inspired lips.

Hunger is a sign of life. Physical hunger is a sign of health. It is the alarm bell of the body. It was recently in the marble palace of a man of wealth. When I saw all the features of his magnificent belongings, I thought he was to be congratulated, but when I saw him at his table, with no appetite, a victim of dyspepsia, I thought blessed is the man who can eat.

The advance of civilization is in proportion to the mental appetite. "This blessed for nations to hunger after mental food. The renaissance was the result of mental hunger for art, religion and science. "Blessed be those which do hunger after righteousness" means a hunger for an excellence of morals, mind and heart. The hunger will shout echo the divine will. To hunger and thirst for conformity with God is to possess meekness, mercy, purity of heart, righteousness and kindred graces of the spirit.

The word love is as comprehensive as light. Faith, hope, love—these three, but the greatest of these is love. This world, this city, needs disciples who have love, meekness, mercy and the other graces of the spirit. To get up is greater than to get on. Listen to the Master. Get on honestly but see that you get up. What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world but lose his own soul?

God calls those blessed who hunger because hunger conforms with an idea of the Bible. There is no need for me to attempt to prove that sunlight is warm. Holding the hand in the bright beams shows its warmth. There is no need to attempt to prove that the Bible is true or that it is inspired by beautiful ideas. That ye may be conformed to the image of Jesus Christ is God's ideal. If we come in touch with His conditions, God will sometime be satisfied with us all. That requires the transformation of our characters into the image of His son. God wishes us to conform to His image in this world. That is what He meant when He said: "Let your light so shine before men that they may be led to glorify your Father which art in heaven." That ideal is to be realized by coming into touch with Jesus Christ. Let Christ by His spirit take a throne in your heart. Love of self and the world will go out and the spirit will come in. God will work out the perfect spirit of His son. When the seed is in touch with the soil, light, air and moisture, the flower grows up and fills the air with its fragrance.

It is the conditions of which we must take cognizance. The thought often staggers me that after a while God will be satisfied and we shall be satisfied with ourselves when we awake in His likeness. Onward and upward: "I hope to see my pilot when I have crossed the bar." We shall be satisfied when we awake in his likeness. "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled," means that we shall be satisfied and that the image of Jesus Christ shall be realized in the life beyond.

FOR BETTER LIGHTS.

A Well-Signed Petition Has Been Forwarded to Washington.

The petition of the citizens of Duluth and Superior to the United States light-house board has been forwarded to Washington with a very large number of prominent signatures. It was accompanied by a very strong letter from Capt. Alexander McDougall, who also secured the co-operation of the Lake Carriers' association in behalf of flash lights, fog horn and harbor range lights for the natural entrance and the bay of Superior.

Amongst the signers were about twenty of the foremost vessel and shipping representatives of Duluth and Capt. McDougall, the Freeman Milling company, the Russell-Miller Milling company, the Lehigh Coal & Iron company and all the other firms at the West end of Superior interested in lake commerce.

Will Be Held in Duluth.
The First Permanent Waterway Meeting to Occur Here.

S. M. Chandler received a dispatch from Alderman Long on Saturday night, saying: "Duluth will have first national convention of permanent association for deep water to the ocean." Mayor Scott, of Superior, has received a dispatch from John L. Lewis, giving the following additional facts about the organization:

"An executive committee of five was created, and Thompson and Graves, of Duluth; Ely, of Cleveland; Seymour, of Sault Ste. Marie, and Wampanoag, of Albany, were appointed as such committee. This committee has power to appoint officers and a board of control to consist of one from each of the five ports. Mr. Haugen pressed the election of the president to be made by the whole convention, vigorously objecting to having him appointed by a committee of his (the president's) own creation. He was overruled, however.

"Under the resolutions Duluth really has the management of the scheme. The next convention will meet there we believe. The matter will be pushed vigorously. From the enthusiastic endorsement of many of the congressmen at the general meeting last night in favor of a deep water channel to the sea, I believe the money for surveys will be voted by this congress. Opposition may come from apparent favoring of localities in appointment of the executive committee, but we hope that harmony will prevail and no time be lost in proceeding with surveys and the ultimate prosecution of the work."

THE FIREMEN KEPT BUSY.

Five Alarms Yesterday, But Only One Fire of Much Account.

Five alarms kept the fire department on the go yesterday. One false alarm sent No. 2 horses, men and apparatus to the West End car barns, but it was a mistake. There was a little recall to the ruins of Hotel St. Louis which were getting quite warm again. This was subdued and the next run was to a rubbish fire in the alley of the block between First and Second avenues east and Second and Third street.

The other two alarms came from within a distance of 150 feet from another. A building back of the old city hall in the Anderson block was on fire but was easily put out. The last alarm was caused by a fire which started in the rear of Mrs. N. J. Hoff's shoe store at 25 East Superior street and bears some marks of incendiary origin. It communicated slightly to the rear of Nos. 23 and 27, the former being occupied by D. Benda as a fruit and confectionery store, and the latter by the Yegg saloon, G. A. Carlson, proprietor, and damaged the buildings and stocks a little.

The firemen confined the fire in narrow limits and poured in a heavy flow of water. The losses by this latest fire are as follows, as near as can be estimated: D. Benda, stock and household goods, $200; fully insured. Mrs. N. J. Hoff, building, $500; on stock, $1000; fully insured. John Erickson, on building, $250; fully insured. G. A. Carlson, on saloon, $50; fully insured. Chas. E. Jones, on furniture, $100; uninsured. Total loss, $2400.

Lake Carriers' Association.
At the annual meeting of the Lake Carriers' association in Detroit, Thomas Wilson was elected president for the ensuing year. The eight vice-presidents elected are: William Livingston, Detroit; Peter P. Miller, Buffalo, J. G. Keith, Chicago; James Davidson, Bay City; Alex. McDougall, Duluth; James Corrigan, Cleveland; W. S. Barnard, Toledo, and F. J. Philadelphia. The old board of managers were re-elected with the exception that Capt. John Rice was substituted for W. P. Henry, and Frank Owen, of Ogdenburg, for Mr. Baldwin. W. R. Owen, of Chicago; M. M. Drake, of Buffalo, and W. J. White, of Cleveland, were added to the board.

Scrofula, whether hereditary or acquired, is thoroughly expelled from the blood by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

Platforms.
One of the best illustrations of "anything to get the coon" was a story of the late campaign. A Republican senator from a "free silver state" was asked how he could stand on the platform of his party, as it did not favor his monetary ideas. "Well, it's about this way. A friend of mine on a pleasant summer day boarded a railway train. As he intended to ride only about five miles, he remained on the car platform, enjoying the scenery and the breeze. Soon the brakeman approached—'Please get inside the car, sir.' But it's more pleasant out here. 'Orders is—passengers not allowed to stand on the platform.' 'Well, what's a platform for, if not to stand on?' What's a platform for? It's not to stand on, sir, but to get in on. 'You see,' said the senator, 'why I don't care about the anti-silver plank—it's only to get in on.' That may do very well for some politicians, but the burglar stands on, and stands by, the planks of its platform, which are: Best equipment. Fast time. Smoothest tracks. Absolute safety. Bare connections. Courtesy to passengers. Special attention to ladies traveling alone, or in charge of children. Goes everywhere. For tickets, rates, or further particulars, apply to any agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, St. Paul, Minn.

MR. BIRDERMAN

Has a Few Words to Say:

Mr. Fred Birderman, employed by W. T. Bailey, of Duluth, says: "For three years I suffered with pains in my back, mental depression and general weakness. I felt tired most of the time, and had dizzy spells. I tried various remedies, but failed to get any permanent relief. Finally, after reading the different testimonials in the various papers, I concluded to consult Dr. SPEER & CO., New York block, West Superior. He explained my difficulty at once and placed me under treatment. His remedies have had the desired effect. My disagreeable symptoms have disappeared, and I am well pleased with the result. I should be pleased to give any information to anyone interested, and I can be found on First street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth avenues east, Duluth."

ASSAULTED BY A BRAKEMAN.

Mr. McCord Tells of His Experience at Chippewa Falls.

W. E. McCord, the well-known lumberman, who was recently assaulted by a brakeman on the Omaha road at Chippewa Falls, writes to The Herald, giving the following particulars of the affair: "On last Tuesday, while attempting to take the train on the Omaha road at Chippewa Falls, the brakeman, S. J. Spencer, asked me if I had a ticket. I told him I had and stepped up onto the platform when he rushed up and jerked me off backwards and he and the conductor finally got me down in the scullie which ensued, as I naturally did not submit very tamely to being thus suddenly and unceremoniously yanked off the train."

"What I would like to have the attention of the public called to is the question whether respectable people are obliged to suffer that kind of indignity at the hands of the Omaha road company, by their keeping in their employ men so ignorant and so dull of comprehension that they cannot carry out the orders of the company if they have any such order to be perfectly responsible and worthy of the respect of any man."

"It has been a general complaint all the past season on this road, especially between Ashland and Eau Claire, and especially the train this man works on, that he has by persistently ordering people to show their tickets insulted and abused almost everyone that attempted to get on to his train (as he designated it) but the general public not only do not have a time but do not know in what way to seek redress, and rather notoriety that a public expression of the matter would then submit to all kinds of ill treatment by such employees. And although in my case he did not ask to see my ticket nor did I think of it until after I was all tired out and the conductor ordered me to show it in a manner that a decent person would not use to address his dog in, still I have been told by over fifty different people that this has been exactly their experience, only they had not resented it and had not received quite as rough treatment."

"If you put these facts into such shape as you deem best and give them an airing I think you will receive the thanks of the people in general. I am quite sure you will mine. That they knew perfectly well who I was, the fact that I am now shipping 100,000 feet of logs per day from Cartwright to the Daniel Shaw Lumber company at Eau Claire, Wis., over that line, shows for itself. The conductor also knows that I am vice president of the First National bank of Chippewa Falls, Wis."

Official.

It is our earnest desire to impress upon the minds of the public the superiority of the service offered by the Wisconsin lines to Milwaukee, Chicago and all points East and South. Two fast trains leave St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth daily, equipped with Pullman vestibuled drawing room sleepers, dining cars and coaches of the latest design. Its dining car service is unsurpassed, which accounts to a great degree for the popularity of this line. The Wisconsin Central lines, in connection with Northern Pacific railroad, is the only line from Pacific coast points over which both Pullman vestibuled, first-class and Pullman tourist cars are operated via St. Paul without change to Chicago.

Pamphlets giving valuable information can be obtained free upon application to your nearest ticket agent, or Jas. C. Pond, general passenger and ticket agent, Chicago, Ill.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Soller Altoona, Pa.

Both Had Eczema In Its Worst Form

After Physicians Failed, Hood's Sarsaparilla Perfectly Cured.
Great mental agony is endured by parents who see their children suffering from diseases caused by impure blood, and for which there seems no cure. This is remedied by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is resorted to, for it expels the foul humors from the blood, and restores the diseased skin to fresh, healthy brightness. Read the following from grateful parents:

"To C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
"We thank Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most valuable medicine on the market for blood and skin diseases. Our two children suffered terribly with the Worst Form of Eczema for two years. We had three physicians in that time, but neither succeeded in curing them or even in giving them a little relief. At last we tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a month both children were perfectly cured. We recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as a standard family medicine, and would not be without it." Mr. and Mrs. M. M. SOLLER, 1412 2nd Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Hood's PILLS cure liver, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion.

IN FAVOR OF A BRIDGE

Maj. Sears Will Not Offer Objections to Bridges at Rice's Point and Up the River.

Another Company Has Been Organized to Build a Bridge From Rice's to Connor's Point.

The Terminal Company Has Actually Declined to Bridge the St. Louis River Above Grassy Point.

The representatives of the Duluth Transfer & Terminal company have had another interview with Maj. Sears, the government engineer, and they are much encouraged by the results. He said the proposed terminal bridge over the St. Louis would meet with little or no opposition from an engineer's standpoint to a bridge at Rice's Point, those objections would not be sufficient to prevent securing a crossing at that point. The Duluth & Superior Bridge company, of Superior, with a stated capital of $200,000, has filed articles at Madison, Wis. Incorporators: Byron Kimball, John H. Harrison, David B. Barber. The object is to build a bridge between Rice's Point and Connor's Point, and own, lease, operate or sell the same.

Meanwhile the company which was organized in this state last summer, consisting of New York, Kansas City and Duluth men, is quietly pushing the bill now before congress giving them authority to erect a bridge from Rice's to Connor's Point, and with fair prospects of success. The former federal engineer reported against a bridge at that point, but his report was revised by Secretary Atkins, so that there is now no opposition from the war department. The terminal company is also pushing ahead quietly. In a very short time a line of transfer and terminal railway will entirely circle the cities of Superior and Duluth. Negotiations are being conducted for extensive yards on both sides of the bay as well as a new bridge across the St. Louis at Grassy Point, striking the other side above Elk Rapids. The day K. Smith said in regard to the matter: "We have decided to get across to Superior. Our intention is to bridge over from Grassy Point. If we have trouble we will lease the St. Paul & Duluth bridge until such times as we can get a bill through congress allowing us to build a bridge of our own."

"We will have extensive yards on both sides of the bay. The line is now completed very nearly to Duluth and we can run into the yards here."

"Our line on the Superior side will commence at a point west of the Steel plant, running south to Twenty-eighth street, and a branch running east on that street connecting with the South Shore terminal here. The main line will extend to South Superior passing in a direct line. From there we will build a line to Central Superior connecting with the Duluth & Winnipeg."

"We will soon make connections with New Duluth, building a bridge and forming a perfect link."

Mr. Smith has had a gang of men at work during the week surveying the bridge between Grassy Point and some point on the Superior side. According to the surveys the bridge proper will be 4800 feet long and with the approaches nearly a mile in length. The work of surveying has been directed by the chief engineer E. B. Banks of Superior and is nearly finished.

THE INMAN DIVORCE CASE.
The Story Told by Mrs. Inman in the Cleveland Divorce Court.

A Cleveland dispatch on Saturday briefly announced that Grace A. Inman, the wife of Capt. B. B. Inman, of this city, had been granted a divorce in the court there. The story which told in court was quite sensational. One reporter says: She married Inman at Port Huron, Mich., in 1874, being then 15 years of age. In telling her story she said she never knew that her husband was cruel until two years after their marriage, when he choked her because she would not go to a revival meeting with him. She continued:

"When we first moved to Duluth we mortgaged our home to buy the first tug, and Mr. Inman from that time has been very successful in his business. Soon after we arrived in Duluth, however, he began to leave his home at night. He even wanted to bring strange women into our own house. At first I thought I would not make a fuss about it and perhaps he would quit. I said nothing to him until one evening at supper. There was a certain woman friend of his living in the neighborhood. He asked me to go and call upon her and be neighborly. I told him I could not comply with such a request, whereupon he exclaimed that I must or he would be over between us. I found out that he was paying $45 a month for her house rent and that he paid the wages of the woman's hired girl. During this time I was working from morning till night to save money to aid him in his business. Of course I was indignant. Then I discovered that he had a girl at one of the restaurants in the city. Naturally I thought that he should have provided for his wife and family first."

Here Mrs. Inman hesitated as if reluctant to proceed. After a slight pause she continued: "I don't like to say anything against him. There is so much to tell, though."

The attorney called the attention of the judge to an episode which happened at the docks one night. Mrs. Inman said:

"His business necessarily kept him at the dock a great deal of the time. I had to work while he was away. There were times when he took women there. They used to call and ask him to take boat rides with them. On the evening in question I decided to go down to the docks and see for myself just how he acted. He had the pictures of numerous women fastened on the walls of his pilot house. I put my hand on one of them and asked him whose picture it was. He told me her name. Another woman was sitting in the corner of the room. That was too much for me and I went to bed. We had a little tilt, and Mr. Inman interposed in her behalf; he pushed me against the wall in a most cruel manner. He raised a chair and threatened to kill me. He also kicked and choked me. Then he pushed me out of the house. I could hardly get home. Next day my body was black and blue in several places. I felt as though I could take my children and jump into the lake. I talked with my friends and decided to leave him. We had sickness in the family and I had no end of trouble."

"Has your husband furnished anything for your support since you came to Cleveland?"

"Yes. He has sent me some money for the maintenance of myself and the children. On several occasions he has visited us. He loves the children, and I have no desire to have it otherwise. I wish to do just as I would like to be done by."

Judge Hutchings said: "I do not care to hear anything more in this case. I am perfectly satisfied that the grounds for divorce are sufficient."

A decree was granted on the grounds of extreme cruelty. Alimony will be paid the wife in the sum of $12,000 and an allowance of $1000 will be made for each of the children during their minority.

ANOTHER BLAST FURNACE.
It is Probable One Will be Added to the Iron Plant.

The work on the Iron Structural Steel company's plant is rapidly progressing. Sixty men are at work now putting in foundation for boilers and machinery. The buildings are all enclosed and ready for machinery. Ten of the twelve boilers to be used are on the grounds.

The Marinette Iron works have about completed the engine for the main building, which is 2800 horse power, and it is a beauty. Besides this there are several smaller engines being constructed at the same works for the use of annexes and pumping stations.

The company will produce all kinds of structural steel work, but will make a specialty of bridge work, beams and pillars for buildings.

The main building is 600 by 100 and 22 feet high, of red brick. On the north is an annex 60 by 220. The gas producer is 120 by 40; boiler house, 100 by 40. A pumping house is near the station and is 75 by 40 feet. An engine will be placed here for pumping water and generating the electricity by which all the buildings will be lighted. The machine shop is 100 by 40, built of white brick. It is attended to have the plant running by June 1.

Arrangements are in progress to add a big blast furnace to the works now under erection so that the ore can be shipped in its raw state from the mines and turned out in manufactured iron or steel without outside aid.

Negotiations are pending with the Merritts to supply ore enough to run the furnace. The number of the works is James E. York, manager of the company, is now in New York consulting with capitalists in regard to the matter. One of the interested parties said: "Within eighteen months we shall have a plant that will be worth $1,000,000."

The Duluth & Winnipeg.
A New York dispatch says that the directors of the Duluth & Winnipeg road received word while in session there of the big attachments filed against the construction company. The answer was made upon authority that every dollar of the road's indebtedness would be promptly met. The meeting adjourned until this afternoon when it is expected the affairs of the road will be finally adjusted.

By Muscle Power.
Electricity was supplemented by human muscle and gravity on the answer to the survey of the bridge proper will be 4800 feet long and with the approaches nearly a mile in length. The work of surveying has been directed by the chief engineer E. B. Banks of Superior and is nearly finished.

THE DISMISSAL OF LITTLE.

Inquiry Started by the Committee of the Council.

Another chapter of history in the commissioners' board was written Saturday afternoon. The councilman committee appointed by the city fathers to inquire into the circumstances of Assistant Chief Little's dismissal, met in the council chamber and made an attempt to see what they could see. J. D. Holmes conducted the examination of the witnesses, A. A. Farrington acted as stenographer and Alderman Nelson presided.

Nothing sensational came out and no bad blood was raised that has not been up for lo, these many moons. Attorney Holmes apparently had in view the establishment of two points—one that Little was dismissed without any charges being preferred and a chance given to be heard; and second, that the whole proceeding was opposed to the rules and customs in force in the fire department.

Those two points were shown as also was the one that Little's case had previously been disposed of by being consigned for the most part to the investigation of the commissioners he was charged for.

The witnesses introduced were Chief Smith and a reporter each from the daily papers of Duluth. The latter witnesses had attended the various meetings of the commissioners at which action was taken in the Twiddle and Little cases.

Commissioners Hart and Helmski refused to appear on the witness stand, but sat outside the railing with his honor the mayor and private secretary, Thos. Walsh, being interested spectators with various kinds of smiles on their faces at different stages of the investigation.

The commissioners took the ground that their authority would be weakened by interference from the council in this matter. They closed his written reasons for refusing to testify as follows:

Without in any way admitting your authority to investigate, but out of respect for the honorable body which appointed you, and in order that the essential point in the case may be placed in the proper light, hereafter the discharge of the former assistant chief was for such violations of the rules and regulations of the department and of his duties as would have been subversive of all proper discipline if allowed to continue or connived at by the fire department. The commissioners, fully understanding the facts, exercised their best judgment in determining that he could no longer be safely trusted to discharge his duties in the responsible position and therefore displaced him. Even the honorable council has no authority to question our action, in the way now attempted, and hence I decline to submit to the jurisdiction of this committee.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Jan. 16.—This morning the warmest place in the country is in the far Northwest, and the coldest, the valley of the Red river where it is 30 below zero. It is cold everywhere, there not being a place in the country where the temperature is warmer than ten degrees below zero.
The cold has even reached the Southern states with more than the usual force. The forecast for the past twenty-four hours.
From, reporting 10 below this morning, and the prospects of much warmer weather seems poor.

An area of low barometer has appeared over the Northwest, and it will ultimately bring warmer weather to this section, but it will be gradually, and not a rapid rise. The rest of the country is covered with an area of high pressure, and it is falling at a few scattered places
but none of any consequence has fallen over the country for the past twenty-four hours.
The highest temperature here yesterday was 6 above zero, the lowest last night 10 below.

DULUTH, Jan. 16.—Continued fair and cold;
north to northwest winds.
R. H. BRONSON,
Local Forecast Official.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Forecast till 8 p. m.
tomorrow: For Wisconsin: Increasing cloudiness and snow, thurday tonight and Tuesday morning; variable winds, shifting to westerly.
For Minnesota: Fair, warmer Tuesday; cooler
in the evening; variable winds.

Will Davis Win?

The first ballot on United States senator of the legislature separately. In the event that no person receives a majority of the total vote, both houses will meet in joint session at noon on Wednesday and take a formal ballot.

It is the simple truth to say that the result is at present uncertain. While Senator Davis, having the "Republican caucus nomination, would seem reasonably certain of being elected, there are several things that throw a shadow of doubt over his election. The opposition to Senator Davis is active and has been neglecting nothing during the past few months to accomplish his defeat. This refers to the opposition among the Republican politicians, who do not, however, represent the wishes of the party generally.

Months ago The Herald, with a thorough knowledge of what was occur-ing, proclaimed the existence of this conspiracy. It repeatedly sounded the note of alarm, and it had the satisfaction of arousing many of Senator Davis'
friends to a realization of the great danger that threatened him. Many of the so-called politicians in Duluth and elsewhere laughed at the story, and though some of them were friendly to Senator Davis, they did nothing to squelch the conspiracy. They now see their mistake and acknowledge that The Herald was correct.

The air in St. Paul is now filled with talk of boodle. It has been openly asserted that attempts were made to bribe members to stay away from the legislature next Tuesday or to vote against Davis. What truth may be in these stories it is difficult to tell. Such matters are always exaggerated, but remembering the immense sum expended to secure the election of Mr. Washburn four years ago it is not unlikely that money is being used now. The Herald trusts that Senator Davis will not be defeated by the same means that defeated Mr.
Sablin.

Discrimination Removed.

The Toronto Empire, the organ of the Canadian Government, announces today that the tariff on canal tolls adopted for the year 1893, puts an end to all discrimination against vessels, merchandise or citizens of the United States. This will end the dispute which was occasioned between the United States and Canada over the alleged discrimination against this country by allowing a rebate on grain shipped through that canal to Canadian ports.

The discrimination at the Welland canal being removed, it will be in order for President Harrison to suspend the order imposing tolls on Canadian vessels passing through the Sault canal, and thus put an end to the silly quarrel between the two countries and the absurd retaliatory policy that has prevailed. It was a senseless dispute on both sides of the line from beginning to end, and there should be no delay on the part of the president in suspending the obnoxious order.

When these differences are thus adjusted Canada and the United States should cease petty bickering and quarreling and cultivate a close degree of friendship. Although they are separate politically, they have many common interests, and no ill feeling should be permitted to injure those interests. The waterway to the sea via the St. Lawrence system of canals is the most direct and most expeditious, and there is no reason why it should not be jointly improved and used in common by both countries.
This must be the ultimate result of the agitation now proceeding in favor of a deep waterway from the great lakes to the Atlantic. None other seems possible.

Mr. Boggs' "Woodchuck."

There was passed through the lower house of the legislature on Saturday, under suspension of the rules and at the instance of Mr. Boggs, a bill providing for the repeal of the special law of 1891
by which certain fee offices in St. Louis county were made salaried offices.

The Herald does not believe that this action is in accordance with the wishes of the people of St. Louis county. They did not elect Mr. Boggs to the legislature to misrepresent them in this manner. Had it been known that he would seek to repeal the law under which most of the county offices ceased to be fee offices, Mr. Boggs would not have been elected. What influences have induced him to lend himself to this attempt to deliberately thwart
the will of his constituents The Herald has no means of knowing at present, nor is it aware of the reason why Mr. Cotton did not rise in his seat and protest against the passage of this bill, when Mr. Boggs asked for its passage under suspension of the rules. Perhaps he was absent from the house at the time, and is therefore not culpable. Mr. Merritt was in Duluth.

The people of St. Louis county now look to Senator Daugherty to kill this vicious measure in the senate. They expect him to do his full duty in this matter, and that duty is to declare to his fellow members that St. Louis county desires that the present law, passed in 1891 at their special request, shall stand. No doubt some of the county officers, whose rich fees were cut off by this admirable law,
with corresponding benefit to the county treasury, are anxious that the law shall be nullified, but on that point they differ from the people who elected them last November to salaried offices.

Senator Daugherty must throttle Mr.
Boggs' "woodchuck" without delay. He can do it, if he desires, and if he does he will perform his duty as the representative of this senatorial district. If he fails to do this, the people will be compelled to petition the governor to refuse his assent to the measure. This is an extremity to which the people of St.
Louis county should not be driven.

Produce the Proof.

The Minneapolis Tribune is endeavoring to dodge the main point raised by The Herald, which was that the interstate commerce commission erred when it asserted that the back haul of freight to points in the Dakotas affected by the grain rate decision is greater from Minneapolis than from Duluth.

The Herald denied this statement and demanded the proof. In reply the Minneapolis Tribune rushed to the commission's defense with a mass of statistics regarding the trade of Minneapolis, which The Herald has since shown were padded to an alarming extent. But it makes no difference at all what may be the aggregate trade of Minneapolis as compared with that of Duluth. The point at issue is the relative amount of backhauling from Minneapolis and Duluth to the points in North and South Dakota mentioned in the commission's order.

The commission says it is greater and more profitable from Minneapolis than from Duluth. The Herald enters a denial. Let the commission, or preferably the Minneapolis Tribune, which has taken up the cudgels for that body, produce the proof, if any exists.

The movement to consolidate New York and Brooklyn is making great headway. A bill for that purpose has been presented in the legislature and has met with favor. New York's population will be increased in this way by 1,000,000 inhabitants. Perhaps some day in the distant future Duluth and Superior may follow suit—but what is the use of talking about this until the new state of Superior has been created?

The senatorial contest in Wisconsin is decidedly interesting. Neither Bragg, Mitchell nor Knight has a majority, and when the Democratic caucus meets some dark horse may be the winner—possibly James Bardon of West Superior.

AMUSEMENTS.

Alvin Joslin.

The popular comedian, Charles L.
Davis, will appear in the play that has made millions laugh, "Alvin Joslin," at the Lyceum, Friday and Saturday, Jan.
20-21. All can recall with pleasure the laughable predicament of "Uncle Alvin"
fresh from the country with his pockets full of apples, the funny stumble and his first experience with champagne has been the cause of testing the strength of many buttons, and the capacity of almost every theater in America, and his claim of "180 laughs in 180 minutes" is no exaggeration. Those who have seen the play claim there are 180 laughs in every act.

Ah There, Milwaukee!

Milwaukee News: Milwaukee millers are jubilant over a decision of the interstate commerce commission at Washington. Minneapolis railroads wanted the railroads to reduce flour rates to Duluth.
This would have given the Minneapolis
an advantage over Milwaukee millers which Minneapolis' location on the map denies her. The commission decided that the rates to Duluth must stand.

A Great Danger.

Ordinance No. 17 of this city, passed some years ago, when building were more widely apart than now, permits the enormous quantity of twenty barrels of inflammable oils of any sort, to be stored in one building anywhere in Duluth. So today 1120 gallons of oil can be lawfully stored in the basement of any hotel, office or other building on Superior street
elsewhere in the city!

In view of the fact that almost the sole protection of this city is one effective steam engine, this city should at least refuse to needlessly invite its own destruction by permitting such a grossly improper fire regulation to stand a day longer unrepented.

The mayor's attention has been by me called hereto. The board of fire commissioners have thought it proper that the landings to the fire escape of the St.
Louis hotel should be closed trap doors, frozen tight and covered with snow, so that in broad daylight, a man in the late fire was unable to find his way down without help, and was with great difficulty restrained from throwing himself to the ground. The board have not suggested the repeal of this ordinance; do they intend to do so? W. E. WRIGHT.

The Building of Fire Traps.

To the Editor of The Herald:
The recent awful catastrophe of the St. Louis hotel fire should at last arouse the authorities of Duluth to an appreciation of their duties. Not only is a better fire protection a pressing need, but the building ordinance of the city needs a thorough revision. Duluth is full of fire traps just like the St. Louis. They built them last year, they are building them now and will continue to do so until a stop is put to them. Architects are powerless in the matter, for they have to yield to the dictates of unscrupulous owners who insist buildings must be cheap.

What is needed, and that right now, is a new building law entirely prohibiting 2x12 kindling wood and timber box construction, and the use of unplaned and substituting so-called mill construction, that is heavy timbers far apart and no air spaces between walls and floors, in case of fire no burning can be had. Now is the time to change as we are on the threshold of a building era. Even the difference in insurance rates will cover
the slightly increased cost in a few years.
Such a building, while combustible, will transmit fire slowly. People will have ample time to get out, and the fire department will be enabled to subdue any fire before it gets entirely beyond control. Yours, G. A. TENBRUCH.

Great Flour Shipments.

American Miller: One of the most striking things about the lake commerce
this winter is the vast and unparallelled amount of flour which the lake vessels have carried. At the head of Lake Superior the flour movement increased from 2,000,000 bbls. in 1981 to 4,231,310 bbls. in 1892. Chicago shows an increase of nearly 700,000 bbls. A rough estimate places the amount carried on the lakes this year at 75 per cent greater than last year.

The Mesaba Iron Company Makes a Very Sat-

The Mesaba Iron Mining company has signed eighty acres of iron land in 56-24 to a well-known mining operator from the Gogebic range. The contract calls for a royalty of 35 cents, a minimum output of 25,000 tons per annum and a cash bonus of $5000.
Some specimens from a ledge on this property show ore of a rich quality.
Negotiations are under way for the lease of another eighty acres belonging to the same company, but nothing definite as to the outcome in the matter will be known for a couple of days yet.

THE POPE DISPLEASED.

The Latest Move is a Triumph for Archbishop Ireland.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Mgr. Sattoli conceded the belief that the pope is seriously displeased at the manner in which his legate to America has been treated by certain ecclesiastics. Bishop Keane, in whom Mgr. Sattoli reposes entire confidence, spoke authoritatively. "I have no information whatsoever," said he, "in regard to the alleged protests sent by the archbishop of New York, and do not know that the pope's action was occasioned thereby, but I do know that the holy father considers that his legate has not been treated with proper respect, that he feels it keenly and that he is fully determined to assert the authority of his report."

"Do you consider that this action is a rebuke to Archbishop Corrigan?" he was asked.

"Not of necessity, for the reason that the charges, formulated principally by the press, have not been proved and because I am not as yet thoroughly convinced that he has ever filed protests.
It is, however, a complete justification of Archbishop Ireland. The establishment of what has been aptly termed a month for settlement through the fact that the holy father, after considering the existing state of affairs in the church, believed this to be the opportunity for settling his delegation."

"The step has been under advisement for some time past. Transactions in regard to even the minute details required one month for settlement through the medium of correspondence. As to the powers conferred upon the new legate Sattoli, his bishopric still go beyond the holiness for consideration of any point at issue, but the probabilities are that all matters pertaining to the church in the United States will hereafter be referred to Mgr. Sattoli."

"These men have undertaken a bad job and got hold of the wrong man when they attempt to discredit Archbishop Ireland with the holy see. As to the card-inalate, I can only guess as to the influence upon Archbishop Corrigan. The statement that spies have been placed upon bishops I am inclined to discredit.
None have ever bothered me. The worst feature of this controversy has been the interference of laymen and the use of the press for mendacious articles. Some of the archbishops were greatly opposed to the establishment of a papal delegation here, but now that the holy father has settled upon it, as a matter of course it will be received in the proper spirit."

Dr. O'Connell's views accorded with those of Bishop Keane. He said the establishment of a papal delegation here was in the nature of a triumph for Archbishop Ireland and that it would silence talk of "combinations" and foreign interference.

Monsignor Sattoli intends to make a tour of the country, inspecting the different dioceses in the spring.

FIRES WERE LIGHTED

The West Duluth Furnace Now Being Got Ready for Blast About the End of January.

All the Ore Used Will be Brought From the Mountain Iron Mine on the Mesaba.

Wolf & King Secure a Contract to Build Five Miles of Double Track for the Mesaba.

Fires were lighted on Saturday in the three tall stoves of the West Duluth Furnace company. The big chambers were stuffed with slabs and edgings which will be kept burning for about ten days in order to get the great mass which composes each stove well heated before starting up. The furnace will not be put into blast before about the 28th or 30th of this month. There is a large amount of coke on hand and ore will be brought, whenever wanted, from the Mountain Iron mine.

The cupola, which is guaranteed to produce 125 tons of pig per day, has been completely overhauled and the foundation and the fire brick lining and pipes entirely rebuilt and replaced with new material. It will be in far better condition than it ever was before. On the outside of the buildings are strange masses composed of iron, slag, coke, brick and refuse, which were blasted out of the old cupola and the accumulation of which caused the furnaces to shut down and entailed great damages.

Some of these masses are twelve or fourteen feet in length, two or three feet in thickness and about as wide as a flat car. They are about as hard and intractable masses as workmen ever have to deal with. Their formation in the cupola resulted in great damages and a large amount of work for removal. The foreman, who is just completing the work of rebuilding the cupola, says he thinks the original plan was imperfect, and that this imperfection rather than imperfect coke or fuel caused the damages mentioned. He also believes that the Mesaba ores with which the furnaces will now be run will melt and work easier and cleaner than any ever before used.

The entire output of the furnaces will be consumed by the West Superior Iron & Steel company. The structural iron and heavy pipe work has been done by the Duluth Manufacturing company. The plant employs from 125 to 130 men—from fifty-five to sixty-five on each shift—twelve hours on and twelve hours off.

Another Mesaba Contract.
Wolf & King have secured a contract for building five miles of double track for the Mesaba & Northern. The five miles they are to build extend out from West Duluth. They have already started camps and the work will probably be commenced. They have bought a number of steam drills and derricks and the work will be pushed as fast as possible. The work can be pushed quite rapidly upon the double track and they will have as many men at work as they can get.

A Good Record.
The monotony of the police court business was broken this morning by the sentence of two plain drunks, the first criminals that have appeared before his honor for some time. During the holidays, a time usually considered fruitful for drunks and disorderly characters, not a single prisoner was incarcerated in the village jail, which speaks well for the town in general and the police officers in particular. The holiday weeks in West Superior brought in thirty-three criminals into custody for various petty crimes. It is evident that the atmosphere on this side of the bay is too cool for the criminal classes.

Selling Liquor to Indians.
Daniel Henderson was arraigned before United States Commissioner Carey on Saturday night on a charge of selling liquor to Indians at Carlton. The examination was conducted by District Attorney Hay, who came from St. Paul for that purpose. The evidence was insufficient to hold Henderson, and Judge Carey dismissed the case.

Attendance Growing.
There is quite an increase of pupils in the public schools with the new year. At the Central High school, fully twenty-five new ones have been enrolled in the different grades. One interesting point connected with that is the fact that fully a dozen of those are directly from the parochial schools of the city.

New Sawmill.
Murphy & Doerr have selected a site for a sawmill on the bay just above Rice's Point and will put up a large mill next spring. It will probably have a capacity of about 60,000,000 feet a year. Murphy & Doerr have large holdings of pine in the Duluth district.

WHEAT STRONGER TODAY.

Outside News Generally Bullish and Trading Active at Higher Prices.

The wheat market was stronger today owing to the general news from the outside being of a bullish character, cables being very firm and id higher and reporting good demand. Partridge being reported a large buyer at Chicago, and Prime's report, giving very discouraging news about the winter wheat crop in Illinois, Missouri and Kansas, while local receipts of wheat were smaller. The only bearish feature was the increase of 24,000 bush in the visible, when a slight decrease was expected. There was large trade here in May and fair demand for cash. Prices started about Saturday's close but quickly advanced. The close was 1/2c higher for May and unchanged for cash and January, as follows:

OFFICE -OF- City Comptroller

CITY OF DULUTH.

January 12, 1893.

Notice is hereby given that I have caused to be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for St. Louis county, Minnesota, a list of the delinquent taxes made by the city of Duluth, for the purpose of defraying in whole or in part the expense of making the improvements hereinafter mentioned.

Notice is further given that at a general term of said district court, to be held at the court house in said county, in the city of Duluth, on the seventh day of February, 1893, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, I will apply to said court for a judgment for the amount of said several assessments and costs against said property.

All persons interested in said lands or said assessments are required to appear at said time and place and state their objections in writing, if any they have, why said judgment should not be rendered.

The assessments and property affected thereby for which judgment is asked, and which are situated in the city of Duluth, county of St. Louis, state of Minnesota, are described as follows, to-wit:

In part grading Twenty-third avenue west from Michigan street to Piedmont avenue, also storm sewer in Twenty-third avenue west from Michigan street to Park avenue.

PERSONAL.

John Mackenzie has returned from St. Paul.

G. A. Klein returned from Chicago this morning.

Alderman N. F. Hugo is confined to his house by illness.

Wesley A. Kalmbach, of the St. Paul & Duluth freight office, is sick with a return of la grippe.

General Superintendent M. C. Kimberley, Chief Engineer J. W. Kendrick, and Right of Way Agent F. W. Wilsey, of the Northern Pacific road, are here on business. They came up from St. Paul in the general superintendent's private car.

Mrs. Frank Greene and Miss Greene, of the family of Superintendent Greene, who are en route to Florida, were delayed in Chicago by the wreck on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois road at Fifty-eighth street Saturday.

J. D. Zien is back from his Eastern trip of two weeks' duration. He will have something to say in a day or two about the new wholesale departments which he will add to his business.

General Passenger and Ticket Agent T. W. Teasdale, of the Northwestern line, accompanied by John A. O'Brien, a traveling passenger agent, have returned home. The Northwestern line will have about the finest railroad office in this city if the desired site can be secured.

Superintendent W. A. Naylor, of the American Express company, is still here looking after the matters incident to the company's heavy loss in the St. Louis hotel fire.

Judge Stearns, Mrs. and Miss Stearns left today on the St. Paul & Duluth for their Pacific coast trip. They go via the Santa Fe route and will return the northern route. Their tickets are good for a nine months' stay.

Miss Kate Brandhorst, one of J. E. Hayne & Co.'s most valued employees, has gone to St. Paul for a short visit.

E. C. Ward, who has been visiting in Duluth, started today for his home in Astoria, Ore.

Capt. Sellwood went to Chicago today on the Omaha road.

L. G. Matthews has gone to Chicago for a brief business trip.

C. A. Duncan and wife and D. A. Duncan and wife leave tomorrow for Jacksonville, Fla., for an extended trip. Ed. Hazen, manager of the Highland Improvement company, has gone to Minneapolis today.

Isaac Bondy and wife, who have been in the city lately, took the South Shore today for New York city. They will stop off and visit in Detroit.

Mrs. Marie Aske, mother of C. B. Aske of the National Bank of Commerce left today for Mexico City, going via the St. Paul & Duluth and Burlington routes the Gulf district.

AT THE RUINS OF THE ST. LOUIS.
No Steps Yet Taken to Search for the Bodies.

The cloud of steam that has been a feature of the ruins of the St. Louis hotel has decreased in volume and in extent. The site of the ruined structure is covered with a heavy coat of ice, save in occasional spots where the smoldering embers keep an open spot by melting the thick crust.

The American Express people are this afternoon prospecting for their burned safe but aside from that, no explorations in the debris have been instituted. The rising steam, the fragments of walls yet rearing on high, the thick coating of ice over all and even the adjacent wall of the Brighton make a scene rivaling the ruins of the Fergusson building the day after that fire.

No search for the burned bodies has as yet been authorized or ordered. Chief of Police Horgan says that he is at a loss to know whose duty it is to make a move in the matter. The majority of citizens who have been heard to express an opinion on the score say that Dr. Eklund, the county coroner, is the man to act. The doctor, however, professes to be posted, and absolutely denies that he has any authority or discretionary powers in such cases. Dr. Goffe, the health commissioner, expresses the opinion that the coroner is mistaken. The mayor is said to entertain no positive view in the matter.

It is expected that the council will take some action at the meeting tonight, and that his honor will concur in whatever is done. A good many are of the opinion that the council is the only body to act in the matter anyway. The trouble is that the job of properly making a search and removing all that debris would be extremely expensive and that no one wishes to be the first to assume the responsibility of ordering that expense.

Dr. Sherwin is reported to have said that from the odor arising from the ruins he is absolutely certain that human bodies are buried there, as the smell is the same as that with which he became very familiar after the Chicago fire.

THE DRAFT WAS BOGUS

Joe Herman Worked the Saloonkeepers and General Dealers at Virginia for Several Hundred Dollars.

Presented a Bogus Draft on New York at the Mountain Iron Bank for Payment.

Bank Would Not Cash it But Gave a Receipt, Which He Used for Swindling.

Joe Herman is a gentleman of unmistakable Hebraic descent and he descended on the little city of Virginia a few days ago and visited the Mountain Iron bank with a draft for $2000 on the Importers' and Traders' bank of New York. The bank officials would not cash the draft but said they would send it on to New York for collection through their Duluth correspondents, the Iron Exchange bank.

Herman agreed but wanted some money "on account," and the bank officials remarked that they didn't know Herman from a side of sole leather and they wouldn't advance him any money. They gave him a receipt for the draft and sent it to this city.

Mr. Herman then went around the mining places and resorts and drew checks on the Mountain Iron bank and when cautious saloonkeepers or general dealers or other people manifested a desire to examine into the worth of the checks he would say "Why, I— I— it's here's my receipt from the bank for the money I have on deposit there, the check is all right," or something of that sort. He kept this up for a day or two and secured several hundred dollars.

No tidings of his draft have been received up to today noon and Joe Herman was brought down here on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Deputy Sheriff James Ross lodged him in jail here Saturday night. Herman has confessed to Deputy Sheriff Armstrong that he had no funds to meet the draft made on the New York bank. He will waive examination from his late debauches and is on the verge of delirious tremors. He is a well-educated man and an expert accountant.

GARFIELD AVENUE VIADUCT.

A Conference to Be Held With the Railroads on the Plan.

The proposed viaduct over Garfield avenue is at a standstill. The preliminary specifications have been prepared for several weeks, but before the city engineer makes any report in the matter, it is expected that a conference will be held with the representatives of the various railroads over whose tracks the viaduct will extend as to the amount of headroom, the length of the spans, the location of the piers and points.

Those points have practically been settled so far as the Duluth & Northern Pacific and the Duluth Transfer line are concerned. L. S. Miller, the representative of the St. Paul & Duluth, called at the city engineer's office but Mr. Reed was at that time down with the fever and the matter will be attended to in the future but it is not expected that any differences will be encountered.

The only road not heard from is the Northern Pacific. The apportionment of cost between the different railways will be a matter outside of the city engineer's office and will not cut a figure until later on.

Noticeable.

It is a noticeable fact that Haynie & Co. are keeping very busy in the store, notwithstanding it is January. There must be a strong magnet, particularly that the ladies are susceptible to, constantly in the store. All of which shows what a good reliable business can do in Duluth at any time.

FUR COATS

This Weather Suggests Them!

Nothing like furs to keep out the cold; nothing so warm and comfortable looking; so soft to the touch, so rich to the eye; so thoroughly luxurious from every point of view. Fur is nature's covering, and the chances are in this northern climate, if we couldn't deprive the fur-bearing animals of it for our own use we'd have to grow it ourselves. Doesn't Darwin hint at such things? We've refrained from saying a great deal about our fur coats until the time was really ripe for them. January! Certainly time to buy; and the weather has certainly been cold enough for the past month to satisfy doubters on that point. Postponement of purchasing them means diminished selection when you do make up your mind to buy. Worried to recite a list of the kinds, still we'll mention a few:

Dog, Goat, Coon, Astrachan, Mink, Beaver, Otter and Seal.

PRICES--

Well, all we ask, now that the season is a little advanced, is to get our money out of what fur coats we have left. Yes, we are satisfied to take a big loss, and you who have been waiting to save money on a fur coat, here is your chance. This cold snap finds many of our friends without Overcoats. We've even seen some of our little friends without suitable warm Overcoats. Whose fault is it? Certainly not ours; we were not rocked in the cradle of the clothing business for nothing; we know what the people want, and we always have it, and the prices we're making during this Great Clearance Sale makes buying easy.

M. S. BURROWS & CO.

STILL IN CHICAGO.

The Board of Public Works Supposed to Be in the Windy City Yet.

The bids for the construction of the Woodland fire engine house were to have been opened today, but in the absence of the board of public works, that matter will be postponed. No word has been received from the absent officials, hence it is not known whether they are in Chicago consulting with the engineer or have missed their train and are putting in their time playing seven-up at some way station along the route. It is only charitable and natural, however, to suppose them to be in Chicago and that they will return to Duluth by tomorrow.

Choose Quick!

Those Bargains in the Dress Doods Department are attracting crowds of buyers. Naturally the earlier you call, the larger the line you have to select from.

Can You Figure?

Seven Times 37½¢ Equals $2.62½!

That's the cost of a Dress from those fine wool fabrics, at 37½¢ a yard, and seven yards is plenty.

THE GOODS ARE WORTH DOUBLE.

Then You May Want Trimmings!

If so you multiply the number of yards wanted by half what you usually pay, and the result will be what it will cost you.

There's only one place in the state where you can get these results, however, and that's at this store.

No doubt the intention was good when the Maison was constructed; it was to be confined to social questions of a high order, but in France the line is so difficult to draw between socialism and revolution that no wonder the ana-

DAVIS IS AHEAD

The First Ballot For United States Senator Taken in the Legislature at Noon Today.

Cushman K. Davis Received Sixty-Seven Votes in the House and Twenty in the Senate.

Merriam, Clapp, Scheffer, Start, Dickinson and Lind Were Also Recipients of a Few Scattering Votes.

Campaign Is Expected to Commence Tonight, Before the Joint Session Occurs Tomorrow.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 17.—[Special to The Herald.]—A ballot was taken in each branch of the legislature at noon today. In the house Senator Davis received 67 out of the 71 Republican votes; Moses Clapp, 1; Albert Scheffer, 1; C. M. Start, 1; Lawler (Dem.) received 31 votes; Owen (Pop.), 12. In the senate Davis received 20; Lawler, 17; Owen, 11; Merriam, 2; Start, 1; Dickinson, 1; John Lind, 1; Scheffer, 1. Dedon voted for Davis. The joint ballot will be taken tomorrow. It requires 85 votes to nominate, and the above result will give Senator Davis two more than enough to elect him.

The huddle campaign will commence tonight, and on its results depends the senatorial election tomorrow. There were large crowds present in both houses and Clapp's speech received great applause. The Merriam men are very hopeful, because they need only one vote to change to give Davis a toss.

J. B. Patton placed Senator Davis in nomination in an eloquent speech in the house and John Day Smith did likewise in the senate. Senator Day's resolution was called up asking congress to pass the anti-option bill. The Democrats roared the measure as a measure of Minneapolis millers, and the Republicans supported it on the ground that it was to suppress competition of wheat against wheat. Donnelly spoke in favor of the measure and most of the Alliance men favored it. The resolution passed.

Mr. Boggs introduced a bill in which any county is authorized to aid in the construction of a railroad by issue of bonds upon the vote of the citizens. No bonds are to be issued to exceed 5 per cent of the tax valuation of the county. Propositions must be delivered to the county auditor, signed by the president and secretary of the company, in lieu of this the railway company shall deliver to the county enough stock to cover the loan at par value. It provides that the county commissioners shall first vote on the proposition followed by a vote of the county. Stock of the company may or may not be accepted.

In the senate last night a lengthy joint resolution, introduced by Senator Probst, slipped through before the Republicans became aware of it. It recites the familiar facts in relation to the government's connection with the Pacific railroads which are indebted to the national treasury to the amount of $463,000,000 in principal and unpaid interest and lands, for which the government has a second mortgage on roads amounting to $125,000 a mile, while there is a first mortgage of $20,500 a mile and the lines are said not to be worth $10,500 a mile. It requests our representatives and instructs our senators to investigate the reasons why things are "thusly" and to endeavor to secure legislation looking to foreclosure.

The suspension of rules was agreed to before the senate really understood the best of the resolution, and then Senator Hawley tried to secure a reconsideration but was voted down and the resolution went to its final passage by a vote of 31 to 1. Senator Dean recording himself in the negative.

Senator Daugherty had Mr. Boggs' bill repealing the act of 1891, fixing the salary of certain county officers in St. Louis county, referred to him.

Senator Wood introduced a bill to compel railroad companies to place their track scales at all stations where 50,000 bushels of grain are shipped annually, and providing for a fine of from $500 to $1,000 for violations.

Senator Wood introduced an act for the further regulation of grain warehouses and elevators compelling the delivery at terminal points of the grain received at initial points and compelling the companies to accept the grading made by their agents.

In the house a bill introduced by Mr. Peterson provides for the taxation of transfers of real or personal property of the value of $500 or over to persons or corporations not exempt by law. The bill covers the property in the state of residents and non residents.

Governor Nelson yesterday appointed Judge Ira B. Mills railroad commissioner. George B. Egerton takes his place as assistant attorney general.

Senator Sanborn, of Ramsey, in speaking of his bill to tax the output of mines, said that he had put the figures high in the bill for a purpose. He had rather have them high than too low. He does not expect that the legislature will consent to a tax of 5 cents a ton on iron and admits that such a tax would be excessive. Still, by putting it high the senator thinks he will be more likely to get something fair in the end. The bill also calls for a gross tax of 3 per cent on the gross earnings of sleeping car, telephone and other companies, and for a tax of $1 a ton on copper.

Will Live in New York. Rome, Jan. 17.—As it is the intention of the Vatican to establish a legation in the United States, Mgr. Satolli, the apostolic legate, will, it is stated, reside in New York and not in Washington.

THEY FAVOR ANNEXATION.

A Majority of the Present Congress Want Political Union With Canada.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A special to the Sun from Washington says: Mr. Charlton, one of the Liberal leaders and a member of the Canadian parliament, was at the capitol yesterday, interviewing the leading members of the house on the subject of closer commercial relations between the United States and Canada.

He met Speaker Crisp, Mr. Springer, Bourke Cockran and other members of the ways and means committee and the committee on foreign affairs. In introducing the subject, he said that he was not here in an official capacity but merely for the purpose of sounding the sentiment of congress to give him light for his guidance at home.

He said that the Liberal party did not want the annexation question thrown in as a party question at this time, but it wanted free trade between Canada and the United States in natural products of the farm, the mines, the forests and the manufacture products composed entirely of native raw material.

Mr. Charlton learned from his conversations with representatives and senators that there is a strong majority sentiment in congress in favor of annexation.

THE LOCATION SETTLED.

The Ore Docks of the Missabe Road Are to be Located in Marine Division.

The location of the ore docks of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road has been changed from Oneota to a point on the west half of the water front of Marine division at the West End, where a site of dock frontage 900 feet long has been secured. The deal was clinched yesterday but the terms are private.

THE HOLMES COMET.

It is Again Visible in a Very Small Telescope.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—The following has been received from Professor Holden, of Lick observatory: At 6:30 last night Mr. Barnard found that the Holmes comet had undergone another remarkable change. The comet is again visible in a very small telescope. In such an instrument it appears like a hazy star of the seventh or eighth magnitude. In a twelve-inch telescope it is small, round and and strongly condensed with a small nucleus.

It has been cloudy here for several days and the comet could not be seen last night. The position of this wonderful comet at Greenwich noon on Jan. 17 will be right ascension 1 hour, 22 minutes, north declination 33 degrees, 39 minutes. It is moving slowly east.

HAVE BECOME CATHOLICS.

The Two Daughters of the Late Senator Hill, of Georgia, Change Faith.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A special to the Sun from Atlanta, Ga., says: Mrs. Edgar Thompson, the favorite daughter of the late Senator Benjamin Hill, of Georgia, and her two children have joined the Roman Catholic church, being received into that communion by Vicar General Kelly. The Hill family has been regarded as the sturdiest Protestant stock in the state.

It was as the Know-nothing candidate for governor of Georgia that the late senator made his first impression upon the politics of the state, and now by the curious gyrations of human thought, the family of his two daughters are members of the very church which was then esteemed so lightly.

TRYING TO SQUARE HIMSELF.

Archbishop Corrigan on the McGlynn Case.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Father Connolly, secretary to Archbishop Corrigan, made a statement yesterday in reference to the alleged protests of the archbishop against the restoration of Dr. McGlynn. He said: "My attention has been drawn to a statement relative to two protests supposed to have been made by the most rev. archbishop against the reconciliation of Dr. McGlynn. Here is the most rev. archbishop's answer: First, the most rev. archbishop has not written to the holy father on any subject whatever since Dr. McGlynn's restoration; second, nor has he written any either in the United States or in Rome against the reconciliation of Dr. McGlynn."

TO BUCK THE TRUST.

Kentucky and Eastern Men to Start an Independent Distillery.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 17.—Kentucky distillers, aided by New York and Boston capitalists, have arranged to start a big spirits distillery in opposition to the trust. The distillery of the J. G. Mattingly company with twenty-six acres of ground in this city has been bought at a cost of $300,000 and will soon be running.

It will be one of the largest plants in the world and is now the second largest in Kentucky. It has a mashing capacity of 100 barrels a day which will be doubled at once. Paul Jones will be president of the company and W. H. Thomas a director.

WITH NON-UNION LABOR.

An Ohio Iron and Steel Company Starts Up Its Works.

ZANESVILLE, O., Jan. 17.—The Ohio Iron & Steel company's works, after being closed down since June, 1891, the managers refusing then to sign the Amalgamated scale, started up yesterday with a non-union force, principally negroes from Tennessee and Pittsburgh, Pa.

The old employees, with a few exceptions, all remain out and claim that they will not win the fight, as the product of the mill will be boycotted. Trouble, similar to the recent Homestead strike, is feared.

WILL STRIKE A BLOW

The French Ministry is Getting Ready to Make a Descent Upon the Royalist Plotters.

There is to be Ample Evidence of a Conspiracy to Overthrow the Republic.

The Count of Paris Very Likely Expenditures and Trying to Create Royalist Sentiment.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—The government will soon strike a blow. It is reported on excellent authority that there is now ample evidence of a royalist conspiracy and that arrests will be made at an early date. The conspiracy has been hatched in London and Madrid, and the count of Paris, instead of having been especially close in expenditures of late for the royalist cause, has been unusually lavish.

He is not himself managing any details and it is not desired that he should; but his leading representatives are more active than ever. Royalist influence and funds have had much to do with the recent activity in revolutionary circles in Paris, and it is reported that much of the applause of the extremist speakers at the Vaux hall was furnished by royalist claqueurs.

The royalist plan appears to be to overthrow the republic by some means, no matter what the means are, and to foment and promote disorder, in the hope that the French people will turn to the count of Paris or the duke of Orleans for rescue or protection. The headquarters of the royalist-socialist intrigue just now is said to be the Maison du Peuple, and it is there that the police through their spies have acquired much valuable information as to the designs of the enemies of the republic. The Maison du Peuple is a modest structure on the heights of Mont Martre, access to which is by no means easy. It was built by the people and for the people.

Like the House du Travail, of which it may be called a second edition, it was originally intended for the free and gratuitous discussion of the social questions concerning the working classes, but both have degenerated into hot beds of revolution. It is there that all the insurrectionary demonstrations are prepared and the Mot d'Ordre is given. The Maison du Peuple contains a hall capable of holding a thousand people. It is decorated with red-blood flags bearing revolutionary inscriptions; the platform is covered with red draperies and overhead are two busts of the republic. In fact everything is in red and everything reminds one of the reign of terror.

No doubt the intention was good when the Maison was constructed; it was to be confined to social questions of an high order, but in France the line is so difficult to draw between socialism and revolution that no wonder the anarchists soon got possession of it and now it is regarded by the public with an evil eye. There is no doubt that as far as the extreme socialists are concerned the Propagande Parole Fail is again in the ascendant and this exactly suits the royalist plotters. The more dynamite the more rioting and terrorism and the more the yearning of the middle classes who have supported the republic for peace and order the royalists promise to bring with them.

The fact that M. Andrieux started today for London is looked upon as evidence that he is after more ammunition, and that so far as charges against the government are concerned the former stock has been exhausted. Andrieux made no secret of his departure and seemed on the contrary to be rather ostentatious about it. He is said to be disappointed that M. Ribot has not honored him either with a duel or an arrest, and to be meditating some fresh provocation that may sting the ministry into taking personal action against him. The truth is that the government does not consider M. Andrieux to be in the secret of any plot.

The ministry believes, no doubt, that he has been made use of by those who have deeper designs but through investigation has convinced the authorities that the enemies of the republic have not invited M. Andrieux to the inner mysteries. M. Andrieux has therefore been permitted, apparently to his chagrin, to start for London without even the poor distinctions of police surveillance.

Ex-Minister of War Freycinet has resolved to keep in the background for the present. His friends say that M. de Freycinet believes in waiting for that calmer public opinion which will follow the existing storm and that then he will present his case that will apply vindicate him from any shadow of suspicion of improper connection with the Panama enterprise.

The Gaulois states that M. de Freycinet has declined to be elected to the military commission of the senate. He prefers not to seem to interfere in any way with the plans and purposes of the government as to military or other matters. This attitude of M. de Freycinet is attracting the favorable criticism of many, who have been inclined to regard him with aversion in the past.

It is not expected that M. Herz will return to France. Of all persons connected with the Panama scandal, he is the most hated and despised. He seems to be without a friend, so far as public expression gives indication, and it would be difficult for him to secure an entirely impartial trial. Should Herz remain away, he will doubtless be condemned in contumacious and a sentence imposed to be inflicted at any time that he should be brought within French jurisdiction.

A Skating Challenge. MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 17.—The backers of Norseng, the Norwegian skater, renew their challenge to Joe Donahue, of Newburg, N. Y., to skate for the $1000 forfeit deposited with the Journal of this city. They agree to pay Mr. Donahue's fare to Minneapolis. The match to take place during the first part of February. The backers of Norseng are anxious for Donahue to show up or shut up.

BURNING OF A HOSPITAL.

Patients Ran Out in Thin Attire and Were Cared for by Neighbors.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The military hospital at Stoke, one of the suburbs of Devonport, caught fire this morning. The greatest excitement prevailed among the officials, nurses and patients, when the fire made its presence known by dense volumes of smoke that filled the wards and corridors.

Those patients whose condition permitted them to do so ran thinly clad from the building, and were taken in and cared for by people living living in the vicinity. It would have been expected that in a hospital of this character some sort of discipline would have been maintained, but there was none at all.

The greatest disorder prevailed, but despite this every effort was made to remove the patients who were confined in their beds. They were all carried in safety. Troops from the Devonport garrison were ordered to the scene, and they rendered most effective aid in removing the sick and afterward assisted the fireman in fighting the flames.

The fire was not extinguished until two stories of the hospital were completely gutted. It is supposed that the fire was caused by an over-heated flue, the extremely cold weather of the past few days necessitating very hot fires in the furnaces.

FOR THE LAKE WATERWAY

Large Sums Are Included in the Sundry Civil Bill for the Deep Waterway and Harbors.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—[Special to The Herald.]—Attached to the house sundry civil bill which will be reported tomorrow, the river and harbor committee has had $16,000,000 included for waterway improvements throughout the country. A large slice of this is for the deep waterway and further improvements of the Soo canal and Hay Lake channel. There are appropriations too for improvement of lesser prominence at Duluth and other points on the great lakes.

The Republican members of the house committee on rules have voted to take up the Bentley bill, which provides $100,000 for a preliminary survey of a ship canal from the lakes to the seaboard. The Democratic majority of this committee, however, has steadily refused to agree to set apart a day in the house for the consideration of the bill.

BURIED IN THE RUINS.

Three Men Killed by a Building in Philadelphia Falling.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—About 5:45 yesterday afternoon, the four-story brick building at 517 Commerce street, occupied as a salaroom and warehouse by the Nixon Bros. Paper company, collapsed.

Seven men were in the building at the time. Three were buried in the ruins and killed; one was badly hurt and three escaped uninjured. The dead are: John McKenna and Joseph Wallace, royalist plotters; and Albert V. Markes, foreman, Albert Gales, a colored porter, was injured internally.

One Perished and Two Injured.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—During a fire yesterday in a cheap lodging house at 809 Cherry street, John Mullough, a blind man, was burned to death. James Kelly, a lodger, was fatally injured by jumping from a third-story window, and Edward Miles was seriously hurt by jumping from the same window. Several other persons were slightly injured.

Gen. Butler's Burial.

LOWELL, Mass., Jan. 17.—Gen. B. F. Butler was buried yesterday. State officers of the Grand Army and private members of the state national guard, members of the Bar association, and many distinguished gentlemen were present from all parts of the country. Over 30,000 persons viewed the cortege as it passed through the streets to the cemetery.

Pooling by Railroad.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The house committee yesterday adopted the report of the sub-committee on the bill prepared by it to allow pooling by railroad companies when sanctioned by the interstate commerce commission. The measure will probably be called up in the house and its passage urged some day this week.

A Postal Car Burned.

SELMA, Ala., Jan. 17.—Sunday morning before daylight postal car No. 12 on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia railroad caught fire twenty miles from here and was totally destroyed. All United States mail and Southern express matter was burned. The messenger barely escaped from the flames.

Cold in Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—There is little abatement in the severely cold weather here. Today a heavy snow storm is prevailing, and the ground is covered to such a depth that traffic on the streets is at a standstill. A number of persons have died from the effects of exposure.

The Montana Senatorship.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 17.—The result of the ballot in joint assembly for United States senator yesterday was: Sanders, 13; Clark, 24; Dixon, 3; Collins, 2; Mulville, 2. No choice.

Shoe Factory Burned.

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 17.—Fire destroyed the shoe factory of M. W. Dodge and two other buildings immediately adjoining, about midnight last night. Loss $40,000.

A VERY GOOD SHOWING

Detailed Statement of the Business of the Duluth Postoffice Transacted During the Past Year.

In All the Various Departments, the Business Shows the Evidences of Very Rapid Growth.

The Herald, through the kindness of the postoffice officials, is enabled to give today the detailed summary of business transacted by the Duluth postoffice in 1892. The force from postmaster down to special delivery messenger, and including three substitute carriers, numbers thirty-five people. There are nineteen regular carriers and they make fifty-eight delivery and seventy-nine collection trips daily, visiting the seventy street letter boxes and six mail chutes in buildings at regular intervals. They delivered 5715 registered letters in addition to the ordinary mail in 1892 and the free delivery service in Duluth cost $16,372.03.

There were 21,522 lock pouches received in the mailing division and 23,790 dispatched. There were 17,567 tie sacks received and 15,738 dispatched. The publishers of the city mailed 99,507 pounds of paid second class matter and 4,615 pounds of free matter inside the county limits. There were 45,380 packages of letters handled in transit, which contained 1,337,400 letters, and there were 161,044 packages of letters dispatched. The mailing force is increasing in efficiency as the low total of 1067 errors checked against it during the year will prove. There were 12,856 pieces of mail sent to the dead letter office, among them being 150 papers containing "Lottery" advertisements. The following table gives the resume of the balance of the business for 1892 with a comparison, showing the per cent of increase over 1891:

A NOTABLE ATTRACTION.
The Coming of the Warde-James Company This Month.

The announcement of the forthcoming engagement of the Warde-James company, which occurs at the Lyceum theater Jan. 27 and 28, will be a source of pleasure to lovers of high-class acting.

The association of Frederick Warde and Louis James for the purpose of presenting legitimate and classic plays on a scale befitting the taste and intelligence of the American public, is one of the most important theatrical events in the history of the stage. Both of these eminent gentlemen occupy positions of great prominence, and the coupling of their names means a magnificent performance.

During their visit at the Lyceum they will present "The Lion's Mouth" Friday night and the Saturday matinee. On Saturday night "Othello" will be given. A very large company furnishes their support, and as they will become the possessors of the entire theatrical estate of the Booth-Barrett company the magnificence of the scenery becomes an assured fact.

This engagement promises to be most substantially patronized as the opportunity of witnessing such a splendid company only occurs once a season.

FIRE FIGHTING APPARATUS.
Another Engine, a Water Tower and More Hose Are Needed.

The fire commissioners held a meeting yesterday afternoon to consider the purchase of new apparatus for the department. The resolution passed recently by the council only authorized the commissioners to ask for bids, not to make the purchase of 2000 feet of hose and a new engine. The secretary was instructed to ask the council for permission to make the purchase as soon as possible. The secretary was ordered to advertise for bids for the hose and for a 1200 gallon engine of the newest type. Bids will be received until Saturday, Feb. 24.

It is expected that this engine will be located in the new house, and the council is to be requested to fix the site on First street, between Fourth and Sixth avenues west. The commissioners favor the purchase of still another engine, the transferring of the engine on the hill to the West End, and the use of the engine now disabled, after it is repaired, for up hill work, and also the purchase of a water tower.

A Lyceum Building Blaze.
The little blaze at the Lyceum pharmacy last evening about 6 o'clock caused a great deal of excitement and a vast amount of smoke. Bruce Nimmo was preparing some house liniment which was being heated over an oil stove, and a bystander undertook to stir it up while the regular compounder was called away for a moment. There was a little explosion and the officious stranger was quite badly burned about the clothing, and one hand was severely scorched quite a distance up the arm.

THE BETHEL OPENING.

A Meeting Held Last Night to Arrange Important Details.

The Bethel will be a huge success. Such is the verdict of everyone who was present at the meeting of the executive committee of the Bethel and a committee from the Trades and Labor Assembly held in the office of Bradley & Hanford, Exchange building, last night. H. H. Hanford was called to the chair, and metaphorically handed over the Bethel to the workmen of Duluth and vicinity.

"The Bethel is for the laboring man," Mr. Hanford said. "A place where an hour or two may be spent in healthful recreation, after a hard day's work in the factory or workshop. A gymnasium, bowling alley, chess, checkers and reading-room may be used 'without money and without price,' and to those who desire to use the baths, this privilege will be granted them on payment of the small sum of $2, which entitles the holder of the ticket to the use of the baths for one year.

It will be interesting to the public to learn that the addition to the Bethel is so far completed that the building will be formally opened early next month, and the committee extend a cordial welcome to all workmen to be present. An attractive program will be gotten up, and short addresses will be delivered by Rev. Dr. Salter and other gentlemen connected with the Bethel, as also delegates from the Trades assembly.

The executive committee of the Bethel comprised Rev. Dr. Salter and Messrs. Hanford, Lames, Stevens and White; for the Trades Assembly, Messrs. McDowell and Gleason.

INSPECTING ORE DOCKS.

Capt. McDougall Shows a Party the Ore Docks and Flour Mills.

The following gentlemen were shown over the ore docks on Allouez bay and the East Superior mills by Capt. McDougall yesterday: G. W. Schwank, J. W. Corie, F. W. McCarthy and C. N. Scott, of Ashland, and H. L. Dreisser and G. H. White, of Duluth. Capt. Corie is superintendent of the ore docks at Ashland and has charge of the whale-backs there while they are loading ore. The party is making a general tour looking over the ore docks of Northern Wisconsin and were shown over the docks at Superior by the courtesy of Capt. McDougall. They will also visit the docks at Two Harbors and will go to the mines and look them over.

THE RULE OF BOGGS.

How the True Democratic Idea of Government is Reversed.

St. Paul Globe. Mr. Boggs represents Duluth in the lower house. Perhaps a more accurate statement is that he was elected by the voters of Duluth to sit in the lower house. It is always an open question how far men represent the communities which send them. The county of St. Louis had a special act passed years ago putting salary on a salary instead of the fee system. The fees above the salary went into the treasury. The gain to the treasury was considerable, as the fees amount to some $20,000 annually. Mr. Boggs rises in the house and asks to have the rules suspended and a purely local bill given effect. He reads a bill which gives his necessary readings and he passes. As it is local the courtesy of the house requires that no objection be made to such requests, and Mr. Boggs' bill went through. It repeated the special act relating to the compensation of the county officers. Its effect is to give them the fees in place of the salary. Report has it that the act created considerable excitement in Duluth. There is no doubt of that.

The Globe refers to this act from an wish to adversely criticize what Mr. Boggs did. But we instance it as a good illustration of how we stand the pyramid of government on its apex; that we reverse and ignore the true democratic idea of government in this democracy of ours. Here is a county having several servants to employ to attend to its various affairs. If we had a democratic form of government, the county by its representative head would engage men to do the work and agree with them what compensation they should get. It is purely the affair of the locality. It is their own work they want done, and they alone must pay for it. But they cannot do it. Evidently they are incapable of managing their own affairs, for the state will not permit them to. They can only do what it allows; in its mandates every subordinate division must find the letters which justify any and all action. A very learned judge decided once that a city could not build an auditorium because that word was not among those used to describe the buildings it might construct.

But, here the state sovereignty becomes absurd in practice, the state does not act at all except pro forma. The speaker and the president of the senate and the governor will sign the act, and thus it appears to be the act of the state and the dignity of the theory is sustained; but, really, it is the act of Mr. Boggs. He is the state, by courtesy. What several thousand men are incapable of doing for themselves, Mr. Boggs, by election, is capable of doing wisely for them. Can anything be more absurdly ridiculous? And is there any real need of continuing the absurdity any longer? The recent amendment opens the way to the passage of general laws which will remit to the communities the management of their own affairs, and it should be done extensively.

"Royal Ruby" Port Wine.

If you are reduced in vitality or strength by illness or any other cause, we recommend the use of this grand old port wine, the very blood of the grape. A grand tonic for mothers nursing and those reduced by wasting disease. It creates strength, improves the appetite. Nature's own remedy, much preferable to drugs, guaranteed absolutely pure and of age. Young wine ordinarily sold is not fit to use. Insist on having this standard brand, it costs no more. $1 in quart bottles only. Royal Wine company, Chicago. For sale by S. F. Boyce, druggist.

A BIOLOGICAL STATION.
The University of Minnesota Will Build One in Northern Minnesota.

The professors of the biological department of the university of Minnesota have planned for next summer one of the most important enterprises ever undertaken by the university. The project is entirely in keeping with the progressive character of the university's policy and its completion will at once mark the university as one of the great centers for securing scientific knowledge.

The plan is the establishment of an inland biological station in the northwestern part of Minnesota, to be known as the Mississippi Biological station of the university of Minnesota. Through the offer of Capt. John Martin, who has large interests in the northern part of the state, a lease of land has been secured. Ex-Governor John S. Pillsbury has also offered land and in addition the necessary buildings.

It is the intention of Professors McMillan and Nachtrieb, who will have the station in charge, to pass the entire summer in the station, and it will be made a prominent headquarters for the various surveys of the different departments and such parties collecting specimens as they may send out.

The station will consist of one or two large buildings and it will be completely furnished with laboratories, microscopes and all such scientific instruments as may be needed. In addition to the laboratories, comfortable quarters will be provided for the professors and their assistants.

The importance of this inland biological station can be realized when it is known that there is only one other in the world, that being at Ploem, in Austria, in connection with the university of Vienna. The station is comparatively a new venture, but its scientific importance is very great, as it offers a chance to solve problems connected with fresh water and land forms that cannot be had in the marine stations.

How the Minister's Family Was Clothed.

It is wonderful how the minister's wife in one of the small towns near Duluth manages to keep her family in good looking clothes at small expense. Her secret is said to be that she uses diamond dyes, those little money-savers that the druggists sell, and by dyeing and making over, everything is worn to nothing. She says any woman can economize in this way and yet dress elegantly.

A TALK BY THE MAYOR

Mayor d'Auremont Calls the Attention of the Council to Two Measures Now Before the Legislature.

He Condemns the Bill to Repeal the Law Making the County Offices Salaries Offices.

Attention Also Directed to the "Woodchucks" Increasing the Salaries of County Attorneys and Assistants.

Last evening's council meeting was long and while a large amount of business was transacted, the sensational features that have made the meetings of the Duluth council a strictly first-class show so frequently the past few months were not a feature to any great extent. Mayor d'Auremont took full occasion to impress upon the city fathers that he and he alone is mayor. He appeared as soon as the meeting was open, advised immediate action with reference to the search for bodies in the ruins of the St. Louis hotel and then tackled the question of legislation affecting Duluth, which is under way or likely to be so in the legislature at St. Paul. He opened up his views as follows:

"The legislature is now in session and we do not know what will be done to our disadvantage unless we take some speedy action. The charter revision committee should take hold with a vim and get its matters into shape for presentation. Two years ago by very hard work the citizens of Duluth were enabled to have the fee offices made into salaried positions. There is no reason why the clerk of the court should receive $12,000 a year net when he does no more work than others who receive less. By the latest constitutional amendment special legislation has been abolished but two measures are now before the house which while general in form apply only to St. Louis county. It is the duty of this council to see that they do not pass. One fixes the salary of the county at not less than $3,000 nor more than $5,000, and his assistant at not less than $1,000 nor more than $3,000. The other again makes the office of register of deeds a fee office. The present officers-elect accepted their offices with a full knowledge of what the returns from them were to be. They have now no reason to expect an increase. To take from the county fees which should go into the treasury is to put upon the tax payers additional burdens. It is your duty to look after the interests of the tax payers both of the city and the county. A part of this duty is to see that these things do not go on." After concluding the above he drew his toga about him and retired. The clerk then read two communications from his honor. The first was a notification that a letter had been sent to the mayor of West Superior in which thanks were tendered to the fire department of that city for the prompt and efficient manner in which the members came to the relief of the department of this city at the time of the late hotel fire. That action was heartily endorsed and the sum of $250 appropriated to be donated the Superior firemen, not as pay for their services but as a sign that their action in so quickly and bravely making that run across the ice and the hard work done fighting the flames is appreciated by Duluth.

The other communication was a veto of the resolution passed at the former council meeting authorizing a committee to investigate Little's discharge from the fire department and to incur the necessary expenses. The mayor took the grounds that the council had no right to inquire into such a matter and brought up former cases of dismissal as precedents backing up that view of the matter. He also drew his lengthy epistolary effort to a close by urging the council to drop the matter and take up the consideration of graver and more important questions. The resolution was again put on its passage but failed to go through as ten votes were necessary. Only ten aldermen were present which gave Alderman Thomas an excellent opportunity for thundering out one of his blighting nays. That now deprives the committee of authority to spend money. No report of Saturday's investigation was made.

The communications from the fire commissioners in which they asked permission to make the purchase of a new fire engine and other needed apparatus as soon as possible and the resolution requesting the council to fix the site of the downtown engine house on First street between Fourth and Sixth avenues were referred to the committee on fire department. Alderman Kennedy buckled on his tomahawk and with deep black war paint on his visage, moved that the fire commissioners be allowed to make no purchases without the advice and consent of the council, as two members of that commission were not competent to buy anything. The motion was not put to a vote, but it is expected that Mr. Kennedy will be on the warpath more than ever when the committee reports on the resolutions and the time comes for final action.

City Attorney Smith submitted for approval his bill regulating the issuing of bonds by cities in the state. It provides for the issuance of bonds up to the 5 per cent limit without vote and above that amount by the majority vote of electors at a special or general election. Tunnel bonds are not to be included in the 5 per cent limit.

The committee having in charge the raising of money to meet the expense of securing a profile map of Duluth, to be exhibited at the World's fair, asked for an appropriation of $4,000, about one half of the cost of the map. The mayor opposed giving $4,000, but thought $500, the amount allowed in the resolution that had been prepared, too small a sum. Action was deferred until the next meeting and in the meanwhile the committee, and the representatives of the city will attempt to get together.

Alderman Thomas bobbed up with a resolution cutting off the appropriation of the railway commissioner. His document sets forth the allegation that the city receives no benefit from the money so expended and that the office is only a means of handing over money to a private institution. The resolution was referred without comment.

The five weekly papers of Duluth which are printed in foreign tongues had in earnest appeals for public aid in the form of a resume each week of the council proceedings, the same of course to be paid for out of the treasury. The matter was laid on the table. The council will hold a special meeting tomorrow evening.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH.

Entered at the postoffice at Duluth, Minn., as second-class mail matter.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Jan. 17.—A storm of slight energy is central over Northern Minnesota, while the rest of the country is covered with an area of high pressure, with two centers, one over Western Montana and the other over the south Atlantic and Gulf states.

There has been a general rise in temperature
except in the Upper Mississippi valley region where there has been a slight fall. The coldest place is La Crosse, Wis., 12 below zero, and the warmest, Chicago, is not a very warm one, 25, at Duluth 19, Kan.

While the temperature will rise slowly here
today it will probably fall again tomorrow,
although it is now warmer in the far Northwest than it is here now. Light snow will probably fall sometime today, and be followed by fair weather for the next few days.

DULUTH, Jan. 16.—Fair followed by snow today, Wednesday, slightly warmer today;
west winds shifting to northwest and north.
B. H. BROWN.

Local Forecast Official.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Forecast till 8 p. m.
tomorrow: For Wisconsin: Increasing cloudiness and snow; warmer Wednesday morning;
clear in the evening; easterly increasing; moderately winds. For Minnesota: Snow followed by fair in northern portion tonight and fair in southern portion Wednesday; colder; winds shifting to northwesterly.

The People Protest.

Mayor d'Auremont, in an address to the council last night, ably seconded the protest of The Herald against the bill smuggled through the lower branch of the legislature by Mr. Boggs on the false pretence that it was desired by the people of St. Louis county. The mayor very correctly pointed out that the people had demanded two years ago that the fee offices be changed to salaried offices, which was done, and the present county officers were elected on the understanding that they were to be paid salaries. There is no demand now that a return be made to the old system.

The morning paper today tumbled all over itself trying to straddle this important question, and in an endeavor to lift itself out of the hole in which it dropped advanced the idea that the fees now charged are too high. "Wouldn't it be better," it then asks, "to reduce fees than to maintain the office under a salary system?" This is a very clumsy attempt to aid the few interested people who desire
a return to the fee system. The fee system is wrong in principle, and no reduction or increase of fees can make it right.
The salary system as now established should be permitted to stand, because it is the only proper and correct system of paying public officials.

The claim that the fees now charged
are a burden on the public is untenable.
If the fees went into the pockets of the officials, there might be some excuse for reducing them, but they now go into the county treasury and to that extent lessen the amount which the people have to pay in the form of taxes. Why should not the fees collected in the office of the clerk of the district court be applied toward paying the expenses of the court?
That is what is being done now, and it is the correct plan.

A St. Paul dispatch says that Senator Daugherty has had Mr. Boggs' bill on this subject referred to himself. If Senator Daugherty desires the bill will never be reported back to the senate but will be allowed to die in his pocket.
The Herald feels confident that, when the senator learns of the almost unanimous opposition of the people of St.
Louis county to the bill, he will act accordingly.

An Unnecessary Evil.

The scheme to publish a legislative journal in this state, similar to the Congressional Record, appears to have died very suddenly. This is well. There is no valid reason for such a publication, which would impose an enormous expense upon the state.

It cannot be set up that it is desirable to preserve the speeches of the legislators, because the people have no desire to preserve them. They would be willing to forget them entirely. The Donnellys, the John Day Smiths and other senatorial windbags may be anxious to have their long and wearisome speeches published in full at the state's expense, but the public is not of their way of thinking.

On the contrary, the people of Minnesota would prefer that they quit talking, transact the business before them and go home. They could do this if they desired in thirty days, and the expenses of legislation would be reduced one-half.

The city council should make a liberal appropriation towards the fund to secure a profile map of Duluth for an exhibit at the World's fair. It will be a great advertisement for this city and its expense will be repaid a hundredfold.

The repeated collisions between trains and street cars on grade crossings in Chicago, attended by the killing and gaining of passengers, should hasten
the building of the Garfield avenue viaduct. While great care is now exercised by the street car company at the crossing, there is always danger of a serious collision. Absolute safety rests only in the abolition of the grade crossing.

For the Fire Department.

The council and the fire commissioners
now appear to be uniting in an effort to improve the efficiency of the fire department by providing it with more apparatus and appliances for handling fires.

This is a movement that will meet with the unanimous approval of the citizens.
The recent disastrous fires have shown that while Duluth has a fire department which, from chief down, is composed of able and brave fire-fighters, they are sadly handicapped by the lack of sufficient apparatus.

There is an urgent necessity for a new engine house in the business district,
between Fourth and Sixth avenues west, preferably on Michigan street, so as to be within easy call of the whole sale houses and mills along the dock lines. The department also requires two new fire engines of the best type. It is credited with having three engines now, but the fact is that only one of the engines is in first-class condition and the other two are almost unfit for use. More hose is badly needed.
The department now has but 8000 feet of hose and much of it is old and worn.

The city of Superior has 15,000 feet of hose, which shows how poorly the Duluth department is supplied in this respect.

Chief Smith is also very anxious to secure a water tower, and in view of the many high buildings that are now erected and in course of erection it seems to be an absolute necessity. The city council should not be niggardly in appropriating money to improve the fire department. It will be money well expended and will bring a handsome return, and the aldermen will likewise have the satisfaction of knowing that their action in this direction will meet universal approval.

Misrepresentation.

The Minneapolis Journal of last evening contained the following:

"The Duluth Herald takes kindly to Homer's state elevator and warehouse and bulletin publishing bill. The Herald admits it would be the making of Duluth. That, however, is a poor compliment to the vitality of Duluth—the admission of the necessity of taxing the whole state to enable the town to keep its head above water."

The statement put into The Herald's mouth in the above extract was never made by this paper, and the Journal knows it. "Woodchuck" in the bill regulating salaries of county attorneys, introduced by Mr. Cotton in the legislature. Messrs. Boggs and Cotton appear to be headquarters for "woodchucks" in
this session.

Mayor d'Auremont has discovered
another "woodchuck" in the bill regulating salaries of county attorneys, introduced by Mr. Cotton in the legislature. Messrs. Boggs and Cotton appear
to be headquarters for "woodchucks" in
this session.

Read that extract from the St. Paul Globe on "The Rule of Boggs," published in another column of this issue.
The doctrine enunciated therein is worthy of careful consideration.

The Superior Telegram thinks Governor Nelson would do a handsome thing by appointing Hon. C. A. Gilman on the railroad and warehouse commission.
It is doubtful if he would accept.

Hayti is now the scene of another revolution, the enemies of President Hippolyte having finally taken up arms. It is not likely that the rebellion will be of very long duration.

An Envious Spectator.

Superior Leader. A New Jersey
judge has immortalized himself by ruling that when a young man and woman kiss each other or walk arm-in-arm in public it shall be taken as an admission that they are engaged to be married. If that should be the law in Duluth there would be a revolution and bloodshed.

GRAVE ROBBERS AT WORK.

Cadavers for Dissection Taken from Washington Cemeteries.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The Advertiser's
Washington dispatch this morning says:
The brief dispatch in the Advertiser yesterday morning telling of the grave robbers at work was fully corroborated two hours later when George W. Marlowe, the king of the ghouls, delivered four bodies to three colleges. This was verified by the watchers on duty.

Late yesterday morning Marlowe himself admitted to a reporter, who called at his home and represented that he was a doctor in search of "subjects," that he had robbed the graves with the assistance of three stalwart sons. He lives at 237 Fourteenth street northeast. He is a heavy-set negro with sharp features, a heavy black mustache and long mattoon-col whiskers.

He made an astounding statement that he was regularly engaged in the business of body-snatching and shipped his ghastly booty to numerous points university. Two days ago he shipped a calculation made, Marlowe's income must exceed $5000 per annum. Fifteen dollars per subject is the ruling price in Washington colleges and $25 for bodies shipped to points outside.

In Washington the students pay $18
for each cadaver, leaving a profit of $2 for the demonstrator. Marlowe said that he supplied at regular intervals the dissecting material for many well known universities. Two days ago he shipped a recently sent to Georgetown, one dead woman to the Columbian and one dead man to the Howard.

"During the past year," said Marlowe
in the course of the interview, "I resurrected and sold 340 subjects. Of these only fourteen came from the potter's field."

Murphy Now Senator.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 17.—The two houses of the legislature today balloted separately for United States senator with the following result: Senate: Edward Murphy, Jr., 17; Frank Hiscock, 12; Whitlaw Reid, 1. Assembly: Murphy,
73; Hiscock, 52.

Quay Renominated.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 17.—The Republican caucus this morning nominated Matthew S. Quay for United States senator. The vote was: Quay, 146; Dalsell, 18; Gobin, 1.

Hagan Won Again.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 17.—In the second Hagan-Breen skating contest late yesterday afternoon, Hagan won the mile by fifty feet in 2:30.

Will He Do It?

Superior Telegram. Over in Minnesota there is a man in the governor's chair who has for many years had a consistent and persistent champion in the Hon. C. A. Gilman. That governor could now perform a very handsome action by appointing Gilman to a position on the board of railroad and warehouse commissioners.

How Will It Be?

Minneapolis Times. Jim Boggs and Bob Dunn deny the insinuation that they came to St. Paul on passes and are ahead that much. Both paid fare, but how will it be going back.

The Jackson, corner of Second street and First avenue west, has changed hands and has been newly furnished throughout. It is heated by steam, and has baths and gas. First class family board can be had, also a few day boarders accommodated.

THE LAKE WATERWAY

An Excellent Impression Made by the Duluth Delegates to the Recent Convention at Washington.

Members of Congress Have Indicated Since
the Gathering Their Intention to Aid the Movement.

The Prospects Are Very Fair That an Appropriation for the Survey Will be Made.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—[Special to
The Herald.]—Secretary S. A. Thompson, Col. Graves, Maj. Baldwin and other delegates that represented Duluth in the deep waterway convention in this city, made an excellent impression upon all those who had any dealings with them in connection with the convention's work. Maj. Baldwin made a very neat speech when he was made temporary chairman. Col. Graves made another, and Secretary Thompson fairly excelled himself in delivering his speech at the night session, when all the prominent officials were present.

The indications now are that the convention made a good impression upon congress, and those members who had any idea as to the immense undertaking
in connection with the deep waterway movement and proposed ship canal, have since indicated that they would be willing to give any support that could be had in a legislative way at the beginning of the work.

The first thing to be done of course, is to get this congress to make an appropriation of $100,000 for the preliminary survey of the canal. From all that can be learned from talking with members of congress from different sections of the country, the prospects are very fair that this appropriation will be made.

The next step will be to have the government through congress either undertake to build the canal, or to guarantee the interest on bonds to the extent of $100,000,000 to the corporation that will undertake to build the canal, provided the government does not care to do so. The movement now being what may be termed national in its character, will have supporters in different sections of the union that will not be directly benefited as will the great lakes states. The work is so colossal that it seems to have a chance of success, and are of the opinion that it will be far more beneficial for the people of this country to have a ship canal built,
rather than the Nicaragua canal.

If the government decides not to build the canal from the great lakes to the sea
the work is so colossal that it seems to have a chance of success, and are of the opinion that it will be far more beneficial for the people of this country to have a ship canal built, rather than the Nicaragua canal.

DULUTH STOCK EXCHANGE.

Two Sessions Daily to be Held After Next Monday.

The board of directors of the stock exchange at its meeting today resolved that on and after next Monday the exchange would hold two sessions daily, from 11 to 12 a. m. and from 3 to 4
p. m. The constitution of the exchange provides for two daily sessions, but on the opening of the exchange it was thought advisable to have but one session per day. It is hoped that this new arrangement will have a tendency to clear up the confusion that has been created and give the exchange the business and credit property to which it is entitled. The board of directors today were: G. A. Leland, S. E. Smith, J. D. Howard and A. H. Davis.

Sales on change today were unusually light.

THEY MAKE A PROTEST

The County Commissioners Denounce the Boggs Bill to Change County Offices to Fee Offices.

Senator Daugherty is Called Upon to Use His Influence to Prevent the Bill's Passage.

The County Printing Matter Has Been Finally Settled After a Great Amount of Discussion.

The county commissioners had a long and important meeting this morning and the full board was present. They sat on the legislative career of Hon. James A. Boggs with a unanimity that must be sickening to that member from Duluth. They passed a resolution as follows:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this board that the bill lately introduced by Hon. J. A. Boggs in the Minnesota legislature repealing the laws governing certain salaried offices in this county should not pass, and that the Hon. Senator F. B. Daugherty be instructed to use his utmost influence to prevent its passage. The resolution was introduced as a committee report and it was adopted unanimously and the county auditor was instructed to immediately transmit the resolution to Senator Daugherty. There is a deep seated conviction that there will be considerable "unpleasantness" between some of the county officers and commissioners as the outcome of this action.

The county printing matter was then taken up and after a lengthy discussion the West Duluth Sun was awarded the printing of the delinquent tax list. The Northwestern Witness secured the financial statement and the News Tribune got the proceedings.

The commissioners adjourned at 12:15 to meet on Thursday to fix the amount of the bonds required from the several publishers under the award.

Yesterday's Proceedings.
At the meeting of the county commissioners yesterday afternoon W. W. Butchart, W. C. Sargent, B. F. Howard and Albert Swenson were selected as a delegation to attend the good roads convention to be held in St. Paul, Jan. 25 and 26. The bond of W. C. McAdam as court commissioner in the statutory sum of $2000 was received and approved.

Jacob Zimmerman and Victor A. Dash were appointed commissioners to appraise the value of any state school lands in the county in the event of any being offered for sale by the state auditor.

The county printing question is a knotty problem with the board. They do not wish to work injustice to the smaller papers, but it is questionable whether their circulation is general within the law's meaning. They will consider the matter further today. The bids which were opened yesterday were as follows: Official proceedings: News Tribune, 75 cents a folio; Herald, 73 cents; Ely Times, 15 cents; Tower Journal, 40 cents; Northwestern Witness, 41 cents; West Duluth Sun, 20 cents. Financial statement: News Tribune, 14 cents a line for double column, 7 for single, and $10 for 100 copies in pamphlet form; Herald, 70 cents a folio for first and 35 cents for subsequent insertions, and $8.50 for pamphlets; Ely Times, 5 cents for double column and 2½ cents for single, and $5 for pamphlets; Tower Journal, 12 cents a line double and 6 cents single, with pamphlets free; Witness, 12 cents for double and 5½ cents for single, with $10 for pamphlets; Sun, 10 cents double and 5 cents single, with $33 for pamphlets. Delinquent tax list: News Tribune, 12 cents a description and 12 cents a line for notices; Herald, 12 cents and 12 cents; Ely Times, 8 cents a description; Tower Journal, 10 cents and 6 cents; Witness, 10½ cents and 4½ cents; Sun, 5 cents and 6 cents.

WAS FROZEN TO DEATH.
A Prominent Cincinnati Man Meets an Unlucky End.

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 17.—Rufus Paine, an ex-member of the school board, was found frozen to death at No. 342 West Sixth street this morning. His body was found in a little repair shed in the rear of the house.

The body was lying near the stove. It is supposed that he went to sleep by the stove and the cold benumbed his faculties. Payne's family lives in the Twenty-fifth ward.

FOURTEEN NEW CARDINALS.
But Not a Single American Received the Coveted Red Hat.

ROME, Jan. 17.—The pope created fourteen new cardinals at the consistory yesterday, the list not including any Americans. Archbishop Vaughan, of Westminster, was elevated to the cardinalate, also Archbishop Logue, primate of Ireland; Archbishop Kromont, of Cologne; Prince Archbishop Kopp, of Breslau; Mgr. Mocenni, papal under secretary of state; Mgr. Porcico, secretary of the propaganda, and others, there being in all six Italian cardinals, two French, two Prussian, one English, one Irish, one Hungarian and one Spanish.

The pope announced, in addition to the cardinals named, the creation of two cardinals reserved. They are believed to be Heinhuber and a French bishop.

The Chinaman Was Brave.
NANAIMO, B. C., Jan. 17.—Dominic Taragnello, an Italian, and Sing Kee, a Chinaman, were hanged this morning. Each man murdered a fellow countryman. Kee walked to his doom firmly, while Taragnello had to be dragged to the scaffold.

Conviction Affirmed.
ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 17.—The court of appeals today affirmed the judgment of the lower court convicting C. W. Harris of murder in the first degree.

WEST DULUTH DOINGS

The Village Council Held an Important Meeting Last Night and Discussed Matters of Interest.

There was Considerable Talk Over the City Building Which is Not in a Completed State.

Steps Taken to Put in a New Fire Alarm System and Proposals to be Asked.

The village fathers held their regular meeting last evening, the time being principally taken up in discussion of the city hall contract and the new fire alarm system. A report was received from the architects of the city building stating that the building was in an unfinished condition and recommended that it be accepted, but that $200 be retained from the contract price. The report was accepted and adopted.

A communication was presented from G. J. Mallory stating that he was the owner of portions of the blocks 210 and 211, Third division, and the property named had been badly damaged by the grading of streets. He asked to have a committee appointed to confer with him and arrange if possible, a satisfactory settlement. The communication was referred to a committee.

The matter of the assessment of property abutting on Sixth avenue which has received a number of protests from property owners came up for consideration. Assessor Yeager was present and explained the system of making assessments. After considerable discussion pro and con the matter was finally referred to a committee consisting of the president, attorney, assessor and Trustee Bagley. Final street assessments to the amount of $47,000 were authorized. John Stewart, J. A. Scott and T. W. McManus were appointed to condemn property in blocks A and B, Hunter's Grassy Point addition, to be used for the extension of Sixth avenue west.

Chief Short, of the fire department, reported the hydrants throughout the village to be in proper condition, and the bill of the water company was ordered paid. The chief also recommended the placing of fifteen alarm boxes in various parts of the village. For this purpose ten miles of wire would be necessary and the cost of the system, exclusive of poles, would be $2675. As this amount was larger than the council could expend without advertising for bids, a motion was carried to advertise for proposals.

West Duluth Briefs.
A congregational meeting will be held at the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening.
Gospel meetings are still continued at the Presbyterian and Methodist churches each evening of this week.

Attorney De Vore went to St. Paul last evening on business.

The ministers of this place met last evening and formed a Monday club with Dr. Forbes as president and Rev. G. A. Brandt as secretary. Meetings will be held on the first Monday of each month. The object of the organization is recreation, mutual help and counsel, reforms, discussion of social and theological questions. A committee was appointed to secure a branch of the American Bible association for West Duluth, and to inquire into the best method of securing a library and reading room.

L. G. Mathews left for the East last evening on business.

Mrs. Archie McMillan who has been quite ill of late is improving in health. P. R. McDonnell will pay off his men tonight and clean off all the accounts for the past year. Paddy says "it will take a large bundle of filthy lucre to square up, but that he is equal to the occasion."

Born, yesterday, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clark, a daughter.

Mr. McGinnis, superintendent of the new electrical plant, made a speech at the council meeting last evening which embodied some excellent suggestions regarding a general fire alarm system. He said to be a practical fireman and to have at one time served in that capacity at Chicago.

OFFICE —OF— City Comptroller

CITY OF DULUTH.

January, 12, 1893.

Notice is hereby given that I have caused to be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for St. Louis county, Minnesota, a list of the delinquent taxes made by the city of Duluth, for the purpose of defraying in whole or in part the expense of making the improvements hereinafter mentioned.

Notice is further given that at a general term of said district court, to be held at the court house in said county, in the city of Duluth, on the seventh day of February, 1893, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, I will apply to said court for a judgment for the amount of said several assessments and costs against said property.

All persons interested in said lands or said assessments are required to appear at said time and place and state their objections in writing, if any they have, why said judgment should not be rendered.

The assessments and property affected thereby for which judgment is asked, and which are situated in the city of Duluth, county of St. Louis, state of Minnesota, are described as follows, to-wit:

In part grading Twenty-third avenue west from Michigan street to Piedmont avenue, also storm sewer in Twenty-third avenue west from Michigan street to Park avenue.

PERSONAL.

Judge Stearns and family left last night for the coast via St. Paul and the Southern route. The judge was quite feeble and had a sinking spell at the Union depot just before leaving, but his usual energy and indomitable will and the assistance of a friend rallied him sufficiently to take the train. An effort at rapid walking brought about the attack.

Mrs. L. G. Palmer has gone to Chicago on account of the sickness of her father.

The Northern Pacific general officials left for the West last night.

Mrs. Isaac Bondy has gone to New York city.

A. J. Rusk, of Eau Claire, is at the Spalding. He is a son of Secretary Rusk.

A. D. Garner, of Lansing, Mich., is in the city, a guest at the Spalding.

N. B. Parsons, C. M. Hill and ex-Congressman Bliss form a party of Saginaw lumbermen now in the city looking over the lumber interests here.

Dr. F. C. Denning left this afternoon for a ten days' visit in Chicago.

City Attorney S. L. Smith has been laid up with a cold for the past few days, hence his absence from his accustomed haunts. It is expected that he will show up today or tomorrow.

M. B. McClellan, representing J. H. Bishop & Co., of Minneapolis, is in the city.

J. J. Haley is at St. Mary's hospital sick with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Ivan Hansen, wife of Deputy Sheriff Hansen, has gone to Spokane Falls for the winter to visit with relatives.

Charles A. Stoller has returned from Oshkosh.

John Ward has returned from Cleveland greatly improved in health.

BOARD OF TRADE ELECTION.

Otto C. Hartman Elected President and Geo. Rupley Vice.

The annual election of the Duluth board of trade was held today. There was only one ticket in the field, and it was elected as follows:

President, Otto C. Hartman; vice president, George Rupley; directors for three years, Ward Ames, A. D. Thomson, A. W. Frick; director for one year, George Spencer; board of arbitration, A. Bailey, E. A. Forsyth, H. H. Kenkel; board of appeals, W. S. Moore, Thomas Gibson, W. Van Brunt; committee on inspection, George Rupley, G. G. Barnum, Ward Ames, A. W. Frick, B. C. Church.

His Bride Prostrated.

Mrs. E. C. Preston, wife of the bag-gageman burned in the St. Louis hotel fire, was prostrated by the news of her husband's fate. The couple had been but three months married. Preston was insured in an accident company for $5,000.

Admitted to Probate.

The will of Caroline B. Wade, widow of Benjamin F. Wade, Ohio's well known statesman, was admitted to probate by Judge Ayer today. The executors are the sons of Brigadier General James F. Wade and Hon. Henry P. Wade, of Jefferson, Ohio. General Wade receives a cash legacy of $200 (the approximate amount of moneys in banks) and the balance of the estate which is very valuable is divided equally between the two sons. There is a lot of real estate in St. Louis county which is affected by the provisions of the will which accounts for its being probated here.

High School Lecture.

Rev. S. G. Smith has been secured to deliver Friday night of this week the next lecture in the high school lecture course. Mr. Smith has a reputation as a word painter and it is expected that his lecture on "How to Live a Hundred Years" will be most edifying to all who hear it. Several places in this course of twelve lectures were originally left vacant but to fill them there has been secured an illustrated lecture by Herbert Stanley Kenton, together with lectures from Kossell C. Horr, Col. Copeland and Col. Sanford.

WERE OTHERS BURNED

Opinion General That More People Perished in the St. Louis Hotel Fire Than Hitherto Claimed.

It is Now Known That There Was a Third Victim, Alice Swanson, a Servant Girl.

She Escaped From the Building, But Returned to Save Her Things and Undoubtedly Perished.

It is impossible to convince many people in Duluth but that the loss of life in the St. Louis hotel fire is not greater than hitherto claimed. It is now reasonably certain that Alice Swanson, a servant girl was a victim of the conflagration. At the beginning of the fire she got out safely and accompanied another employee to the Spalding. She then remarked that she would go back and see if she could not save some of her things.

She has not been seen since by any of the hotel people nor by her relatives who reside at West Duluth. A sister and other relatives were at the present office of the proprietors of the St. Louis, 507 Chamber of Commerce building, this forenoon, making inquiries and telling about the absence of the girl. She is not an immediate arrival from the old country nor is her name Christie Paulson as stated in a morning paper. She evidently has been confounded with another employee. Nor was she in the cupola when burned.

A gang of workmen this forenoon, under the immediate direction of Street Commissioner J. Hokanson, commenced removing the debris from the ruins. Work was commenced at about the center of the wall on the west side. A couple of trunks were taken out which were in a pretty fair condition. Innumerable articles are constantly found by the workmen or are separated from the spindles of stuff they scoop out. Watches, scissors, clothing, several pieces of ladies' wear were not burned at all, probably having been on the basement floor, pictures, books, pieces of half consumed trunks, household articles—in fact almost anything that can be imagined except dead bodies. Of course it is not yet expected that any of those will be found as scarcely a showing has been made in the removal of the large amount of rubbish.

The police department has general charge of the work and there is talk of bringing out the chain gang. There is much complaint around the city concerning the dilatory methods employed in instituting the search. One gentleman said: "I suppose there is not another city in the country that would be so slow in a matter of this kind. Work should have been started Saturday morning and the mayor or the chief of police should have taken some things for granted, assumed any authority they had doubts about not legally possessing, secured a gang of workmen and gone at it, trusting to concurrence from the members of the council. There are times when a good deal has to be assumed and when people expect it will be."

Relatives of the two railroad men are in the city today and probably will remain until something is discovered as to the fate of the victims.

Arrested for Seduction.
George Vossberg, who, it is claimed, seduced Bertha Hedman on July 12 under promise of marriage, and for whom a warrant has been issued for some time out of the municipal court, has been arrested at Oshkosh, Wis., and Deputy Sheriff Armstrong went after him yesterday.

Robbed by a Sneak Thief.
Christ Schaf, who sleeps with his brother in room 307 Pastoret-Stenson block, was robbed of a pocket book containing two promissory notes for $100 each, and a small amount of money. A sneak thief entered his room last night and took all the cash in sight. Payment of the notes has been stopped.

JOHNNIE IS INCORRIGIBLE.
A Bad Boy Will Be Sent to the Reform School.

Mrs. Josephine Doleen this morning swore out a complaint of incorrigibility against her 14-year-old son, John Boleen. The youngster is a m-licious, shiftless fellow who not only adds nothing to the support of his widowed mother, but when the family larder is depleted, he has been in the habit of carrying his maternal ancestor over various portions of her body with broomsticks and other deadly weapons. She at last has become afraid for her life and to protect herself and nip John's waywardness in the bud, as much as is possible, an effort will be made to send him to the reform school. The woman is in a destitute condition and will be given county aid.

School Teachers Ill.
Miss Alice R. Kuhns, principal of the Endion school, is sick with the quinsy. Miss May McNeil, who but a few days ago came from Ypsilanti, Mich., and took a position in the Endion school, is too ill to attend to her duties. Miss Booth, of the Irving school, is ill from an attack of the quinsy.

The Warren Land Case.
In the "Warren case," a contest before the land office involving forty acres of valuable land, an application for service on Warren by publication has been applied for and allowed, the original service proving to have been defective. If someone is found who can accept service for Warren, the case may come up tomorrow morning.

Union Skating Rink.

Still at Large.
No word has yet been heard from the board of public works, but as yet no one has proposed a search for their bodies, as it is expected each corpus will come drifting back to Duluth as soon as the junketers are satiated with the excitement of the huge metropolis.

DAVIS ELECTED

Attempt to Defeat Senator Davis Failed and He Was Chosen on Joint Ballot Today.

He Received Eighty-Five Votes, the Exact Number That Was Required to Elect Him.

The House Chamber Was Packed With People and the Result Was Received With Enthusiasm.

Senator Probstfeld Wants the State to Build Elevators at Duluth to Hold Twenty Million Bushels.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 18.—[Special to The Herald.]—Cushman K. Davis is United States senator again, with no votes to spare. The vote on joint ballot resulted as follows: Davis, 85; Lawler, 40; Owen, 23; Merriam, 2; Clapp, 3; Start, 1; Scheffer, 2; Lind, 2. The house was densely packed during the vote, many ladies being present, and the suspense during the time of the vote was intense. The cheering on the announcement of Davis' re-election was deafening and the St. Louis delegation went wild.

Mr. Merritt introduced a bill legalizing ordinances purporting to grant right to any person, persons or corporations for the construction, operation and maintenance in such person or corporation of water works or gas works.

Mr. Walsh's resolution asking for a committee of five to investigate the coal combine and the price of coal was carried this morning.

In the senate it was resolved that a committee of three be appointed to inquire into the manner of taxation of logs and lumber and the taxation of railroad lands already disposed of.

Mr. Sanborn introduced a bill appropriating $150,000 for a fireproof building for the historical society.

Mr. Allen introduced a bill instructing the clerks of school districts and villages to have their proceedings printed.

Senator Daugherty introduced a bill legalizing the transfer of real property made before 1850, although unintentionally the husband did not join in the execution of the deed.

Daugherty also succeeded in knocking out an attempt to run on several more Minneapolis men on the committee of municipal corporations.

Senator Probstfeld introduced a bill appropriating $70,000 out of the state wheat inspection fund and $600,000 besides, annually for five years, to found produce and open market stations at the state agricultural station at Hamline, of a capacity of 1,000,000 bushels, and at Duluth of 200,000 bushels capacity.

The storerooms are to be made ready for the new crop of 1893. The state weighmaster at Duluth is to have charge of the Duluth station.

Geo. F. Ash has been reappointed by the governor to be surveyor of logs and lumber at Duluth. C. H. Smith was reappointed insurance commissioner.

and Col. W. H. H. Taylor state librarian. The governor also made the following appointments: Albert Kaiser, of Hope county, surveyor-general of logs for the seventh district; John Lind, of Brown county, member of the Board of Regents of the State University; Charles A. Murray, of Winona; Geo. H. Clark, of Blue Earth, and Wm. B. Mitchell, of Stearns.

directors of the Normal School board; Charles A. Rose, junior at the capitol, reappointed; Alex. Nichols, of Ramsey county, engineer at the capitol; Geo. A. Brackett, of Hennepin county, and Rev. S. G. Smith, of St. Paul, reappointed members of the State Board of Correction and Charities; H. A. Knight, of Hennepin, member of the board of dental association.

EIGHT INSTANTLY KILLED.

A Sleighting Party Run Into by a Freight Train.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 18.—A dreadful accident occurred at a crossing near Lonsdale on the Providence & Worcester railroad about 1:30 o'clock this morning. A sleighting party from Pawtucket returning from a dance and supper at Woonsocket was struck by a locomotive of a freight train.

Eight persons were instantly killed and sixteen injured. Of the injured it is feared that eight or ten will die. Among the dead are Mr. Wilson, of 51 Central street; Robert Cook, 51 Central street; Henry Draper, Beatty street; Annie Wilson; Mr. and Miss Gowan, Dexter street.

WITHOUT WATER OR LIGHT.

A Suburb of Chicago Crippled by a Fire Today.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Two suburban residences of F. A. S. Hayes and George Skidmore in La Grange, six miles west of this city, together with their contents, were burned this morning. Skidmore's loss is $23,000 and Hayes' loss is $6,000. During the progress of the fire a water main burst, necessitating the shutting down of the village water works and crippling the electric light plant. The suburb is therefore temporarily without either water or light.

No More Cases.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 18.—There is no truth in the statement that two others of the emigrant party arriving with the man suspected with having died from cholera have been stricken with the disease. The dead man has been buried and his clothing and baggage burned. Other members of the same party of emigrants (no relation to deceased) have continued on their way West.

GRANTED A NEW TRIAL.

Dr. Graves Will Be Tried Again for Mrs. Barnaby's Murder.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 18.—Dr. Graves was yesterday granted a new trial by a decision of the supreme court. The opinion of the court is that without doubt certain well established rules of the law of evidence had been neglected in the trial in the lower court. The evidence of guilt was entirely circumstantial.

Under the rulings of the criminal court, suspicions voiced by deceased were admitted in evidence, whether the same originated with Mrs. Barnaby or emanated from some of the numerous persons admitted to the sick chamber. In this indirect way, the statement was permitted to go to the jury that, in the opinion of Mrs. Barnaby, the Bennetts did not send the contents of the bottle which caused her death.

The lower court also permitted a question put by Mrs. Worrell to Mrs. Barnaby which cast a suspicion upon the doctor. The opinion holds also that the instructions to the jury were erroneous, and quotes precedents in which decisions have been reversed solely upon errors in the charge. Upon principle, the court is of the opinion that the metaphor used in the instructions to the jury is inaccurate and misleading.

Evidence of statements by Mrs. Barnaby, showing loss of confidence in Graves, was incompetent to show a motive, unless such statements were brought to his knowledge prior to the time at which it is claimed the bottle was sent. It was also an error to not accord the accused the right to meet all witnesses face to face.

ENTOMBED IN A MINE.

Two Polanders Buried by Falling Coal in Pennsylvania.

HAZLETON, Pa., Jan. 18.—The news of a terrible accident occurring at No. 5 Stockton last evening reached here this morning. Two Polish miners are entombed; one is probably dead and the other may be smothered before he is rescued. At the time of the accident the men were engaged in sinking a counter shaft in the main seam.

The fall of coal was heard for quite a distance and brought many to the scene eager to assist in the rescue. They at once set to work to rescue the unfortunate, but up to 9 o'clock this morning had not succeeded. They, however, have enough coal removed now to be able to talk to one of the entombed miners. In reply to a question as to where his companion was he said: "I do not know; have not seen him since the fall occurred."

It is probable that he is dead, and the one with whom the conversation was held may die before he is released. The fate of the entombed men could not be ascertained.

MR. BLAINE'S CONDITION.

There is no Noticeable Change From Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The morning hours in and about the Blaine mansion today were not marked by any unusual events. The callers were few. Dr. Johnson visited Mr. Blaine at 11 o'clock and remained twenty minutes.

He found the patient sleeping and could not say with accuracy what Mr. Blaine's present condition was, but thought it compared favorably with that of yesterday, unless he might not be quite so strong. If there was a change, added Dr. Johnson, it was in that direction.

HE WANTS A LIGHTHOUSE.

Congressman Haugen Urging One for Superior Bay Entrance.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—[Special to The Herald.]—Congressman Haugen today secured through the treasury department an order for an inspector and engineer in the Eleventh lighthouse district to go to Superior to investigate whether it would be advisable to have a lighthouse established at the entrance of Superior bay.

Cigarette Works Burned.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 18.—A special dispatch to the Sun announces the burning of the extensive tobacco and cigarette works of Allen & Ginter, Richmond, Va. Valentine Meat Juice works was also destroyed. Loss about $250,000; insured. Two firemen were badly frozen.

Made an Assignment.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 18.—The McCarthy-Joyce company, one of the largest and best known merchandise firms in the state of Arkansas, made an assignment yesterday for the benefit of its creditors, most of whom were local. C. H. Whittemore is the assignee. Assets, $210,000; liabilities $143,000.

A Walter Killed.

KEOKUK, Ia., Jan. 18.—Two sleepers, a dining car and a coach of a Santa Fe train jumped the track and went over the bank near the Des Moines river bridge yesterday. The sleepers and the dining car caught fire from overturned stoves and were burned. A waiter was killed and six passengers were injured.

Will Pay Indemnity.

TANGIER, Jan. 18.—The sultan, besides ordering the arrest and punishment upon conviction of the Moors who have recently killed a British subject in this city, which action was taken in response to the ultimatum sent to him by the British government, has admitted Morocco's liability in the matter and promised that the dead man's relatives shall be paid indemnity.

Judgment Affirmed.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 18.—The court of appeals yesterday affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the case of the people vs. James Hughes, appellant. This case is an appeal from a judgment of the Monroe over and terminer, convicting Hughes of the crime of extortion and sentencing him to one year's imprisonment in the Monroe county penitentiary.

TUNNEL PLAN CHOSEN

The Design Submitted by C. C. Conklin, of Scranton, Pa., Has Been Awarded the First Prize.

Conklin's Plan Provides for a Concrete Tunnel, Brick Lined, Resting on the Natural Foundation.

The Author Estimates the Cost at $683,800 But a Leading Chicago Engineer Makes it $796,400.

Samuel G. Arisingall, the Chicago consulting engineer, has awarded the $100 prize for tunnel plans to C. C. Conklin, of Scranton, Pa. Last Friday the board of public works went to Chicago and were in personal consultation with Mr. Arisingall for two or three days, the return being made yesterday.

The Conklin plan provides for a concrete tunnel with brick lining, resting on the natural foundation of sand and gravel. The original plans will meet with some modifications.

If the tunnel is constructed according to these plans, the top will be 25 feet under the water level in the center and 23 feet at the sides. The entire width will be 65 feet and from the floor to the top the greatest distance will be 32 feet.

Going southward, to the right, will be the roadway tunnel 30 feet wide and 14 feet to the highest in the arch. On the left side will be the railway tunnel 14 feet wide and 18 feet high. Between the two will be situated the footway, 8x8 feet.

The following is a portion of Mr. Arisingall's report to the board after the conclusion of his examination of the twenty-three plans:

"During the past few days I have in your company examined twenty-three sets of plans. The points considered in examining the plans were, that the work could be constructed in a practicable way without using untried or doubtful methods which are liable to result in unknown delay and expense. The tunnel after completion must be safe and permanently durable, so that no more than ordinary care and expense will be required to maintain the structure in good order and condition. Bearing these vital points in view, I find a large number of the designs submitted are faulty, some being impracticable, some being of doubtful construction, and it is doubtful if some could be carried to completion at any cost.

"The design submitted by C. C. Conklin, in my opinion, is the best offered; it complies with all your requirements and is eminently adapted to the location and character of the ground. The method presents no unusual difficulties, the cost is reasonable, and when completed will leave a safe, sure, durable and dry tunnel. As will be seen by the drawings presented, this is essentially a concrete structure, advantage being taken of the large amount of gravel and sand on the ground, the tunnels being afterward lined with brick masonry work. This structure will be built in an open excavation, properly sheeted and braced under the canal in a cofferdam.

"The author's estimate of cost is too low. In my opinion it will cost $796,400. Modifications can be made which will not impair the strength and materially decrease the cost. There is abundant room for the footway between the roadway and railway tunnels, as there is no advantage of a solid masonry wall sixteen feet thick between the two. With modifications along practicable lines the tunnels can be constructed within the sum of $750,000."

The comparative estimates prepared by Mr. Conklin and Mr. Arisingall on the plan selected are as follows:

	Conklin	Arisingall
Excavation	$ 50,000	$ 60,000
Concrete	350,000	40,000
Masonry	100,000	15,000
Brickwork	75,000	45,000
Coffer dam	10,000	10,000
Drainage	5,000	3,000
Sheeting and bracing	10,000	10,000
Rock filling	8,500
Sanitary	20,000
Stairways	5,000	1,000
Foundations	5,000	12,000
Subway	5,000	15,000
Total	$683,800	$796,400

The tunnel approaches and grades have been frequently and sufficiently explained in former issues of The Herald, but the following explanation of the methods whereby they and the tunnel will be constructed, as set forth by Mr. Conklin in a letter that accompanied his plans, has not yet been touched upon in these columns:

"The approaches to the tunnel are to be constructed in a trench, same to be excavated from the surface, sides to be held back with sheet piling, water tight where necessary. Tunnel under canal to be built in cofferdam, only one half of canal to be taken up by same at one time. All building and walls to be underpinned during construction of tunnel. Foundations, sides and arches of all three tunnels to be built of the best concrete, lined with brick twelve inches thick laid in cement in covered approach and in asphalt under canal proper. Excavations to be made to the sub-grade of foundations in rows of twelve-foot sheet piles to be then driven to the outer lines of foundations seven feet below foundations of same five feet to project above. The sand between sheet piles to then be well rammed. Concrete to then be laid on this surface and construction of tunnels carried up to springing line of arches, the sides to be lined with brick and brick arch to be constructed on false work of timber."

Yesterday afternoon a gentleman, whose name slipped the minds of the board, appeared at the city hall with plans for a tunnel, which he seemed to have an idea would be accepted even above the plans for which $1000 will be paid. He had some special scheme for strengthening the bottom of the tunnel so that the vibrations from the moving trains would not impair the structure. He laughed to scorn the idea that sand, if it can be confined, makes the best possible foundation and by his method, proposed to go down seventy feet to clay or rock, build up a foundation of timber and concrete and then rear his superstructure on that. His arrogant, impolite manner stirred up President Truesen who made a few plain remarks after which the unknown authority on tunnels tucked his plans under his arm and disappeared. He claimed to have an office in Chicago but no one around the city hall had ever heard of him before. His drawings were very neat and his plan seemed to have a fair amount of merit.

CHASE AFTER A BURGLAR.
But He Was Too Fleet of Foot and Escaped the Officers.

A rather amusing and at the same time exciting chase after a fleeing miscreant of some sort took place last night just before 12 o'clock on Superior street, in which Sergeant Donovan, Patrolman McLean and a Herald attaché took part. The Herald man was reading in his room in the La Perle block and heard some one fumbling at the keyhole of the door. He cried out "who's there?" and the answer by the sound of rapidly retreating footsteps. The Herald man was in his stocking feet but gave chase and at the door leading to the street met Sergeant Donovan who had noticed the man come out of the building but supposed he came out of Levi's side store. The officers called Patrolman McLean and they started after the man, who broke into a run as soon as he saw the officers were after him.

He dodged around the corner near the News office and was lost to view before the pursuers could reach the spot. The man has been seen on several occasions by roomers in the same block and his description is in the hands of the police, who say that next time he will be pursued by something much speedier than a running policeman.

HAS COME TO DULUTH.

A Chicago Youth Who is Accused of Being an Embezzler.

Robert W. Dring, the youth who is charged by the American Surety company of Chicago with the embezzlement of a package containing $1500, and who fooled the detectives and succeeded in making his escape, has just been successful in making his escape from St. Paul.

He went to that city Tuesday last week and went to work at the Astoria hotel as a bell boy. Manager Cooley, of the Thiel's detective service, in whose hands the case was placed, got wind of the fact that the boy was in St. Paul, but young Dring also learned that the detectives were after him and mysteriously disappeared and is thought to have come to Duluth.

THE FALL OF A MOUSTACHE.
Secretary Tom Walsh is having Some Amusing Experiences.

Tom Walsh, private secretary to the mayor, is having many amusing experiences since he shaved off his moustache. Many old friends fail to recognize him and many of those who do involuntarily address him as "Father" Walsh.

On Sunday night, while at the Superior street fire, one of the fire department teams started to walk off. A fireman who was busy spoke out to the disguised and shaven secretary as follows: "Hey, kid! stop that team, will you?" The object of that remark said to him that he would either go to the American District Telegraph, for a position as messenger boy.

Democratic Executive Committee.
The officers of the Minnesota Democratic association met yesterday and elected the following executive committee: B. S. Cook, Owatonna; Thomas Bohlen, Waseca; M. Mullen, New Ulm; E. A. Child, Glencoe; Henry Nicolini, Jordan; Dan W. Lawler, E. C. Springer, Dr. G. Schreder, W. M. Campbell, St. Paul; C. J. Buel, St. Anthony Park; J. W. Lawrence, P. B. Winston, J. C. Hayes, F. G. McMillan, A. Ueland, Altona; Phillips, Minneapolis; C. P. Maginnis, Duluth; C. F. MacDonald, St. Cloud; P. H. O'Hara, Greenville; W. E. McKenney, Crookston; J. D. Markham, Rushville.

Death of Miss Leibe.
Word has been received of the death of Miss Mary Leibe, in California. Miss Leibe was for some time a teacher in Duluth and later in the High school at the East end at Superior and went to the coast in an endeavor to regain her health. She had many warm friends in Duluth and Superior, to whom the news of her death will be a sad shock. No arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Can Pay Its Bills.
President Boardman of the Duluth & Winnipeg road is in St. Paul accompanied by Manager Fisher, Attorney Barr, and Donald Grant. Mr. Boardman says that they are able to liquidate every dollar of indebtedness against the road and have the money in their possession to do it. They will also push the road to completion in the spring and will have abundant funds for docks and other improvements.

BAD FIRE IN JAMESTOWN.
A Two-Story Brick Building Totally Destroyed.

JAMESTOWN, N. D., Jan. 18.—A disastrous fire occurred here yesterday. The department was called out at 2 a. m. and at 10 o'clock got the fire under control. The Lloyd and Watson block, a two-story brick store building, 150 feet frontage on Fifth avenue, corner of Second street, was completely destroyed. It was occupied by C. E. Nie, confectionery and restaurant, Haas Bros. & Co., grocers; Shaw & Co., dry goods and G. A. Lieber, boots and shoes.

The fire is supposed to have started in the basement of Shaw & Co.'s store from furnaces. Total insurance $85,000. The losses will considerably exceed this amount.

GREAT SAVING RESULTS FROM THE USE OF

SAPOLIO

AWFUL RAILWAY HORROR.

Forty-nine Soldiers Were Burned to Death in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 18.—A terrible railway horror resulting in great loss of life is reported here. A train consisting of several coaches, bearing a large number of recruits, in some manner caught fire, and the engineer of the train for some unaccountable reason failed to stop until after the train had proceeded some distance.

The confusion was indescribable. The recruits leaped from the windows and doors. Some of them were injured in the heavy snow banks, while others who landed in the cleared track were killed. Those who were unable to get out of the cars were burned to death, for the train was entirely consumed.

Some of the men were terribly burned before they jumped. When the confusion had somewhat subsided the officer in charge of the recruits, who saved himself by jumping, called the roll of his men. It was found that forty-nine of them were dead, and twenty terribly burned and otherwise injured.

A strict investigation will be held to determine the cause of the fire. It is supposed that some of the men in the forward car were skylarking and upset the stove. The draft caused by the on-rushing train caused the flames to spread with such great rapidity that nothing could be done to extinguish them.

It is claimed that the engineer was guilty of criminal negligence in not stopping the train as soon as he saw the fire. Had he done so, the loss of life would have been very small.

NEW MOVE IN ATHLETICS.

The Harvard Committee Has Decided on Organized Management.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 18.—The Harvard athletic committee has just made known a most important move athletics. It is the appointment by the corporation of Harvard university of a graduate treasurer and manager, named Herbert White, secretary of the University Football association.

This action is a complete overturning of the method of unorganized management now in use, and will be of value in cutting down the expenses of the various teams. The contract as signed by Mr. White provides that his duties begin in July, and from that time he will manage entirely the financial part of the athletic teams, being subject to the athletic committee alone. Each team will have a sub-manager, who will be appointed as formerly.

NEW YORK REFORM CLUB.

Charles S. Fairchild Has Been Elected to the Presidency.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The board of trustees of the Reform club last night elected ex-Secretary Charles S. Fairchild president to succeed E. Ellery Anderson, whose retirement was not due to the Crisis incident, but to the fact that a president of the club cannot serve longer than two years in succession. The following vice presidents were also elected: E. Ellery Anderson, Oswald Ottendorfer, Wm. Grace, Frederick R. Coudert, William S. O'Plyke, Edward C. Wall, of Milwaukee; Hoke Smith, of Atlanta; Gustav H. Schwab, August Lewis and William F. Owens.

A Destructive Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—The five-story building at 427, 429 and 431 North Third street, occupied by Duncan Hood & Co., Morocco dressers, was partially destroyed by fire last night. The loss is estimated at about $120,000. Fully covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Fail to Do Their Duty.

Everybody has at times failed to do their duty towards themselves. Hundreds of lady readers suffer from sick headache, nervousness, sleeplessness and female troubles. Let them follow the example of Mrs. H. Herbecher, Stevens Point, Wis., who for five years suffered greatly from nervous prostration, sleeplessness, tried physicians and different medicines without success. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic caused sound sleep every night and she is feeling like a new person. Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, Laramie City, Wyoming, who tried all other remedies, declares that after three weeks' use of the Nerve Tonic, nervous prostration, etc., she was entirely relieved. Sold by all druggists. Trial bottle free.

The very interesting illustrated lecture "Pike's Peak and Surroundings" will be given by Rev. G. L. Morrill, of Minneapolis, Saturday evening, Jan. 21, at the Endion Baptist church. Admission 25 cents.

Simply Awful

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my neck, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the worst case of Scrofula they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, and then I was cured. Just think of what a cure! I got for that investment a thousand per cent. Yes, many thousands. For the past 4 years I have had no sores."

Work all the Time.
Before, I could do no work. I know not what to say strong enough to express my gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla for my perfect cure. GEORGE W. TURNER, Farmer, Galway, Saratoga county, N. Y.

THE KHEDIVÉ GAVE IN

The Nominal Ruler of Egypt Compelled to Change His Ministry to Suit England's Desires.

He at First Refused to Comply but Promptly Capitulated When an Ultimatum Was Presented.

A New Ministry Has Been Selected With a Premier Who Is Friendly to England.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A hurriedly convened cabinet council was held at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The unexpected call for a conference caused a decided sensation at the clubs, where it was conjectured that action was to be taken in regard to the sudden spirit of independence displayed by the khedive of Egypt in changing his ministry without having first obtained the consent of the British government.

So far as is publicly known here, the situation at Cairo remains unchanged. The British representative here declines to recognize the new ministry and the khedive refuses to make any changes in it.

The council lasted an hour and ten minutes. After it rose it transpired that the ministers had discussed the Egyptian question in all its aspects, and had come to the decision that the khedive must be firmly dealt with. This is taken to mean that the new Egyptian cabinet must be dismissed and replaced by men who are favorable to Great Britain. It is charged that the new ministers owe their appointment to their hostility to Great Britain and that the khedive in selecting them was influenced by Russia and France. Further developments are eagerly looked for. It is thought that the British representative at Cairo will be immediately notified of the course he is to follow.

The Khedive Capitulated.
CAIRO, Jan. 18.—The flurry in Egyptian political affairs has ended in the complete withdrawal of the khedive from the position taken by him and henceforth, unless some untoward event occurs, Great Britain will have all to say as to who shall fill the Egyptian cabinet offices.

Yesterday the khedive was handed an ultimatum from the British government demanding the dismissal of the newly appointed ministry within twenty-four hours. The ultimatum left no doubt that Great Britain was seriously earnest in her determination not to relax her grip upon the country, and that the khedive's personal predilections would not be allowed to count for anything against what England believes to be her interests.

The Egyptian ruler was plainly given to understand that his position was held only by the consent of Great Britain and if that consent was withdrawn he would find himself in a precarious position. Upon expirative of the twenty-four hours given in the ultimatum Lord Cromer, the British minister, went to the khedive and demanded to know the decision the khedive had arrived at.

The khedive, who had a long conference with Nubar Pasha and Riaz Pasha, expressed regret at his selection of a ministry had proved not to the liking of Great Britain and pointed out the Fakhr Pasha, the newly appointed president of the council, had at his request resigned his position.

The khedive offered to appoint in his stead Riaz Pasha, who was formerly at the head of the Egyptian ministry and who is known to be friendly to British interests. Lord Cromer consented to the appointment. He secured from the khedive an understanding that he would make no alteration in the ministry without consulting Great Britain.

THE REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.
Convention is to be held in Louisville next May.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Chairman Thos. H. Carter, of the Republican national committee has been expected at the Plaza hotel for two days. Gen. Clarkson said last night that Mr. Carter would probably arrive today.

"It is understood that Chairman Carter is coming here to wind up the flag end of the last campaign and to confer with prominent Republican leaders regarding the time for calling a full meeting of the Republican national committee. The date of the meeting has not been decided yet, but it is believed that it will be some time in May."

"The composition of Mr. Cleveland's cabinet and the first few months of his administration will furnish us with material to work upon. In a few days now I shall issue a call for a convention of the national league. It will be held in Louisville some time in May, probably before the 15th. We anticipate a very large attendance at the convention."

WILL PROHIBIT SEALING.
The Japanese Will Protect Their Coast From Outsiders.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 18.—Japanese Consul Kito received word yesterday of his government's intention to prohibit sealing by foreigners within the international limit of the Japanese coast. Warships will patrol the coast, an appropriation for the necessary expense having been made by the last session of parliament.

The value of the seals taken by foreign vessels during the past year is estimated at $80,000. Japanese sailors only got seals valued at $25,000 in the same period. The two sealing companies now in Japan brought pressure on the government.

MANY LIVES WERE LOST.

Collision of Two Steamers in the Straits of Messina.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A dispatch from Messina states that the collision between the French steamer San Marco and the Italian steamer Algerie (not Agesian as before reported) resulted in much greater loss of life than was reported in the first account of the disaster.

The two steamers collided Sunday night in the straits of Messina and both sank. It is now known that five of the persons on board the Algerie were saved, but the fate of the others is not known and it is supposed that they were drowned.

Seventeen persons were saved from the San Marco. Two of her crew are missing and are presumably dead.

DIED FROM LEPROSY.
A Case of the Loathsome Disease Reported From Iowa.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Jan. 18.—Mrs. A. F. Wood, wife of a prominent pioneer citizen of Hardin county, has just died at Union of what is said to have been leprosy in its most malignant form. She had been bed-ridden and utterly helpless for a number of years, her body finally becoming so shrunken, distorted and disfigured that she scarcely resembled a human being.

Part of her face, her fingers, toes and portions of her lower limbs had been eaten away by the ravages of the disease.

Allen Likely Beaten.
SEATTLE, Jan. 18.—The proceedings of the legislature for the past few days have been the sole topic of conversation, and yesterday was the third day of the deadlock over the election of a United States senator. Allen, the present senator, is believed to have reached his limit at fifty votes yesterday, and many think he will be defeated. It is said that the winner will be Judge George Turner, of Spokane, or a dark horse.

Assets Are Large.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 18.—The C. H. Meekel Stamp and Publishing company made an assignment today for the benefit of creditors. The assets are estimated at $150,000, consisting of the furniture and plant, with tools and machinery for publishing a magazine devoted to the stamp collecting interests, together with a stock of foreign stamps and albums.

A Theater Burned.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 18.—The Ninth street theater was burned at 4 o'clock this morning. The fire is supposed to have originated from an oil lamp. Loss about $20,000. Lorenzo Bros. Specialty company was playing an engagement at the theater and lost all their effects.

Cold at St. Louis.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 18.—Teams and wagons are now crossing the Mississippi river on the bridge formed of ice. The ice is so thick that it will support a team and wagon of several tons in weight. This is the first time in several years that teams could cross the river on ice.

To Move to Honduras.
TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Jan. 10.—The Louisiana state lottery has been granted a charter from this republic and will remove its business headquarters to the expiration of its present charter Jan. 1, 1904. The concession is a monopoly of the lottery business for the term of fifty years.

Hopeful For Blaine.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—After conversation with the family and friends of the family of James G. Blaine, says Senator Washburn, "I am led to hope and believe that Mr. Blaine will recover from his illness."

TO THE LADIES.

The Copeland System of Treatment Endorsed by a West Duluth Lady.

Catarrh is a very loathsome, disgusting disease, especially so to the ladies because of the unsightly appearance of a woman who is constantly hawking and spitting, and above all things who has a bad breath, so that she can only with great reluctance come in contact with her friends. There is no reason why ladies should suffer the humiliation of a fetid catarrh when there is an institution in the city of Duluth where such troubles are successfully treated. The Copeland system of treating catarrh is not expensive, unpleasant or painful in the least.

Among other ladies who give the treatment a heavy endorsement is Mrs. Wrayage, of West Duluth, who suffered from the many symptoms of catarrh. Her story is brief and to the point. There was a continual dropping in my throat, said she, I would have to hawk and spit a great deal. Suffered terribly from pains in the head. Had a bad taste in my mouth. The most disgusting symptom of all was the bad odor from my breath. My nose was constantly stopped up so I would have to breathe through my mouth. My eyes were weak and watery and they felt as though there was something covering them. I was troubled greatly with deafness and a buzzing noise in my ears.

After suffering for many years my trouble became so bad that I thought I must have something done for it and consulted the physicians of the Copeland Medical Institute and placed myself under their treatment and I am glad to say that the treatment did me so much good that I can heartily recommend it to others who suffer as I did.

DOES THIS CONCERN YOU?
Read this—Some of the Following Symptoms in Every Case of Catarrh.

Pain over the eyes or across the bridge of the nose.
An offensive discharge from the ears, with ringing or buzzing noises in the ears, impairing hearing.

Weak and watery eyes, with a constant tendency to sneeze.
An offensive discharge from the throat, or to concentrate thoughts on any subject, or irritability of bad temper, and a desire to be left alone.

A disordered stomach, irregular bowels, soreness or bloating after meals.
Coughing in the morning or after a warm meal, often attended with vomiting.

A tendency to take cold on the slightest provocation and without any apparent cause.
A choking feeling in the throat, which no effort appears to be able to remove.

Snoring at night and a dry, parched throat, with bad taste in the mouth in the morning.
Itching and dryness in the ears, with no secretion and a dullness of hearing.

An offensive discharge from the ears, a most frequent result of catarrh of the head.
Formation of hard lumps in the nose, and less to the user. This wine is absolutely pure and has the age without which no wine is fit to use. Be sure you get Royal Ruby, $1, in quart bottles only. Sold by F. F. Joyce, druggist.

A constant effort to clear the throat, generally unsuccessful, and causing great soreness.
A feeling of apprehension of evil and a general worry about one's condition and welfare.

Polyposis tumors, a result of catarrh, with dryness of the throat and a bronchial or asthmatic cough.
Hoarseness, the voice coming easily and with singleness, from huskiness, to sing.

Gradual loss of flesh and strength, though a usual amount of food has been eaten.
Rapid beating of the heart, often attended with shortness of breath; occurs at night or after meals.

Bad breath, repulsive to the patient and those about him, although the former may not be aware of it owing to inability of smell.
Shooting pains through the chest, showing that catarrh is extending to the lungs and may cause serious mischief.

Secretions gathering in the back part of the nose and a constant drawing backward through the nose to get relief.
Drs. Copeland, Hunt & Drenning furnish all medicines free and their charges are so low as to be within the reach of all.

It is our earnest desire to impress upon the minds of the public the superiority of the service offered by the Wisconsin Central lines to Milwaukee, Chicago and all points East and South. Two fast trains leave St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth daily, equipped with Pullman vestibuled drawing room, dining cars and coaches of the latest design. Its dining car service is unsurpassed, which accounts to a great degree for the popularity of this line. The Wisconsin Central lines, in connection with Northern Pacific railroad, is the only line from Pacific coast points over which both Pullman vestibuled, first-class and Pullman tourist cars are operated via St. Paul without change to Chicago.

The Weather.

D. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, Minn.,
Jan. 18.—Light snow is falling at scattered places over the eastern part of the country, but in the Northwest it is generally fair and clear.
The temperature is rising somewhat except over North Dakota and Minnesota where it still remains low. The coldest place this morning is Minneapolis, 11 below. Below zero at several stations in the lower Mississippi valley.
The stations reporting zero and below are: Fort Arthur and La Crosse, zero; Duluth, 2 below;
Bismarck, 2; St. Paul, 4; Winnipeg, 12; St. Louis, 12; Hann, 7, and Pierre, 5. Those above are: Detroit, 15; Chicago, 15; Milwaukee, 16;
Cleveland, 19; Memphis, 20; Knoxville, 16; Des Moines, 2; Denver, 18; Helena, 10; Calgary, 25;
and Kansas City, 20.
The highest temperature here yesterday was 30, the lowest last night 2 below zero.

DULUTH, Jan. 18.—Continued fair, slight change in temperature, west to east.

New Jobbing Houses.

The growth of Duluth's wholesale interests is one of the most gratifying signs of the times. The announcement that arrangements have been perfected for the addition of two new lines this year is of the highest importance, because one of the great weaknesses of the present situation is that all lines of wholesale trade are not represented here. This defect is being rapidly remedied, however, and soon Duluth will be able to rank with any other city in the West in the completeness of its wholesale and jobbing establishments. The latest additions to the lines represented here are drugs and crockery, and it is definitely settled that the two new houses will be ready for active business shortly after the opening of navigation.

One of the important features connected with the accession of these establishments which will do so much to build up Duluth as a jobbing center is that they are not brought here as the result of any bonus being offered. They are started by business men who appreciate the superior advantages of Duluth for transacting a jobbing business and are ready to invest their money in a legiti-mate business enterprise that promises good returns on the ample capital that will be employed.

The splendid business transacted by the jobbing houses in other lines already located here gives full promise that their expectations will be realized. The showing made by the Duluth "Boot & Shoe" company at its annual meeting yesterday must open the eyes of jobbers and manufacturers in other cities to the great opportunities that are here presented.
The company's business during the year exceeded all previous estimates, with the result that a 7 per cent dividend was declared and a considerable sum added to the surplus, while it was decided to speedily double the capacity of the shoe factory, the demand now being greater than the output.

The record of the Duluth Dry Goods company, started about the same time as the shoe company, is one of equal if not greater prosperity. Its business has reached very large proportions, and its representatives are found all over the Northwest. The other wholesale houses here, the Stone-Ordan grocery house,
the Wells-Stone Mercantile company and many others have also had a year of greatly increased business, and are preparing to branch out extensively during the coming twelve months.

Values Are Increasing.

The annual report of Labor Commissioner Powers contains some statistics of great interest, as showing the growth of the state of Minnesota in material wealth. The calamity howlers have been asserting that the state of the farmers was deplorable, and that they are being ground into poverty by the existing conditions. According to the labor commissioner's report, farm land values in Minnesota are increasing instead of being on the decline, while the assessed valuations are decreasing; consequently the farming population has increased in wealth during the past decade.

Mr. Powers has compiled tables showing that in 1881 there were 13,584 transfers of these lands, covering 1,492,072 acres, and aggregating $14,857,687, an average of $9.96 per acre. In 1891 there were 20,031 transfers, conveying 2,261,173 acres, for $20,637,250, an average of $9.12 per acre. The average assessed valuation of farm lands and extra-urban lands in 1881 was $7.51 and in 1891
$6.07, a decrease of 7 per cent.

By the death of ex-President Hayes,
one of the most notable men in the country's history has been removed from life. Opinions by the present generation regarding Rutherford B. Hayes will differ, but one thing is certain, he has been grossly misjudged by many. His record in the army, where he rose to a major-generalship, was brilliant, and his political career in Ohio until he stepped into the presidency was one of great success. Nowhere was he more truly loved than in Fremont, his old home.

Congressman-Elect Baldwin.

The St. Cloud Journal Press, which has never recovered from its disappointment at the defeat of Judge Searle for congress, and neglects no opportunity to indulge in a sneer at Duluth and the Duluth man who was preferred by the people of the Sixth district to the St.
Cloud judge, says in a recent issue:
"One by one are our idols shattered.
Ruth Kimball, the fair correspondent of the Globe, says that Congressman Baldwin acquired his title of 'major' in superintending a Kansas railroad."

The Journal Press knew full well that the above statement was absolutely false, but its propensity to sneer at Congressman-elect Baldwin was too strong to be resisted. The "fair correspondent" of the Globe is manifestly unfair, but space writers of her class never stick very closely to facts when it is necessary to let them alone in order to increase the "string."

The facts about Congressman Baldwin's claim to the title of major are well known to his friends in Duluth and all over the country because he was a gallant member of the famous "Iron Brigade" and served four years in that command. Enlisting as a private, he won his way to the front by bravery and ability, being honorably discharged from the rank of major. He was wounded slightly at the first battle of Bull Run and was seriously wounded at the second battle. Captured at the battle of Gettysburg, he escaped, but was recaptured and confined in Libby prison, where he was one of the 200 who drew tickets in the "lottery of death." He was also one of the officers confined at Charleston, S.
C., under fire of Union batteries in retaliation for Confederate officers said to be under fire at Fortress Monroe. Later he escaped from Columbia prison and was recaptured when within hearing of Sherman's guns at Savannah.

Since his election to congress, Maj.
Baldwin has been in Washington familizing himself with the duties which he will be called upon to perform at an early date, and reports from the capital
state that he has made an excellent impression on the leading men in and out of congress. The Washington correspondent of the Minneapolis Journal
said in a recent dispatch to his paper:
"From present indications Maj. Baldwin, the Democratic congressman-elect from the Sixth Minnesota district, is going to be a prominent figure in the Democratic house during the Fifty-third congress. He has given evidence of more than usual ability since his arrival in Washington last fall. Maj. Baldwin has a great knack of making friends, not only of men who will be his colleagues, but with other prominent officials in the Capital city, that will be able to do him
a great deal of good when he has to ask favors, as he will do when he becomes a full-fledged congressman."

British Rule in Egypt.

The khedive of Egypt selected a new ministry the other day, the premier being a pasha who was not considered very friendly to the British government from which still retains a protectorate over the Egyptian provinces. The British minister at Cairo was at once notified by his government to demand that the young khedive dismiss the new ministry and refrain from selecting one that did not meet the wishes of the British authorities.

The khedive demurred at this request,
but when England presented him with an ultimatum to make the change within twenty-four hours or bear the risk of crossing the will of the British lion he promptly capitulated. The premier was instantly removed and another pasha of pronounced English sympathies was elevated to the position. This is, in brief, the story told in the dispatches today.

It shows very clearly that the Gladstone government does not propose to abandon the policy which has been pursued with relation to the Egyptian question, and the French hope of the British evacuation of the land of the Pharaohs is but an empty dream that is not likely to be realized very soon, if ever. The British troops seem to be in Egypt to stay, and while the government of that country will continue to be vested nominally in the khedive and his native advisers, the real power will be exercised by the British representative at Cairo.

It is gratifying to learn from the president of the Duluth & Winnipeg road that the company has enough funds to pay all its debts and push the road to completion next spring. Neither have the gentlemen who have been struggling with the enterprise for years been obliged to part with its control, in order to get the necessary funds. Duluth needs an independent road to the West and the Duluth & Winnipeg will furnish it.

Senator Washburn believes, from information he has received, that Mr.
Blaine will recover. The nation will trust that this opinion may prove correct.

In referring to the Boggs' bill repealing the law making county offices salaried offices, The Herald erroneously referred to the clerk of the district court receiving a salary now. The law does not take effect in this case, until the term of the present incumbent, Mr.

Sinclair, expires. Mr. Sinclair had nothing to do with the introduction of the repeal bill and is personally unconcerned whether it is passed or defeated.

Senator Daugherty was very instrumental in securing the passage of the law by the legislature two years ago, making the county offices in St. Louis county salaried offices, and The Herald
does not believe that he will now stultify himself by working for the passage of the Boggs' "woodchuck" repealing that law.

A Chicago lady has written to one of the city papers inquiring how she is going to ride a bicycle when hoop skirts become the general fashion, as is now threatened.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Alvin Joslin."

Charles L. Davis, after one year of retirement from the stage, has consented at the earnest demand of the public and theatrical managers, to play a special engagement of ten weeks in his old play of "Alvin Joslin," which has made him name a household word from one end of the country to the other, playing only the principal cities, and this has been selected by Mr. Davis as one of his favorites. He will appear at the Lyceum Friday and Saturday.

The whole entertainment will be on a grand scale, similar to that of the Alvin Joslin, Pittsburgh, Pa., the ac-knowledgeed handsomest theater in the world, of which Mr. Davis is owner and manager, and where he has given his personal attention to getting up the scenery and properties which have been prepared with special care as to detail.
Mr. Davis can always be relied on as certain to draw large houses. His peculiar style of comedy seems to be just what the public wants, and his success has been phenomenal. The company has met with praise, and the play has been remodeled in such a plan as to leave nothing lacking that may contribute to its powers of amusement. Mr.
Davis carries all the special scenery used in the play, and his hundred-thousand dollar collection of diamonds will be worn in the last act.

The Great Remedy.

The following is from the Minneapolis
Journal concerning the great violinist who visits us at the Temple, Jan. 23:
"Edmond Reményi, the violinist, completely upset the dignity of one of those cold, conservative Minneapolis audiences which assembled at the Lyceum theater last night. He revealed to us certainly not over a sublime artist, for Reményi is not that, but over a great and graceful violinist, and Reményi is that. He plays and you respond. Why?
Because he conjures with that magic instrument. He makes it give forth music that fascinates and charms. He reveals in it, too, and so the sympathy between him and his hearers is developed into positive affection before the evening is gone."

A queer little man is this Reményi.
His face is a character study. His figure is unique. He is a comedian—musical to a high degree, but nevertheless a comedian. When he walked out on the stage for the first time last night, the audience beheld a modest little man with sloping shoulders, short legs, a bald head and a clean shaven face. His violin was tucked under his right arm, while he held a handkerchief in his left hand. He bowed several times and then stepped over to the piano and tuned up.
The sale of seats commences on Friday, Jan. 20.

Auction.

Twenty-nine big horses and mares, weight from 1400 pounds upwards, from 5 to 7 years old, will be sold at auction
Monday, Jan. 23, 1893, at H. C. Kendall's barn, 125, 3rd street, west of First

JEWELS FOR JEWELS

Of course, and why not? In the natural order of things
nothing else is to be expected.
Our stock of jewels contains what are jewels with a large J. It's the season now when the belle of the ball weaves
her spells, and the beauty instinctively seeks the reinforcement of art. When it comes to jewelry we are floating down in the stream of fashion,
and are nothing if not correct.
Our stock wasn't purchased to keep. Sufficient unto the season is the stock thereof. In our case "Sell" is the order of business, and sell we will.

A VERY NERVOUS MARKET.

Wheat Opened Lower Today and Fluctuated Widely.

The wheat market here today was dull, irregular and fluctuating. The report that the anti-option bill would pass this afternoon unsettled
the market, which was very nervous, ranging up to noon from 1/4c above to 3/4c below the opening prices on the May deal. The evening was easy with sellers at 1/4c below yesterday. The market after noon was very dull and the close was firm and steady at 1/4c down all round. Following were closing prices:

No. 1 hard, each, 20 1/2c; January, 20 1/2c;
May, 20 1/2c; No. 1 northern, each, 19 1/2c; January, 19 1/2c; May, 19 1/2c; No. 2 northern, each,

VERY GROSS NEGLECT

The School Authorities Indignant at a Flagrant Case of Neglect Which Might Result Seriously.

Children From a Home Where Diphtheria Was Raging Permitted to Attend the Jackson School.

Parents Claim They Did Not Know It Was Diphtheria and Health Board Has an Excuse.

There was much excitement around educational headquarters at the High school this morning. A most flagrant and unprecedented case of neglect in connection with contagious diseases had come to the notice of President Richardson and Superintendent Denfeld and their indignation over all the circumstances connected therewith was of the righteous brand and make.

Last Monday morning a child died in a family named Albion residing at Third avenue west and Fourth street. A brother of the deceased kept up his attendance in the Jackson school both before and after the death. In fact, the teacher was not aware of the death and the disease causing it until yesterday and then her knowledge was received from some of the children in her room who ventured the information that a quarantine card was tacked up on the Albion residence.

The infected member of the Albion family was at once sent home lying. A visit was made to the house of his parents and when they were upbraided for their carelessness, claimed that their physician, Dr. Hill, had said nothing about diphtheria, not even informing them that their child had died from that disease and that the first they knew it was diphtheria was when the board of health tacked up a card on their house. Last evening, about 5 o'clock, the teacher of that room received a notice from the board of health. When that institution was brought to task for a dilatory performance of its duties, the officers in charge laid all delay onto the postoffice, saying that a notice had been promptly mailed.

President Richardson was very indignant at the idea of things being allowed to run so loosely by someone—parents, physician or board of health, the spot to lay the blame not yet being very certain, that thirty or forty children should be fully and continuously exposed to infection from a most dangerous contagious disease. This too, is in the face of all that has from time to time been printed in the papers concerning the strict regulations issued by Superintendent Denfeld to govern such cases. He stated that the school authorities never before have had quite so bad a case calling for their attention.

WILL DOUBLE ITS CAPACITY.
The Duluth Boot and Shoe Company Needs a Larger Factory.

The annual meeting of the Duluth Boot and Shoe company was held yesterday afternoon and the following board of directors elected: Robert Fitzgerald, G. G. Hartley, Joseph Sellwood, John A. Willard, A. R. McFarlane, A. M. Miller, L. Mendenhall. The directors elected the following officers: President, Robert Fitzgerald; treasurer, Joseph Sellwood; secretary, L. Mendenhall. The record of the year's business was very gratifying. During the six months of 1891 which remained after the company was able to begin operations, a fair profit was declared as a stock dividend at the close of the year. During 1892 the sales were $53,000 in excess of the estimate made by Manager Fitzgerald at the meeting of the directors a year ago. At yesterday's meeting a cash dividend of 7 per cent was declared and the remainder was carried to the surplus. During the year the company paid out to employees between $50,000 and $75,000.

It was decided to double the capacity of the shoe factory this year, as the demand for the specialties manufactured exceeds the output.

TWO NEW JOBBING HOUSES.
Drugs and Crockery to be Added to Duluth's Jobbing Trade.

Negotiations were definitely closed late yesterday afternoon whereby Duluth secures two new jobbing houses—drugs and crockery. C. H. Sagar, of the C. H. Sagar company, wholesale druggists and manufacturing chemists, of Auburn, N. Y., and F. A. Parker, of Parker & Gillespie, wholesale dealers in crockery and glassware in the same city, have been looking over Duluth and Superior with a view to locating in one of the two cities in their respective lines of trade, and yesterday decided to locate here. They receive no bonus and furnish nearly all the capital, although a fair amount of stock was subscribed here. Building for the two new establishments will be erected at once. To the committee of the jobbers' union belongs the credit of conducting the negotiations which led to this excellent result.

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE.
It Will Take Action on the Boggs Woodchuck Tomorrow.

There will be a meeting of the directors of the real estate exchange tomorrow afternoon to take action on the bill introduced in the lower house of the legislature by Mr. Boggs, re-establishing the fee system in county offices. A committee on valuation will also be appointed. The following persons have recently been elected to memberships of the exchange: R. M. Hunter, Richardson, Day & Co., George Tvedt, Ray T. Lewis & Son, U. S. G. Sharp, Wm. Getty, John D. Getty, John D. Boyd, J. L. McLaughlin and Geo. S. Brower.

Invitations have been printed for the annual banquet of the exchange to be held January 21. They are very neat and appropriate. Those to be sent out of town to guests, aside from the invitation, have a list of the exchange directors, a steel engraving of the Central high school and other attractive features. The invitations to be used locally have on one side a hemisphere showing the continents of North and South America. Duluth is the only city designated on the map, showing that the exchange members sell the earth.

WEST DULUTH HAPPENINGS.

The Wife of Village Engineer Krey Died This Morning.

Mrs. Margaret Krey, wife of Village Engineer Krey, died this morning about 8 o'clock of pneumonia, after a painful illness of three weeks. The deceased was 31 years old and leaves a family of three little girls, the eldest but 6 years of age. The bereaved husband and motherless children have the most heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their deep affliction. The deceased was born across the water and died far away from her old home with none but her immediate family around her. The funeral will take place at the residence tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock and the burial will take place at the West Duluth cemetery.

West Duluth Briefs.

The pile driving has been completed at the new shipyard and the buildings are now being erected for the machinery.

THE MISSABE ORE DOCKS.
Change of Location Due to Property Owners.

The item in yesterday's Herald about the change of location of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern dock's from Erie pier to a more favorable site in Marine division occasioned genuine surprise. The same people who have blocked several other enterprises in that vicinity by their extortionate demands for right-of-way and other concessions are responsible for the change, and the new site will enable the dock's owners to save nearly $75,000 on cost of right-of-way alone.

C. C. Merritt says: "We have other advantages in the new site besides the saving in what we shall have to pay out for right of way. Our dredging of approaches at Marine division will be nearly so expensive as at the other site. We have everything we want now and we will push matters to the utmost. Work commences immediately."

Taken to St. Paul.
United States Deputy Marshal Warren, of White Earth, took the Chinaman Ah Yuk to St. Paul last night where he will have his hearing before Judge Edgerton today to determine whether Chinese Inspector Munn has the power to arrest and hold or to deport him. The hearing is on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by the celestial's attorneys, Tinkham & Tinkham and J. H. Potter.

Increased Its Capital.
The Duluth Dry Goods company held its annual meeting this afternoon. The same directors and officers were elected and the capital stock was authorized to be increased to $200,000. The net earnings were fully up to and in some instances exceeded estimates. The company is very much pleased at the showing made.

Cockrell Re-elected.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 18.—The legislature in joint session today re-elected Francis Marion Cockrell United States senator by the following vote: Senate—Cockrell, 23; Chauncey I. Filley, 6. House—Cockrell, 86; Filley, 43. Total vote—Cockrell, 109; Filley, 49.

Pooling Clause Rejected.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The senate interstate commerce has by a vote of six to five finally rejected the railroad pooling provision in the Culbion bill and will report the bill as thus amended.

MAKING QUEER MONEY

Two Counterfeiters Were Arrested in Superior This Morning and Their Complete Outfit Was Captured.

They Were Turning Out Dollars, Halves, Quarters and Dimes of a Very Deceiving Appearance.

Chief Simons and Detective Earnshaw Are Entitled to Great Praise for Effecting the Arrests.

The air of Superior is again thick with counterfeiting and counterfeiters' exploits. For three weeks past the city detective force has been quietly watching the operations of two noted coin makers and so successfully did they work the case that this morning, ere the sun had appeared upon the eastern horizon, Chief Simons and Capt. A. G. Earnshaw had their sleeping partner in crime surprised and capturing the pair and their paraphernalia.

They are now behind the bars in the Superior lockup, and from the long chain of evidence that has been shrewdly worked up against them the two brothers in sin will not enjoy their freedom for many a day, and in the case of one of them perhaps not until the hand of providence has beckoned him to another and a better world. The names of the two prisoners are C. A. Mack and Thomas Patterson.

The former is a man of 60 years, and as far as known is not a married man. Letters in his possession indicate that he is a musician of some ability, especially in piano playing. The second is a young man of 27 years, and apparently a shrewd fellow, and since he has been in the city has operated behind a "crap" table over the saloon at 309 Tower avenue. The counterfeiters had their sleeping room on the top floor of the same building and where they coined their spurious money.

They have only been in Superior three weeks, but their every movement has been watched since they landed there and nearly every piece of coin turned out by them has been picked up by the detectives.

Mack was the genius in the combination, and from the specimens of his work was evident that he was in the art. Patterson was the "shover" of the stuff.

Their apparatus for the manufacture of the money, when not what might be called a first class outfit, was nevertheless pretty complete and turned out excellent work. The crucibles, absent, but instead a galvanic cell made was used for the reduction of the metal.

The denominations of the coins made were dollars, halves and dimes, and for each of which they had finely made molds of plaster paris, hardened with marshmallow root.

Most of the money found in the room of the counterfeiters' apartments, had not yet been plated. They had already sent an order to Queen City Silver and Nickel Plating company, of 13 North Main street, East St. Louis, Mo. But even without the plating the coins were deceptive and if they had been complete few could have detected them, without first being informed of their character. The material used was box tin and lead. These two metals assimilate easily and give a good ring to the product, but of course are light.

Thomas I. Porter, of Chicago, a commissioned operative in the United States secret service, came to Superior to witness the arrest of the two counterfeiters. He took them to Madison with him today. Mr. Porter said that Chief Simons and Capt. A. G. Earnshaw are deserving of the highest credit for the care and the diligence they displayed in working up the case and finally "pinching" the men. He further said that the present individuals had no connection with McLane, and that he had never seen or heard of the parties before. He believed, however, that Mack is an old timer, judging by his age, appearance and excellence of his work.

United States district attorney, J. Harper, is also in Superior in connection with the case and will make a motion before Judge Fridley this afternoon to have the prisoners handed over to the United States authorities. If granted they will be taken to Madison this afternoon.

Mack and Patterson evidently knew the police officers well and tried to watch them, for when Capt. Earnshaw knocked at the bedroom door this morning, the counterfeiters, who were in bed, called out: "Hello, Earnshaw; I didn't think it was you."

"No," replied the detective, "it was my intention that you should know."

CARNEGIE RETURNING HOME.

May Now Have a Chance to Show His Philanthropic Spirit.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—Andrew Carnegie will arrive in New York today from Europe and will probably be in this city during next week. It is now nearly a year since the great steel manufacturer was in this country.

On reaching New York Mr. Carnegie's time will be taken up for a few days with his business affairs in that city. His stay in this city will be of several days' duration, and during that time he will visit the Homestead, Duquesne and Braddock steel plants.

It is reported that upon Mr. Carnegie's arrival in this city he will be called upon by representatives of workingmen in this section, who will request that the firm of which he is the head let up on further prosecution of all the late employees of the Homestead steel works charged with riot, conspiracy and similar offenses. In other words that the indictments against these persons be pigeon-holed.

The argument to be used in this position is that there is nothing to be gained either by the company or the Carnegie company in pushing these cases. The works are now in operation, and there is not much likelihood of the same state of affairs ever again prevailing there, as the lesson taught has been a lasting one to those employees who took part in the strike.

What effect this may have remains to be seen. There are those who believe that Mr. Carnegie will refuse to interfere in any way, while others think he will make it an opportunity for displaying his philanthropic spirit.

A ROMAN BANK IN TROUBLE.
Deficiency of Three Million Francs Said to Exist.

ROME, Jan. 18.—A deficiency of 3,000,000 francs is stated to exist in the Banco di Roma branch of the Banco Napoli. The cashier of the Rome branch has been arrested and a director has absconded. It is reported that the absconding director recently bought a ticket to the United States. Another rumor is to the effect that he has gone to Sicily.

Grave rumors are afloat regarding the Banco Romana, and the police have the streets under surveillance for fear they will run away. The Banco Romana has recently been conducting negotiations with the Banco Nazionale, and there is a consensus of opinion that the only hope of salvation for the Romana is in a coalition with the Nazionale.

Financiers are much excited and there is also much excitement among depositors, many of whom will be ruined in the event of serious disaster to the Banco Romana.

Advices from Sicily state that, although the vigorous efforts of the government have succeeded to a large extent in suppressing the brigandage, the brigands who have been driven into hiding are beginning to show themselves, and the authorities are organizing measures for their suppression.

DR. ADAMS INAUGURATED.
The New President of the University of Michigan.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 18.—Charles Kendall Adams, D. D., was yesterday afternoon formally inaugurated as president of the university of Wisconsin. A large crowd was present from all points of the state, including delegations from alumni from Chicago and other cities.

The program of the exercises consisted of an invocation by Bishop Samuel J. Ellsworth, D. D., LL. D., of Chicago; an address on behalf of the faculty by Prof. John C. Freeman, LL. D.; an address on behalf of the students by H. H. Jacobs, class of '93; an address on behalf of the alumni by James L. High, LL. D., of Chicago; an address on behalf of other universities by James B. Angell, LL. D., president of the university of Michigan; an address on behalf of the commonwealth by Governor Peck; an address on behalf of the regents by Hon. John Johnston, Milwaukee, and the inaugural address of President Adams.

Injunction Granted.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 18.—Judge Thayer, of the United States circuit court, has granted a temporary restraining order forbidding the Columbia Incandescent Lamp company of St. Louis from manufacturing or selling incandescent lamps until Feb. 1, and commanding its officers to appear before him on that date and show cause why a permanent injunction should not be issued against them. The suit was filed by the Edison General Electric Light company of New York and is similar to that filed against electric lamp manufacturers in other states.

They Demanded Work.
CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 18.—Two hundred and fifty workmen arrived here from Ghent yesterday having walked the entire distance, thirty-one miles. They were joined by hundreds of idle workmen of Brussels and paraded the streets, chanting revolutionary songs. They called upon the minister of public works, and demanded work so they could keep their families from starving. The minister promised to furnish employment for a large number of men soon.

Against Washburn's Bill.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The national board of trade unanimously passed a resolution declaring that the best interests of the country demanded the defeat of the anti-option bill.

THE ANTI-OPTION BILL.
No Vote on Its Passage Likely Until Next Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—There will be no vote on the anti-option bill today. The present program is for the senate to adjourn immediately after reading the journal, as a mark of respect to the memory of ex-President Hayes.

Although no positive agreement has yet been reached it is possible that the vote on the bill will not be taken before Tuesday of next week. Several senators have signified a desire to make speeches, and Mr. Washburn is disposed to let them do so, upon the understanding that the final vote will then be taken without further opposition.

IT CAUSED A SHOCK.
The Death of ex-President Hayes Shocked Officials in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Coming so soon after the sudden death of Gen. Butler and the sad ending of Senator Kenna, the demise of ex-President Hayes created something of a shock to people in official life here and many incidents are recalled of the last visit of the ex-president to Washington in September during the annual encampment of the G. A. R.

In the parade that was intended as a historic representation of the grand review of 1865, Gen. Hayes and Gen. Butler were the heroes of the spectators, which Wm. O'Brien was elected in July. Davitt's election is certain.

Murphy Declared Elected.
ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 18.—The members of the two houses of the legislature met in joint session in the assembly chamber at noon today. The vote in each house yesterday was read, and as a result Edward Murphy, Jr., was declared elected United States senator to succeed Hon. Frank Hiscok.

Flags are flying at half mast today on all public buildings. President Harrison received news of his predecessor's death this morning. President Harrison will not attend the funeral of Mr. Hayes, but he will probably send a representative to Fremont.

The Kansas Deadlock.
TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 18.—At 9 o'clock this morning the fifteen Republicans, one Populist and one Democratic senator met in joint session with the Republican house to ballot for state printer. The Republicans voted for George W. Crane, but as no candidate could receive a constitutional majority there was no election and the session adjourned until 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Davitt Will Run.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—Michael Davitt has consented to stand as a candidate for Northern Cork, one of the seats to which Wm. O'Brien was elected in July. Davitt's election is certain.

PASSED QUIETLY OFF

Ex-President Hayes Died at His Home in Fremont From Rheumatism of the Heart.

The Sad Event Occurred Last Night After a Day of Encouragement to His Friends.

Sketch of the Life of the Distinguished General Who Was Once Chosen as President.

FREMONT, Ohio, Jan. 18.—Ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes died at 11 o'clock last night. Early in the evening an inquiry elicited the response that the general had passed a fairly well day and was resting nicely. The change from better to worse was rapid and at 11 o'clock the distinguished ex-president passed away. Ex-President Hayes was brought here last Saturday suffering from an attack of rheumatism of the heart with which he had been stricken in Cleveland.

Rutherford Birchard Hayes was born in Delaware, Ohio, Oct. 4, 1822. He was a descendant in the sixth generation of George Hayes, who left Scotland in 1684 and settled at Windsor, Conn. He was graduated from Kenyon college in 1842 and subsequently spent two years at the law school in Cambridge, Mass. In 1845 he was admitted to the bar at Marietta, Ohio, and commenced the practice at Fremont in 1849. He removed to Cincinnati and soon had a very remunerative practice.

In 1861 he abandoned the practice of his profession and entered the army as a major of the Twenty-third Ohio volunteers. For his gallant service at the battle of Winchester he was brevetted major general. Mr. Hayes was severe and made him very popular in Ohio, and while still in the army, he was elected to congress from the Second district, but refused to take his seat until he was discharged. He was re-elected in 1866 and had served one term when he was elected governor of Ohio.

He was elected for the third time in 1875 and while occupying this place was nominated by the Republican party in 1876 as its candidate for president of the United States. The contest was severe and close and after the election disputes arose as to the electoral votes of several states. The dispute was finally referred to a commission composed of five senators, five representatives and five judges of the supreme court of the United States.

The commission decided by a vote of 8 to 7 that the electoral votes should be given to Hayes, and he was thereby elected by a majority of one vote. Tilden. He was inaugurated March 4, 1877. After serving one term he retired from public life and has since lived at Fremont.

An immediate friend of the family gave a complete description of the scenes attendant upon Gen. Hayes' last hour. Early in the evening the condition of the ex-president was quite favorable to a good night and with that assurance the family, worn out from their continued watching, retired early to rest. It was only for a short time that they were hastily aroused and called to the bedside of the dying father. The death of President Hayes has caused universal sorrow in this city where he was known and admired by everyone. His death has been a great bereavement from public affairs, was plain and unostentatious. Spiegel Grove was the center of social gaiety for young people until the death of Gen. Hayes and two years ago. Death came quietly and easily. The family, who had been hastily aroused, were at the bedside.

Two sons, Birchard and Scott, were sent from the city but they arrived home today. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon and the general will be laid to rest by the side of his wife in the Fremont cemetery.

BAD STRIKE IN INDIANA.

The Switchmen on the Lake Erie System at Munice Still Out.

MUNICE, Ind., Jan. 18.—The yard switchmen's strike on the Lake Erie system at this point is getting worse. Every iron and steel plant in the city is now closed, with more than 1000 men out of work. Superintendent Hill arrived yesterday morning bringing twenty men from St. Louis, accompanied by Thiel's detective agency men. The union succeeded in getting the men to leave town without going to work.

Assistant Superintendent Jarvis did some switching yesterday, but had to quit as the strikers would pull the pins. The police were unable to detect them. The conductors, engineers, switchmen and firemen on through freight will strike in sympathy, in case non-union men are put on. Attorney Hackborn arrived last night with injunction papers against all the strikers, prohibiting them from going on the company's property. The railroad officials refuse to talk of arbitration or recognize the men or their committees. Throble will ensue, should an attempt be made to take a train out.

CANNOT BEAR THE EXPENSE.

The Spanish Infanta Has Decided Not to Visit the World's Fair.

MADRID, Jan. 18.—The infanta Isabella has withdrawn her provisional promise to open the Chicago Columbian exposition. It has been learned from good authority that her chief reason for declining to visit the United States is that, as she did so, she would be obliged to visit also Cuba and Porto Rico, where yellow fever generally prevails. The infanta's dread of contracting this disease is notorious, and she would not willingly go to any place where she would run the risk of contracting it. This dread, it may be said, is common to all Spaniards.

Moreover, the expenses of a visit to the Spanish possessions in the West Indies, in addition to those that would be incurred in visiting the United States, would be a heavy drain upon the infant's civil list which is a moderate one. The infanta believes that the expense would be greater than she can bear.

A LYNCHING MAY RESULT.

A Woman Chained in a Deserted Barn by Her Husband.

RAINFORD, Va., Jan. 18.—The wife of A. W. Filley, who came here from Illinois recently, was found chained in a deserted barn near town yesterday. Filley had spread the story that the woman was insane and would soon be sent to an asylum. She proved to be perfectly sane.

It is surmised that Filley and a woman who posed as his housekeeper were trying to put Mrs. Filley out of the way. Filley is under arrest, and the jail is heavily guarded as there is danger of a lynching.

TWO FIREMEN WILL DIE.

Collision of an Engine and Street Car With Fatal Results.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 18.—While running to a fire last evening a hook and ladder truck was overturned and the engine and a street car collided, injuring a number of firemen, two of them fatally, as follows:

Jacob Beck, back broken, will die; John Welsh, skull fractured, will die; Joe Meyer, hip broken; William Bishman, "caught beneath engine and crushed; severe internal injuries; recovery doubtful.

Cholera in St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 18.—Monday night the health department of St. Paul received notification by wire of the death of Engelbert Hoog, a German, who died at the Soo train, then coming to this point from the East. The body arrived yesterday morning. Dr. Henry F. Hoyt, chairman of the board of health, and Dr. W. T. Whitcomb, coroner, sitting with other physicians, last evening pronounced the case of Hoog one of the genuine cholera, and so reported it to the state board of health.

Calumet Club Burned.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—The beautiful home of the Calumet club at Twentieth and Michigan avenue was totally destroyed by fire last night about 6 o'clock, and it is feared that one life was lost. It is estimated that the loss will reach $300,000, with $205,000 insurance.

A Minister's Fall.

ST. CLOUD, Jan. 18.—At Saak Rapids this district court is trying the sensational case in which Rev. C. L. Orbeck, the German Lutheran minister of that place, is charged with having committed adultery with the wife of Frederick Lust, of Buckman township, one of his parishioners.

GODEY'S EDITOR.

Albert Hardy, the Poet and Author.

He Has Suffered Many Months With Insomnia.

Helen Jackson Also Laid up in New York City.

Similar Cases Reported at State Capital.

Harman Henderer, of Albany, Now Permanently Cured.

NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 17.—Albert Hardy, the poet-author, whose "Maid of Bethany" commended him to Mr. Gladstone and Edward Everett Hale, has been appointed associate editor of Godey's Magazine, a position he will doubtless fill with great credit to this leading periodical.

Mr. Hardy has entirely recovered from his long siege of insomnia and nervous prostration, owing to the use of the wonderful remedy discovered by Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth college. Says Mr. Hardy: "After suffering for months with insomnia (sleeplessness) and nervous prostration, I was persuaded to try Paine's celery compound.

"Good fortune was mine after the use of one bottle and three practically cured me.

"Fully appreciating the benefits derived from the use of Paine's celery compound, I take pleasure in recommending it to others. It is not only valuable as a remedy, but delightfully pleasant as a compound.

The case of Helen Jackson, who now resides at 23 Lawrence street, is not unlike it. Both suffered from the result of an impaired nervous system, and both were speedily cured. Says Mrs. Jackson:

"My left shoulder and arm, my knee and the lower part of my right leg began to give stiff and painful. I could hardly walk. My doctor came and prescribed for me. Instead of getting better I got worse. I shifted from my shoulder down to my hand. That was so swollen I could not use it for some weeks. My leg remained the same. I hobbled around for one whole month before I gave up. That was in January. One afternoon in February I felt as though I would never get up again. I had three or four months of this kind of thing. I had had inflammatory rheumatism. I still had pain in my left arm, but my knee was a sight. That was so swollen and painful that I could not walk. I thought I would never get it straight again.

"With all the medicine I took, nothing seemed to help.

"During that time my sister recommended Paine's celery compound, and I began taking it at once. Slow but sure, it did its work. I felt the effect in two weeks' time. In two weeks more I began to walk with a cane. If you could see me now the way I walk about, you would never believe it was I who could not walk for two months. Paine's celery compound did it. I believe in it and recommend it to everybody.

"My husband also had terrible sharp pains all through his body which located in his left hip. He commenced at once taking Paine's celery compound and can prove the wonderful effect it had on him. The pains left him and he felt a different man altogether.

"From all over the state and particularly along the Hudson where it has been almost impossible to supply the demand for Paine's celery compound come the same kind of reports. Says Harman Henderer, of 213 Third street, Albany:

"It affords me pleasure to add my testimony to the value and efficacy of Paine's celery compound.

"During the six years between 1884 and 1890 I was a constant sufferer from acute rheumatism, for many days at a time being unable to leave my bed, and at all times suffering intense pain.

"I had tried every remedy suggested, without obtaining relief, and had about given up all hope of recovery, when, a little over a year ago, at the earnest solicitation of a friend, I began to use Paine's celery compound. From the time I began taking the compound, I began to obtain relief, and for the past nine months I have not lost a day from my business, and now consider myself permanently cured.

Paine's celery compound makes people well.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of two hundred and thirty dollars ($230), which became due on the first day of November, 1892, upon a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by Louis J. Tausig and Evelyn O. Tausig, his wife, mortgagees, to the Minnesota Loan and Trust company, mortgagee, bearing date the 15th day of February, A. D. 1890, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 20th day of December, A. D. 1890, at 8 o'clock p. m., in book 37 of mortgages, on page 37, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

And whereas there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable at the date of this notice the sum of twenty-two hundred fifteen and 45-100 dollars, including interest, and 20-100 of the sum of said mortgage, and whereas, the mortgagee has been unable to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: (1) the south half (1/2) of block forty-five (45), in the city of Duluth, St. Louis county, Minnesota, according to the recorded plat of said division, in St. Louis county and state of Minnesota, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes (if any) on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorneys' fees as stipulated in, and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, which sale will be made by the sheriff of said St. Louis county, at the front door of the court house in said county and state, on the 20th day of February, A. D. 1893, at 10 o'clock a. m., of said day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made, executed and delivered by Eva B. Strand, Eleanor M. Brown, Theodore Eastart, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, as mortgagees, to Edna Sears Johnson, of Duluth, Minnesota, mortgagee, bearing date the 28th day of November, A. D. 1890, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 13th day of December, 1890, at 5:30 o'clock in the forenoon, in book 13 of mortgages, on page 57, and which said mortgage was thereupon duly assigned to the said Edna Sears Johnson, to James B. Howard and Henry S. Johnson, as mortgagees, bearing date the 1st day of March, 1891, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 4th day of March, 1891, at 4 o'clock p. m., in book 74 of mortgages on page 23, and which said mortgage was thereupon assigned by the said James B. Howard and Henry S. Johnson, to the said Edna Sears Johnson, as mortgagee, bearing date the 1st day of April, 1891, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 20th day of April, 1891, at 10 o'clock p. m., in book 73 of mortgages on page 37.

And whereas said default consists in the non-payment of the principal sum of the said mortgage secured by said mortgage, on which said mortgage there is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice the sum of sixty-two hundred and seventy-eight dollars and seventy-two cents ($6278.72), principal and interest:

And whereas action or proceeding has been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof:

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described, to the highest bidder for cash, at the front door of the district court house, in the city of Duluth, St. Louis county, Minnesota, on Friday, the 3rd day of February, A. D. 1893, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, to satisfy the amount which shall then be due on said mortgage, with interest thereon, and the taxes, if any, and the costs and expenses of sale, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of foreclosure.

The premises described in said mortgage and so to be sold are the tracts and parcels of land lying and being in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, known and described as follows: Lot number seven (7) and eight (8) in block number one hundred and fifty-six (156) in the subdivision of Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof.

Dated December 30th, 1892.

THE BODY OF BEAUDRY

Remains of the South Shore Brakeman Were Found Today in the St. Louis Hotel's Ruins.

The Face Was Unrecognizable but the Remains Fully Identified by Articles on His Person.

It Will Take Several Days and a Large Force of Workmen to Complete the Search.

The body of Beaudry, the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway brakeman, who met his death in the St. Louis fire, was recovered from the ruins at 10 o'clock today. The remains were fully identified by articles on his person. One key had stamped on it the words, "Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway," and a tag bore the initials "H. B." A brother of the deceased said there was no doubt as to the identity.

The body was taken to Durkan's morgue where it has been viewed all day by a steady stream of morbid spectators. In the pockets of the unfortunate man were found several dollars in silver money. A portion of the clothing was intact, the necktie being one article of wear in good enough a condition to be easily distinguished. The flesh was all burned from the skull and the face was covered with a mixture of soot and blood which probably came from a hemorrhage caused by asphyxiation from the volumes of smoke that filled the room as he lay napping on his bed. The feet were considerably burned by the fire and the flesh had slipped off the bones from above the knees down. The arms and hands suffered in the same manner and the trunk of the body was done to a turn. The surface of the breast had cracked open like fat pork when it is roasted, and the whole corpse was a frightful appearing object.

Those who were present at the time of the discovery of the body say that it was almost recognizable, but since being exposed directly to the air, every part of the surface has turned a blacker hue. It is just possible that the absence of flesh from the members is due to the action of the air, as the body was in a bed of ashes, fully soaked with water.

The search through the ruins is being pushed as fast as the force of men employed will allow and that force is as large as can work to advantage in the space afforded. This afternoon nine men of various previous conditions of servitude were brought down from the county jail, where they are serving sentences, and set to digging in the ruins. It will take some days and a large force of workmen to complete the search.

By tonight the first wall running across the site of the building from Superior to Michigan street will be reached. A large crowd of idle spectators of all kinds, ladies frequently making up the number, stand by and watch the work. All relics from the ashes are greedily picked up and borne away as souvenirs.

ABOUT PIE!

We hear a great deal about big bargains in Eastern cities.

Why? Because the merchants there are right on the spot, and when these chances bob up they nail them quick and their customers get PIE. A few slices are now coming this way—and choice ones, too. Our Mr. Burrows, who is now in Chicago, found Kuh, Nathan & Fischer, who are moving into their handsome new building willing to close out a large quantity of ULSTERS at such low prices that he could not resist buying, and has just shipped us by express the entire lot and the consequence is our customers are going to get some rare bargains.

These Ulsters

Comprise Irish Freize and Chinchillas in light and dark greys and browns. Only two months ago they were in process of manufacture—so they are new. We have divided the lot into 4 very popular prices:

$8.50, $15.00
$12.00, $20.00

And such ULSTERS at such low prices were never seen in Duluth before.

IN THE LEGISLATURE.

The Committee on Reapportionment Which Was Announced Today Contains One of the Duluth Members.

Bill Introduced to Abolish Capital Punishment, and Several to Regulate the Conduct of Elections.

Never Were so Many Radical Measures Introduced so Early a Date as This Session.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 19.—[Special to The Herald.]—In the house today Acting Speaker Greer announced the following committee on reapportionment: Dunn, Green, Benner, Shall, Till, Boggs, Markham, Wilson, F. M. Roach, Powers, Horton, Anderson, Cairns, Peterson, Cole, T. Blecker and Rodger.

Bills were introduced by Mr. Bjorge abolishing capital punishment; by Mr. Blecker, regulating primary elections; by Josiah Gunn, repealing the drunkenness act of 1889; by Mr. Wack, making the number of voters allowed to cast ballots at one polling place 250, and another corrupt election practices bill.

A bill was introduced in the senate today which provides that one half of the money raised by liquor licenses be paid over to the county. Mr. McMillan introduced a bill extending the election penalties to all townships and village elections.

Mr. Stevens introduced a bill to legalize almost every improperly executed and filed deed and mortgage which can be imagined.

Stevens' resolution was unanimously carried calling upon the committee on judiciary of both houses to inquire into the decision of the United States supreme court, which declares states have a right to tax the property of corporations and report a bill for that purpose.

Senator Crandall's resolution was adopted calling upon the senate to explain why some railroads according to his report were taxed 1 per cent, some 2 per cent and others 3 per cent on gross earnings.

Senator Barr introduced a bill appropriating $50,000 for additional buildings for the normal school at Menomonie. The escape of Senator Davis yesterday from defeat was the narrowest in the history of Minnesota politics. The anti-Davis men saw up a shanty in the night which they thought would prove a sure winner. Tuesday in the vote in separate houses Mr. Davis received 87 votes in the house and 18 in the senate.

The anti-Davis men figured that this defection would defeat Davis, as it would bring his vote down to 51, one short of a majority. When the clerk of the house reached the name of Holler in calling the roll, however, the gentlemen who posed to be miles away in the country, stepped into the house and cast his vote for Davis, giving him 85 votes, just enough to elect him. Senator Dedon, formerly an Alliance man, also voted for Davis.

Among the Duluthians, who were interested spectators of the fight, were M. A. Hayes, W. W. Billson, Dr. Fred Barrett, R. S. Munger, Monroe Nichols, A. J. Miller and Amos Sheppard. The comparative quiet here last night was a great relief to all the politicians. The opponents of Senator Davis have made themselves very scarce in this vicinity. They have vanished like the mist or folded their tents like the Arabs and silently stolen away. J. B. Cotton received a long congratulatory telegram on his speech nominating Senator Davis, which was signed by the county officers of St. Louis county.

The various committees of the legislature have now been fairly organized and are getting down to work. The election committee of the house has several contests before it, but as far as can be learned at this writing there does not appear to be sufficient merit in them to warrant the legislature in taking any decisive measures toward unseating the present incumbents. The temper of the members appears favorable toward letting well enough alone.

The committees of both houses on municipal corporations are at work and have been inclined to do their work in a somewhat hurried manner. It would not be an unwise policy for Duluth to have a city councilman or an attorney here to look over the various bills proposed and point out to the Duluth delegation the points in the various bills which might not be for the best interests of Duluth, if they should become laws.

The railroad conductors are here in force endeavoring to lobby through their bill to tax or license ticket brokers. They have tackled a good many of the senators in the interests of their bill, and in some cases have not met with pronounced success. Old members of both houses state that they do not recollect the session of the legislature in which so many radical measures have been introduced at such an early date as there have been during the early fifties of this session. This has been largely due to radical remedies proposed in reports of state departments and by the issues of the late state campaign which thoroughly aroused the farmers and leads them to turn to legislation as the only panacea for all diseases.

Reference was made in yesterday's dispatches to a bill introduced by Senator Probstfield, providing for the erection of state elevators at Hamline and Duluth. Following is a more complete digest of the measure: It orders the establishment of two places for exhibits, wholesale markets and storage rooms for farm products of the state. The grounds of the State Agricultural society are fixed as one of these places, and a commission consisting of the president of the Farmers alliance, mayor of St. Paul, presidents of the State Agricultural and Horticultural societies, State Dairymen's association, mayors of Duluth and Minneapolis, the ex-president of Minnesota State Farmers alliance, Geo. W. Sprague, T. A. Barrett, E. H. Atwood and R. J. Hall, is created to locate the second place somewhere in St. Louis county on the shore of St. Louis bay or river where there is navigable water and where docks can be established.

The committee is authorized to procure necessary land and erect buildings, build spur tracks and terminal yards to and at both elevator sites and to commence work at once so that the buildings will be ready to receive grain on Sept. 1 of the present year. The bill requires that the Hamline elevator shall have a capacity of 1,000,000 bushels and the Duluth elevator 2,000,000; also facilities for weighing, clearing, etc., and separate bins for grain of one, carload or more. Other requirements are to provide buildings and sheds to carry out the provisions of the bill, which are stated as follows: To establish a produce exchange to aid in the development of the resources of the state and to aid buyers of produce the samples of our grain and produce manufacturers therefrom. To carry out these provisions the railroad and warehouse commission is authorized to institute condemnation proceedings, if necessary, for the building of sidetracks.

The exhibits, etc., at Hamline are to be in charge of the secretary of the State Agricultural society, under such regulations as may be made by the railroad commission and State Agricultural society. The weighmaster at Duluth is to have charge of the Duluth elevator and exhibit.

The board of railroad commissioners is required to fix the charges for space for exhibits, use of market places, handling of grain, etc., and such charges shall be based upon 4 per cent interest on capital invested by the state and 6 per cent for reimbursing the state for capital invested.

To carry out the purpose of the act $750,000 is appropriated for the purchase of the Duluth site and for building the elevators, docks, etc., $600,000 a year for the years 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896 and 1897 are appropriated. The salaries of necessary employees are to be fixed by the board of railroad and warehouse commission. All grain received at either of the elevators shall be inspected and a record of such inspection kept. Grain stored in the elevator shall be kept so that the farmer may sell by sample and get the identical grain delivered that is stored, provided that no person or corporation shall be permitted to have in store at any one time more than 15,000 bushels.

BORDERING ON ANARCHY.

Sacking of Houses and Outrages in the Argentine Republic.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The Herald's special cable from Valparaiso says: The situation of affairs in the Argentine republic of Corrientes borders on anarchy. The sacking of houses and outrages on men and women are of frequent occurrence. Both sides engage in the atrocities. One of the Governor's chiefs tore the clothes from the daughters of some of the revolutionary leaders and made them serve meat to his soldiers while naked.

The situation of affairs in Corrientes is giving the president much trouble. Owing to the energetic protests of Senator Anchorena, the president has issued a decree declaring the intervention constitutional. The Herald correspondent at Montevideo telegraphs that it is alleged that there will be a line of English steamers sailing monthly from New York to the west coast of South America.

The opposition and conservatives in the Chilean congress threaten to prolong the session until February. The heat in Santiago is intense. Admiral Gherardi and his staff were formally received by President Pena of Argentina yesterday. The Chilean chamber of deputies in secret session last night approved the Peruvian corporation agreement.

A DEADLOCK AT MADISON.

Wisconsin Democrats Unable to Agree on the Senate.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 19.—Everything points to a deadlock for a few days at least in the Wisconsin senatorial situation. The friends of Col. Knight met at noon today. All were present who voted for him and who are determined to support him. The friends of Briggs appear equally determined to stand by him and the prospect at noon today is good for a deadlock.

The Republican caucus will be held at 3 p. m., and if there is no change in the program will support John C. Spooner, who is supposed to be now here.

Judges Retired.

DOVER, Del., Jan. 19.—The assembly today passed a joint resolution retiring Chief Justice Comegys and Associate Justice Houston within fifteen days. This action is the outcome of a general demand from the legal fraternity and arose from the incompetency of the judges, who have become physically infirm and it is said mentally incapable through many years of honorable service.

Hanging in Arkansas.

HELENA, Ark., Jan. 19.—Nathan Ramsey, colored, was hanged in the jail yard at noon today. On Jan. 13, last year, Ramsey in company with several negroes murdered Prince Mallory, a negro neighbor. Mallory was called to his door and shot by Ramsey.

Mr. Blaine Stronger.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Dr. Johnston visited Mr. Blaine about 11 o'clock this morning and remained about half an hour. He said the patient had improved since yesterday and was a little stronger and brighter today.

THE SOCIALIST PLANS.

The French Socialists Making the Panama Scandal a Basis for Agitation and Predict a Triumph.

Ministry of Socialism Citizen Guesde
What They Want
Power

A Warrant Has Been Issued For the Extradition of the Socialists.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—The socialists continue to make the Panama scandal a basis for revolutionary agitation. Citizen Guesde says in an interview today that the Panama developments are advancing the hour of a socialist triumph. "The revelations," he declares, "bad as they are, have told our party nothing new. It has been long known that opportunist circles were tainted and falling to pieces through decomposition. The Panama affair is a great scandal, but all great banks and industrial enterprises are in much the same condition, only the turpitude is hidden more deeply. The Panama exposures will help to enlighten the country. Small agriculturalists, their eyes opened to the dishonesty of their deputies, will recognize that it is only our party that can promise something appreciable, while asking for nothing in return.

"In one sense the occasion has come when we have to fight for us, and we are in rather an unprepared condition. The socialist ranks are not fully equipped for the coming elections. If equipped for a personal policy, sufficing for the present hour, if we had money like the opportunists and reactionaries, we would be certain to secure a majority in the next chamber of deputies. Unfortunately we can contest only part of the electoral districts, but despite all disadvantages we shall return forty to sixty members from the rural districts and retain our hold on the towns, thus making a respectable minority, through which with the perfected organization we can attain victory within four years along the whole line. We are rather disappointed that the Panama developments may assist the reactionist coalition and that the rural districts, knowing us imperfectly, may at this time be likely to give their suffrages to syndicates hostile to the republic. Yet we are certain to have complete success in 1897.

"Once obtaining power, we shall endeavor to bring about a political and economic change, substituting social methods of production. Our hands in the name of the state on the great railway companies, the great industries and the warehouses. Under the social revolution, thus realized, the workers on railways and in factories shall work on state account. Salaries will immediately be raised and hours of labor lessened. We will deal similarly with great landed properties. We will seize all of them. The present proprietors of the farms will be used only as agents to collect revenues in behalf of the state. These changes will not touch small agriculturalists cultivating their own land.

Citizen Guesde further enlarged on the well-known program of the socialists. He has apparently changed his mind since he advocated the use of militant methods. "Why," he asks, "should we have recourse to violent means? Legality will suffice. At the present moment legal means are the only ones, the situation will prove. At the same time, however, we shall not repudiate violent means if we find them requisite.

The endeavors made in certain quarters to mix up anti-semitism with revolution are not approved of by the bulk of the revolutionary party. A correspondent questioned one of them yesterday and received the following answer: "We do not want to be bothered with Jews. What matters it with us whether they are Catholic or Protestant, Jew or Gentile, or nothing at all? We have only one enemy—capital. One would imagine on reading the Libre Parole, that the Jews were the only persons who oppress us and that there were no Jews among the victims of the bourgeoisie. Do you know the district which contains the most Jews? Is it the battle, which is crowded with Jewish workmen. Ah, they need not feel uneasy; we shall not interfere with them. They are comrades who were often out of employment and demand the eight-hour program like ourselves. Yes, our friend, M. Durmont, may be a clever writer and M. de Mores an eloquent orator but the Jewish question has nothing to do with our revolution, which is universal and includes all creeds and colors.

The revolutionists are already preparing for the May day demonstration which promises to be more imposing this year. The committee on organization, which was appointed last year, still exists and will shortly convene a meeting of all the delegates of the working corporations, for the purpose of electing another committee, whose task it will be to get up a movement "less pacific" than the last. What they mean is kept a secret.

A Warrant for Herz.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—A dispatch from Paris to the Echo states that a warrant has been issued by the French authorities for Cornelius Herz on grounds that will justify his immediate extradition. The same dispatches states that the commission sent by the czar to study the Panama situation is about to return.

New Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate today: Postmasters—Minnesota: Michael Huitas, Springfield; Peter A. Peterson, Carleton Falls; Grosvenor D. McCubrey, Barnesville.

THE MAFIA AGAIN AT WORK.

A St. Louis Italian Has Been Notified That He Must Die.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 19.—The dreaded Mafia is at work in this city and has threatened the life of one of its residents. Joseph G. Ghio, who conducts a fruit store on Oliver street near Eighth, is the victim marked, and according to the notices received, he is liable to be butchered at any moment.

Yesterday afternoon the following startling missive, written in red ink on mourning paper and inclosed in an envelope bearing the postoffice stamp of New Orleans, was received by him. "Joseph G. Ghio: A notice has come to us. You have not left the country. Now your time has come to suffer. This is your final notice. Suffer you must for your awful crime. Wherever you are buried we never let your body rest. It must be cut to pieces. (Signed) Il Giuramento La Mafia."

The letter has caused no little uneasiness for Ghio, as this is the second notice of the intention of the Mafia to remove him. In the same mail Joseph Zanone, a cousin of Ghio and owner of the fruit stand at the Union depot, also received a similar epistle, in which it was stated that Ghio had received his final warning.

Dominick Ginocchio, Italian consul to this city, also received a letter from the same source with similar warning and calling attention to the threat received by Ghio. The affair has caused great excitement among the Italian residents of this city.

SATOLLI NOT A NUNCIO.

His Appointment Has no Civil Bearing Whatever.

ROME, Jan. 19.—The decree appointing Monsignor Satolli papal delegate in the United States is officially stated to be purely ecclesiastical in its character and not intended to have any civil bearing whatever.

This statement is made in consequence of reports from the United States to the effect that the papal delegate would attempt to occupy a position similar to that of a nuncio.

The Vatican recognizes that a nuncio would not be received by the American republic, and no attempt will be made or is contemplated to obtain such official recognition. Mgr. Satolli will confine himself wholly to affairs of the Catholic church.

SIX PERSONS INJURED.

A Sleighing Party Run Into by an Electric Motor.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 19.—Last night while a sleighing party consisting of fifteen or twenty people was returning to town from Euclid, the sleigh was run into from the rear by an electric motor, throwing the occupants in all directions and injuring six persons seriously. The list is as follows:

Miss Aggie Gleason, Cedar avenue, head badly cut and injured internally in a frightful manner; Miss Davidson, arm badly bruised and severely shaken up; Miss Durstine, Scoville avenue, spine injured and partially paralyzed; Miss Hamblin, 67 Ashland avenue, collar bone broken. Three sisters taken home in an ambulance.

Those Grain Rates.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Chairman Midgley, of the Western Freight association, has sent out a call for a conference of the traffic officials of the roads interested in northwestern traffic to be held at St. Paul, Tuesday, Jan. 24. The object of the meeting is to decide what shall be done in view of the recent decision of the interstate commerce commission in the case of the Minneapolis millers against the Northern Pacific and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul roads.

High School Burned.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Jan. 19.—The high school building was destroyed by fire at 9 o'clock this morning. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $9,000. Yesterday morning the building caught fire from a defective flue, but the flames were extinguished with slight damage. This morning the destruction of the building occurred from the same defective flue.

Fatal Gas Explosion.

RICHMOND, Ind., Jan. 19.—The residence of Thomas C. Crabb was badly wrecked by a natural gas explosion last night. The family were asleep when the explosion took place. Mr. Crabb's mother was fatally injured. His wife and child were seriously and himself slightly injured. The cause of the explosion is not known.

To Attend Hayes' Funeral.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Jan. 19.—Mr. Cleveland was a passenger on the train leaving here at 7:40 this morning for New York. The president-elect is on his way to Fremont, O., to attend the funeral of ex-President Hayes. Mr. Cleveland will not return until Sunday night or early Monday morning.

Cholera in an Asylum.

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—The Halleische Zeitung says that since the outbreak of cholera in the Neuleben lunatic asylum twenty-eight persons have been stricken with the disease. Thirteen of those attacked have died. The paper adds that the disease is pronounced to be true Asiatic cholera.

Buried in One Grave.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 19.—Mrs. Samuel K. Langrell, of Denton, and her three children were buried in one grave yesterday. The mother and little ones were taken down with measles a week ago and all died Tuesday morning.

The Anti-Option Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The anti-option bill was taken up in the senate at 2 o'clock and Mr. Platt resumed his argument (begun last Thursday) in opposition to its unconstitutionality.

Lace Factory Burned.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Ilkerton lace factory, situated at Ilkerton, Derbyshire, was damaged by fire today to the extent of $200,000.

$20 Secures a Lot for a Home in the heart of the city.

THE building boom along the new electric line on the hill was never equalled in Duluth. More than ninety houses have been started in the Fifth and Sixth Divisions of DULUTH HEIGHTS within twenty days; new ones are starting every day. People begin to realize it is a nice thing to have a HOME in the heart of the city, convenient to their business. As a special inducement for the public to take advantage of our present low prices, we will reduce our cash payment to

$20 PER LOT

From Jan. 16th, to Feb. 1st,

After that we will advance our prices $25 per lot, and the cash payment will be as usual, $50 per lot. Our prices run from $175 to $350 per lot, and location and street railway facilities considered, it is the cheapest property ever sold in Duluth or any other city of its size in the Northwest.

TO PAY EVERY DOLLAR

President Boardman, of the Duluth & Winnipeg, Prepared to Pay all the Debts of the Road.

Mr. Munger Says the Suit by the Trust Company Was a Scheme to Injure Credit.

It Had the Opposite Effect, and the Road Has Now all the Money Necessary.

The Duluth & Winnipeg railroad party, among whom are General Manager Fisher and R. S. Munger, of both the railroad company and the North Star Construction company, have returned from New York. Mr. Fisher and H. J. Boardman, of Boston, who has been elected president of the company, and other directors are still in St. Paul, but will be in Duluth soon. Mr. Munger returned here last evening. Members of the party openly and boldly charge the Great Northern officials with having in the recent movements affecting the Duluth & Winnipeg deliberately plotted to capture that company by undermining its credit. Such was, they say, the plain intent of the late attachment proceedings in favor of the Minneapolis Loan and Trust company for over $600,000. They state that Mr. Fisher suspected the source from which some of the money was obtained by members of his company, viz., from the Merchants National bank.

The latter made the loan and then, they charge, transferred it to the Minneapolis company, which is closely allied to the Great Northern road. They say that the attachment proceedings were sprung at the moment when negotiations on other important matters in the East were pending, namely, the obtaining of money for extension of the line, and when it was most likely to embarrass the Duluth & Winnipeg company. But they state that the very opposite effect resulted. It is said that the capitalists who were negotiating to purchase the road, decided not to purchase, but went into an arrangement to let the Duluth & Winnipeg have the money needed in the strain it was in, and the result is that the Fisher party both stays in control, and has secured all the money needed.

This latter fact Mr. Munger states most positively, and that the cash for the trust company's claim is now on its way from the East. Mr. Munger further stated that the proceedings against the company were an outrage; that the creditor company was asked to make a draft for the amount of its claim, on the Duluth & Winnipeg parties while they were East, and told that it would be fully met, but instead the trust company went on and attached and commenced suit, adding costs to the account, principal and interest. It is said in railroad circles that this will very materially affect the railroad situation of Northern Minnesota; that undoubtedly the Duluth & Winnipeg will now push on into the Red River valley, into the Great Northern territory, and the latter may push toward Duluth to block the way of the other company. The coming weeks are liable to develop some exciting events in the situation.

Mr. Boardman has come West prepared to pay every cent the company owes and to place the road on a sound footing. This was confirmed by President Fisher. Mr. Boardman, he said, is prepared to pay every dollar of claims against the company. Mr. Boardman said that he had come West to secure at first hand what information he could obtain regarding the condition of the line. He would not speak of the future with very great certainty, he said, but he expects to see the line pushed forward next spring. He is greatly interested in the work, and has no intention of allowing any other road to secure control of this important line. Donald Grant, speaking of the Duluth & Winnipeg road, said:

"Our organization is today unchanged. We are going ahead with our work, for we have made arrangements with Eastern parties to take care of the road. Neither Mr. Hill nor the Northern Pacific will get control of the Duluth & Winnipeg. We have made arrangements with New York and Boston capitalists to furnish means for paying all our indebtedness and carrying on the line to its completion. Our destination has not yet been determined, neither has our route in the western part of the state. The work will be commenced in the spring and will be pushed with great energy. The Duluth & Winnipeg is all right and on its feet. Mr. Boardman has been active in securing means, and he is here to help us with the work."

AN ANNUAL SOCIAL.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Lester Park M. E. Church Met Last Night.

The Ladies Aid society of the Lester Park M. E. church held their second annual social at the house of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Inman, at Lester Park, last evening. The society meeting was called to order about 3 o'clock and the following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Mrs. James Watts; vice president, Mrs. A. L. Wilcutts; Mrs. W. H. Tibbets, secretary; Mrs. H. G. Inman, treasurer.

In the evening the gentlemen, who are honorary members, were invited to share in a sumptuous repast, at which they showed their ability to "aid" the ladies in disposing of the tempting spread. After the supper the following program was gone through with: Prayer, by Rev. Mr. Hurd; recitation, by Master Artie Inman; song, by Miss Myrtle Tibbets; select reading, by Miss Dean; address on the society's progress by the president, Mrs. Watts. A total of $230.50 was reported as being derived from the socials last year. Rev. Mr. Hurd, Mr. Johnson and Capt. H. G. Inman made a few remarks, and then an informal good time followed until about 10:30 when the guests departed.

AN YUK IS NOW FREE.

Judge Nelson Says a Clause of the Chinese Exclusion Law is Invalid.

The federal building in St. Paul yesterday had the appearance of a small Chinatown settlement. Squatted here and there along the railings and on the iron steps were seen small detachments of heathen, conversing in their own conglomerate tongue.

The reason for this turnout was the interesting case of Ah Yink on a habeas corpus suit before Judge Nelson. Ah was a flourishing and prosperous laundryman in Duluth, when Inspector Munn filed an injunction against him to the effect that he had landed in this country in some mysterious manner since the passage of the exclusion bill. He was arrested and sentenced by United States Commissioner Carey to thirty days, then to be deported to China. He has already served this thirty days and the present action was to stay the rest of the sentence. The case was the first one of this character to come up in this section under the exclusion law and it was watched with much interest by all classes.

Judge Nelson ordered the prisoner's release. H. R. Tinkham, the attorney for the prisoner, based his motion for the release of his client on the fact that the United States to a trial by jury when accused of any crime. This view of the case was supported by Judge Nelson and the prisoner was released.

The City Charter.

President Hugo and Alderman Weiss, of the council committee on charter revision, returned last night from St. Paul, where they met a West Duluth delegation and the members of the legislature from this district. It is probable that a draft for a law will be prepared, after which representatives from Duluth will meet with those of St. Paul and Minneapolis to formulate one general law, which shall divide the cities into different classes, the two larger cities coming under the first class and Duluth under the second class.

Fire in Superior.

The Superior firemen were called out yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock to extinguish a fire at 1890 North Sixth street. The fire was in a small one-story building owned by William Palmer, of West Duluth, and occupied as a residence by W. A. Brayton, of Brickley & Brayton. The building was totally destroyed. Mr. Brayton's furniture was nearly all destroyed. He says the loss was $10,000. It was insured for $10,000 by the American Insurance company of New York.

BUILDING SOCIETIES.

Representatives From All Over the State Met in St. Paul.

Representatives of forty-two building societies, representing over $5,000,000 of the accumulations of the wage earners of some of the larger cities of the state, met in St. Paul on Tuesday evening. The occasion was the annual meeting of the Minnesota League of Local Mutual Building and Loan associations.

The cities represented were Brainerd, Northfield, Duluth, Fairbault, West Duluth and St. Paul and Minneapolis. Theodore Sander presided and J. J. Kinneane of Minneapolis was the secretary. Under the law the societies of Minneapolis, St. Paul, Winona, Stillwater and Duluth are compelled to report to the public examiner of the state, and Mr. Sander in his opening address summarized these reports in the statement that the assets of the sixty-three societies reporting are $5,087,202. Societies in other places would swell this to more than $6,000,000. Not more than 10 per cent of it could be any possibility be considered doubtful. Nine out of every ten of the shareholders are wage earners. They pay in on the average $600 and receive $1000, and in a year build and pay for at least 500 homes, and the home owner is never an anarchist. At least as many more receive the start of a prosperous business.

Interesting addresses on various matters relating to the mode of operation of the societies were presented by P. M. Endsley, of Minneapolis, Chan Smith, of Duluth, C. D. Killett, of Fairbault, and Peter McCormick, of Minneapolis. Public Examiner Kenyon was present and addressed the meeting, making many valuable suggestions. He emphasized the necessity of a plan of operation by which the holders of free stock receive a less share of the profits than the borrowers, and advised more promptness in mortgage foreclosures.

The following officers were chosen: President, Theodore Sander, St. Paul; vice-presidents, P. M. Endsley, Minneapolis; Chan Smith, Duluth; F. J. Wilcox, Northfield; C. D. Killett, Fairbault; L. D. Baird, Austin; secretary, H. T. McClung, St. Paul; executive committee, Jacob Stoft, P. M. Endsley, Peter McCormick, Minneapolis; N. J. Miller, Duluth; Otto Kueffner, St. Paul.

An adjournment was taken to Feb. 14, when delegates to the national league, which meets in Chicago during the Columbian exposition, will be elected and legislation discussed.

MR. BIRDERMAN

Has a Few Words to Say:

Mr. Fred Birderman, employed by W. T. Baily, of Duluth, says: "For three years I suffered with pains in my back, mental depression and general weakness. I felt tired most of the time, and had dizzy spells. I tried various remedies, but failed to get any permanent relief. Finally, after reading the different testimonials in the various papers, I concluded to consult Dr. L. A. Faulkner, of New York. He explained my difficulty at once and placed me under treatment. His remedies have had the desired effect. My disagreeable symptoms have disappeared, and I am well pleased with the result. I should be pleased to give any information to anyone interested, and I can be found on First street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth avenues east, Duluth."

THE HAYTIAN REVOLT.

An Uprising at L'Anse de Neu Suppressed
But an Officer Was Killed in the Melee.

Some Think a Plot is on Foot to Draw all
the Troops Away from the Capital.

Good Reason to Believe That the Arrival of Prophete or Manigat Would Result in War.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—A cable to the Herald from Port au Prince, Hayti, says: A detachment of troops was sent from this city to quell an outbreak on the part of the lawless element of L'Anse de Neu. The rioters resisted the troops, and in the melee that followed one of the Haytian officers was killed. The uprising has been suppressed and the mayor of the place has been imprisoned.

President Hippolyte is still without information as to the result of the expedition which was sent under the command of M. Montasse, minister of war, to put down the reported revolt in St. Michel. It was rumored last night that there was danger of an outbreak in the northern provinces and M. Nemours, minister of the interior, was placed in command of the troops sent there to maintain order. The absence of so many soldiers from the capital at this time is regarded in some quarters with suspicion.

These persons pretend to believe that this circumstance indicates that a plot is on foot to draw President Hippolyte's forces away from the capital and thus leave him at the mercy of the Kingston plotters. According to information which has reached this city from Cape Haytien, the people there are greatly excited and there is a deal of talk about revolution among the opponents of the president. These rumors were to attract the president to send the war ship Toussaint L'Ouverture to Cape Haytien. The commander of the war ship carried with him instructions to arrest all persons suspected of affiliating with the alleged revolutionists.

There is reason to believe that if Gen. Prophete or Gen. Manigat were to arrive in the North of the republic tomorrow, war would inevitably follow. There is now no organization or concerted action between the sections where discontent prevails, but if such a leader as Prophete or Manigat should appear, armed revolution and probably a prolonged and bloody civil war would follow. President Hureaux, of the republic of San Domingo, it is said, has caused the arrest of Generosa Marchena, ex-director of the National Bank of San Domingo.

TO THE REPUBLIC'S SUPPORT.

Frenchmen Are Ignoring Personal Differences
for the Present.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—The Republicans are ignoring personal differences and rallying to the cause of the government. M. Goblet writes to the Petit Republicain that he will not associate himself with a campaign designed to provoke a presidential crisis. This sentiment is generally expressed by other prominent men, whom the reactionists had hoped to attract to their side through motives of personal ambition. The detection of royalist plotting at home and in the increasing interest of affairs abroad have served to weaken the hold of the Panama scandal on the public mind, and the enemies of the government also find the public more and more incredulous in view of the earnest prosecution of the De Lesseps and their associates, of the assertion that President Carnot or the ministry have anything to conceal.

In view of the developments of the trial attention has been called to the part which Ferdinand De Lesseps got the clergy to take in the Panama scandal, and which has heretofore almost escaped observation. M. De Lesseps and his whole family went prominently to high mass at the Madeleine all the time the bubble was being blown. The christening of each of the successive children of the family was a not less public event and was celebrated at the Madeleine by special license. A prelate was in one instance asked to be godfather.

Speculation in Panama options, it is said, went on at the Vatican. The marquis who led to the pope the mansion in the Place de la Concorde was advised by a priestly confessor to convert the offering of 40,000 francs a year to the cause of the Holy Land. Next day there were thirty-eight volunteers, who were taken to Saint Nazaire the day after to embark.

The eyes of the Catholic world of France were for the hour riveted on the poor heroines, who were then forgotten until another brigade of volunteers was needed, for the yellow fever no more spared them than the other whites who were in the isthmus in the unhealthy season. A call was once made for chaplains, but not with so much success.

MURDERED FOR HIS MONEY.

A House Riven in Indianapolis Brained by a Piece of Lead.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 19.—John Quincy Adams, a house mover in Indianapolis, was found in his rooms at 11 o'clock yesterday morning lying in a pool of blood. Two gaping wounds in head and a heavy piece of lead lying near the body showed that he must have been murdered.

A search of his rooms revealed some small amounts of money. The theory is that he had a large amount of money hidden which the murderer found and took, leaving the small amounts to give the impression that the motive of the crime was not robbery.

STUART ROBSON IS ILL.

Unable to Appear at St. Paul, Having Drunk
Too Much Wine.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 19.—It was announced last night that Stuart Robson, the comedian, was dangerously ill and that many of his future engagements must be cancelled. After the performance on Monday night he joined a dinner party given in his honor and partook of more green seal than was good for him.

He was not accustomed to high wines in a cold, dry climate and he has not done anything since. On Tuesday night, after waiting for half an hour, the audience was informed that Mr. Robson was quite ill and could not appear. The comedian was taken to the hospital and again last night, and his manager now announces that the comedian is dangerously ill.

A BLAZE AT MINNEAPOLIS.

Two Buildings Burned and Two Men Badly Injured.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 19.—About 1:30 a. m. the Diamond lodging house, opposite the Union depot, caught fire from the explosion of a gas stove. The flames soon spread to the Pauley house adjoining, but the guests had been alarmed and were able to escape safely. George Wickland, a boarder, was badly injured by falling walls and taken to the hospital. Capt. Hanley of engine No. 1 was also injured and both buildings destroyed. The loss will be about $75,000.

TWO YOUNG GIRLS.

The Sad Story of Their Trials and Misfortunes.

What Their Parents Have to Say About the Matter.

Only Good News at Present to Tell
About them.

When the lovely young daughter of the noted scholar, Professor J. M. Ellwood, of 43 Cornelia street, Brooklyn, N. Y., fell ill with St. Vitus Dance, it was a great and serious shock to her distinguished father and the young girl's many acquaintances and friends. Many prominent physicians treated her case in vain until her parents were almost in despair of a cure.

She was quickly and suddenly cured, however, and is perfectly well at present. The professor, on being interviewed, expressed great joy at his daughter's restoration to health and spoke strongly in regard to the wonderful remedy which had wrought so sudden a cure.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
Jan. 19.—Fair weather still continues in all parts of the country, with slight change in temperature except over Montana, Dakota and Northern Minnesota, where there has been a rise of from 10 to 25 degrees, and over Northern Iowa and Southern Wisconsin, where there has been a slight fall. The coldest place this morning was at Lake Umbagog, N. H., where the thermometer was at 10 below zero; the warmest at Milwaukee, Wis., where it was at 25 above. The highest temperature in the Ohio valley and Southern states, 2 degrees below zero, being reported from Indianapolis, and 6 above at Fort Smith, Ark.
No precipitation of any consequence has fallen since yesterday. Light snow is now falling over Northern Minnesota and the country to the north of there. Elsewhere the weather is clear.

An area of low barometer is central this morning north of Minnesota moving northeast, and the rest of the country is covered by an area
of high pressure with a center over Iowa.
The temperature changed very little here yesterday, the highest point reached by it being 10 above, and the lowest last night 10 below zero, the same readings as the day before.

DULUTH, Jan. 19.—Fair, probably followed
by light snow; slight change in temperature;
light winds shifting to northwest.
A. H. HANSON,
Local Forecast Official.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Forecast till 8 p. m.
Monday: Fair, with snow; warmer Friday morning;
in western Wisconsin; warmer Friday morning;

ing; winds shifting to westerly.

Mr. Boggs, Take Notice!

A bill prepared by the Bar association of Kansas City has been introduced in the Missouri legislature to substitute certain county officials are now grabbing under color of law." This change is demanded very generally by the people of Kansas City, but they find themselves handicapped in their attempt to secure it by the opposition of certain members of the legislature representing Kansas City and Jackson county districts. It will therefore be seen that the people of Kansas City are in somewhat similar position to the people of Duluth in relation to some of their legislative representatives. In both cases the representatives are defying the wishes of their constituents. The Kansas City Star, which demands the passage of the bill
for the relief of the people, says:

"The situation, then, is in the nature of a conflict between the people of Kansas City and the men who have gone to Jefferson City ostensibly as the representatives of the people. There is but one fair basis of settlement in such a conflict, and that is the subordination of the representatives to the will of the people.
If the representatives are not willing to obey the voice of the people they should resign. If they will neither obey nor resign, they will be disciplined, humiliated and punished. The people will prevail in the end.

"The Bar association's salary bill will be passed. If its passage be secured by popular pressure from Kansas City in spite of Kansas City's representatives in the legislature, then the usefulness of these representatives will be at an end forever. If they shall not develop independent decency and self respect to resign and come home under such circumstances, they will have the finger of scorn pointed at them from every quarter of the state, and they will be the laughing stock of their associates in the legislature. They will never again be trusted by the people in any public capacity. They will not only be dead but will be a lasting stench in the nostrils of the people."

Every word in the above extract from the Kansas City paper applies with peculiar force to the situation here. Mr.
Boggs should now move to recall his "woodchuck" from the senate, or he should resign. He has outraged the confidence reposed in him by the people of St. Louis county when they elected him to represent their interests. He has endeavored to smuggle through the legislature a measure to which the people are unalterably opposed. In view of the strong protest which has arisen from the people and the condemnation which has been passed upon his actions, Mr.
Boggs should at once secure the withdrawal of the measure or, if he does not want to obey the voice of the people who elected him, let him resign.

The Best Medium.

A writer on "Profitable Advertising," in Nast's Weekly, says the evening newspaper is by far the best advertising medium. He reasons in this wise:

"The morning paper is picked up by the business man and read hurriedly.
He skims over the foreign dispatches and local news, posts himself on the condition of the market, as he sips his coffee, and then throws the paper down.
He has no time to read advertisements.
In the afternoon, after business closes for the day, it is quite different. He buys an evening paper and leisurely reads it as he rides home. Nothing requires him to give the sheet a breakneck-speed perusal. He deliberately reads some of the editorials maybe,
suffers the funny paragraph to engross a few of his moments, and I dare say, he even glances to see if his friend, 'Treboylan, the Hatter,' still maintains his fancy announcement, half a column or more in length, on the first page, or whether his daughter's confec-tioner is still represented on the third page, and so on.

"In other words, evening newspapers are, as a rule, more thoroughly digested than morning issues, and I think evening newspapers should be more newsy and interesting, because the principal events of the world—speaking generally —occur in the forenoon, between 7 and 12 o'clock. Again, the public tendency favors evening journalism, and it is almost certain from present indications that the great newspapers of the future will be evening editions.

The Divorce Industry.

The South Dakota legislature has de-fected a bill extending to one year the period necessary for residence in the state to procure a divorce, and the chief industry at Sioux Falls and Pierre will continue to flourish as of yore. One of the prominent defects of the South Dakota divorce laws, and which has resulted in the rush to that state of people desirous of throwing off irksome matrimonial bonds, is that only ninety days' residence is required in the state before commencing divorce proceedings.
As there are a score or more statutory grounds upon which divorces can be asked, and as the judges can grant nothing but absolute divorces, it will be readily seen that South Dakota offers advantages for turning out divorces that even Chicago cannot duplicate. A recent dispatch to The Herald stated that Bishop Hare was going to Pierre to lobby in the legislature for a reform of this extremely lax law and that he had roasted the present conditions in a vigorous manner. The efforts of the good bishop appear to have been in vain. He undoubtedly met a strong lobby working for the retention of the present law, composed of hotel keepers and merchants in Sioux Falls and other towns who are now reaping a golden harvest
from the rich New Yorkers and others who are flooding the state in search of divorces. It is a scandalous state of affairs, that does not do South Dakota
any credit, but it can hardly be expected that the legislature will be disposed to amend the law when a debased public sentiment supports it, on the principle that a stream cannot rise higher than its source.

The Situation in France.

The latest news from France is of a gratifying nature. It leads to a strong belief that the stability of the republic will not be shaken by the Panama scandal, as was for a time feared by many,
and that the plots of the royalists and monarchists will come to naught. The French politicians have developed a new triumph amid the exciting events that have threatened the life of the republic, and it is a hopeful indication of the growth of that feeling which has ensured the solidity and permanency of the government of these United States.
The French Republicans are for the nonce sinking all personal differences and rallying to the support of the government. It is distinctly a new feature of political life in France when men with personal differences are found working under the same banner and for the same cause. It must assuredly result in the triumph of the republican institutions and the discomfiture of the republic's enemies. The base attempts to besmirch the reputation of President Carnot by connecting him with the Panama canal frauds have failed ignobly,
and the plots of the royalists have apparently been completely frustrated. The French republic promises to emerge from its present severe trial with a greater degree of strength than it has possessed at any period in its history.

They Do Not.

The Herald today received the following telegram from Secretary S. A.
Thompson, of the chamber of commerce,
who is still in Washington:

"Do the citizens of Duluth desire the fees of county officers and increasing the taxation $20,000 annually?"
Mr. Thompson has evidently not heard yet of the intense indignation which Mr.
Boggs' action has created in Duluth.
His query has already been answered with an emphatic "No!"

Today's dispatches announce that the dreaded outthroat organization, the Mafia, is again at work, and that an Italian resident of St. Louis has received a second notice that he must leave this country or he will be killed. It is difficult to trace the authors of the threatening letter, but no effort should be spared

to discover the bloodthirsty wretches.
The Mafia must leave America or be prepared to lead honest lives.

The people of Duluth rejoice over the return of Cushman K. Davis to the United States senate. The legislature, in electing Senator Davis for another term, registered the will of the vast majority of the people of Minnesota.

Judge Nelson decided that one clause of the Chinese exclusion law is unconstitutional and therefore of no effect.
He might have added that the whole
law is un-American and absurd.

Now that the senatorial contest is out of the way, the legislature can earn the everlasting thanks of the state by rushing all needed business and adjourning before Feb. 15.

Senator-elect Murphy, of New York,
says he will not antagonize President-elect Cleveland. He is evidently trying to heap coals of fire upon Grover's head.

Perhaps those who have been asserting there was no opposition to Senator Davis among the Republican members of the legislature will now admit that they were talking for effect only.

Superior seems to be headquarters for counterfeits this winter.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Alvin Joslin."

The seductive announcement made this week by the Lyceum for Friday and Saturday is "180 laughs in 180 minutes."
Everybody familiar with theatrical traditions knows this means that Charles L. Davis is to appear in his amusing and popular creation "Alvin Joslin," and this fact is sufficient to crowd the Lyceum to its capacity.
It has been some two or three years since Mr. Davis last appeared in this city. Since that time he has built in Pittsburg, Pa., what is admitted to be the most costly and magnificent theatre in America and one of the finest in the world, named the "Alvin." The prospects were so brilliant for another season of "Uncle Alvin" however that a brief tour of ten weeks was arranged.
This is, therefore, the last opportunity of witnessing this well known drama and it is safe to predict that large crowds will take advantage of it.
Mr. Davis has taken a special pride in making this tour of "Alvin," the most pretentious in his career, and with this object in view has engaged the strongest company obtainable and has given the play the most lavish scenic accessories
it has ever had.

The success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in effecting a speedy cure of colds, croup and whooping cough has brought it into demand. Messrs.
Pontius & Son, of Cameron, Ohio, say that it has gained a reputation second to none in that vicinity. James M. Queen, of Johnston, W. Va., says it is the best he ever used. B. F. Jones, druggist, Winona, Miss., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best I have used. I have always warranted it and it never failed to give the most perfect satisfaction." 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

ORDER FOR HEARING APPLICATION FOR APPOINTMENT OF ADMINISTRATOR.

STATE OF MINNESOTA. } ss.
COUNTY OF ST. LOUIS. }

In probate court, special term, January 18th, 1893.

In the matter of the estate of Ole L. Wangensen, deceased:
On receiving and filing the petition of Lars
L. Wangensen, of the county of Carlton, representing, among other things, that Ole L.
Wangensen, late of the county of St. Louis in the state of Minnesota, on the eleventh day of January A. D. 1893, at the county of St.
Louis, Minn., and being an inhabitant of this county at the time of his death, leaving goods, chattels, and estate within this county,
and that said petitioner is a creditor of said deceased, and praying that administration of said estate be to him granted.
It is ordered, that said petition be heard before said court, on Monday, the thirteenth day of February, A. D. 1893, at ten o'clock
a. m., at the probate office, in Duluth in said county.

Ordered further, that notice thereof be given to the heirs of said deceased, and to all persons interested, by publishing this order on Thursday in each week for three successive weeks, prior to said day of hearing, in the Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth in said county.
Dated at Duluth the eighteenth day of January, A. D. 1893.

By the Court, FINNEAS AYER,
Judge of Probate.

MORTGAGE SALE—

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of twelve hundred ninety-two (1292) and 24/100 dollars which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by John Peterson and Nellie Peterson, his wife, of Duluth, Minnnesota, to Herman Stevens, of Duluth, Minnnesota, bearing date the 11th day of June, A. D. 1891, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 14th day of June A.
D. 1891, at 5 o'clock a. m., in book 28 of mortgages on page 5, the said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby having been here-before to-wit: On May 10th, 1893, duly sold, assigned and transferred by said mortgagee to the undersigned, Samuel A. Silvers and John E.
Savage, by deed of assignment, dated that day,
duly executed by said Herman Stevens, mortgagee and duly recorded in

END OF A SENSATION.

Commodore Byron B. Inman and Mrs. May Frost Were Married at West Superior This Morning.

The Ceremony Was a Quiet Affair and Only a Few Relatives and Friends Were Present.

This Brings to a Close a Series of Sensational Incidents During the Past Year.

The marriage of Commodore Byron B. Inman to Mrs. May Frost which took place at the West Superior hotel this morning will surprise a large number of Duluth people who did not imagine it would take place until next spring at the earliest. There was quite a number of intimate friends present, and among them were the commodore's parents, J. B. Inman and wife, Capt. Miller and wife, Miss Stone, Mr. Ewald, Capt. H. C. Inman and others. The commodore and his wife will return to Duluth tomorrow, after which they will leave on an extended Eastern trip.

This marriage brings to a close a series of sensational incidents that have stirred the community at various periods during the past year or more. It will be remembered that Asa D. Frost brought suit against Inman for alienating his wife's affections and demanded heavy damages to repair the loss that he had sustained. This case never came to trial, having been compromised a short time after the action was begun. Mr. Frost declared that his wife had traveled with Inman to Chicago and other places, representing herself as Inman's wife, and that they had also been unduly intimate at the Frost residence, when Commodore Inman had a room there. On the other hand, both Inman and Mrs. Frost declared that their friendship was purely of a platonic character and that nothing improper had ever occurred on their part. Mrs. Frost also asserted that her husband abused her, and on this ground she subsequently secured a divorce.

In the meantime Mrs. Inman did not like the state of affairs that prevailed and concluded that the commodore was lavishing too much affection on Mrs. Frost and other women, while his own family was neglected. One day she visited his tug office with blood in her eye and finding Mrs. Frost with the commodore, there was quite an exciting scene for a few minutes. Later Mrs. Inman departed for Cleveland and recently started suit for divorce, alleging cruel treatment, neglect and failure to support. Her story in court which was published in The Herald a few days ago, was a very pitiful one and the court promptly granted her a divorce with ample alimony. Both Commodore Inman and Mrs. Frost being therefore free to marry, the event of this morning was the natural and expected result.

MASQUERADE BALL.

The Duluth Turn Verein's Latest and Best Effort in This Direction.

The annual masquerade of the Duluth Turn Verein took place last evening at Turner hall, and there was only one regret expressed—that the large hall was not still larger. Muhlbauser's orchestra furnished the music and the costumes were "out of sight." Many of the really brilliant character disguises came from Milwaukee and New York, and it was beyond comparison the best fancy dress affair ever held here. The dancing was kept up until late. The spectators were numerous.

The Humane Society.

The humane society held a regular meeting yesterday afternoon and Lawrence L. Aune was appointed assistant inspector for West Duluth. A series of addresses on humane work will be given before the Epworth league of the First Methodist church every month, and C. A. Towne makes the initial one next Sunday at 3 p. m. Two copies of "Black Beauty," the society's well known humane book, will be furnished to each Sunday school library in the city. The treasury was found to possess a balance of $166.91. The resignation of Mrs. O. P. Stearns was accepted and Miss C. A. Williams was elected in her stead. The advanced pupils of the public schools are to be made honorary members of the society.

Held to the Grand Jury.

Joe Herman, the Napoleon of finance, who so lavishly uttered checks on the Mountain Iron bank at Virginia, was arraigned in municipal court today. The culprit waived examination and was held to the grand jury in the sum of $500. The clerk of the court was not willing to accept bail in the form of a check for that amount on the Mountain Iron bank, hence Herman was consigned to the county jail.

The Royal Arcanum.

The Grand Council of Minnesota, Royal Arcanum, officially visited Duluth council last evening and installed the following officers: G. T. Hughes, regent; C. E. Willoughby, vice-regent; John Christie, orator; Simon Clark, past regent; C. H. Jones, secretary; C. H. Stuckey, treasurer; W. R. Eichman, collector; Rev. C. H. MacClelland, chaplain; Dr. S. E. Catherall, guide; Geo. R. Laybourn, warden; J. A. Hanks, sentry; Dr. C. B. Pillsbury, medical examiner. Trustees: Chas. F. Dell, Geo. R. Laybourn, C. B. Pillsbury. The R. A. in Duluth had its beginning in August of last year and its growth promises to be rapid in the future.

Among those present last evening were: Supreme Representative S. M. Davis, Minneapolis; Past Grand Regent W. J. Footner, St. Paul; Grand Regent G. E. Backus, Minneapolis; Grand Vice Regent D. L. Wilson, St. Paul; Grand Guide Dan Hunt, Past Regent G. H. Quigley and Clint Brook, of Minneapolis, and Geo. Madison, of St. Paul. At the close of the business session the party, to the number of fifty, repaired to the Spaulding where a banquet was served and speeches followed.

NEW HOTEL AT WEST DULUTH.

Plans For a Handsome Structure to be Built This Year.

Another hotel project is on the tapis and C. W. Hoyt of the Merchants bank has just received from the architects the plans and preliminary sketches of a handsome structure which will be erected on the corner of Fourth street north and First avenue east, provided the necessary amount of capital can be raised to further the project. The plans call for a three story brick and stone building 50x100 feet including in its structure the two story Hoyt block already erected on the ground. Mr. Hoyt has been working on the scheme for some time and his plan contemplates the organization of a stock company capitalized at $40,000, which amount will complete the building and furnish it with all the modern conveniences. A subscription list has already been started, and it is hoped that by spring the whole amount may be raised so that work on the building can be commenced at that time.

BIG DECLINE IN WHEAT.

Large Quantities Were Dumped Upon the Market Today.

The wheat market here today was weak and declining throughout the morning, but it was relatively stronger than the Chicago market, where prices fell 1/2¢ against 1/4¢ here. Consequently the spread on the May deal between Duluth and Chicago, which was yesterday, is now only 1/4¢. The opening here was very quiet and the market was not very active in May, cash wheat being mostly neglected. The close was dull but steady at 3/4¢ to 1¢ below yesterday's final figures. Following were the closing prices:

HERZ ARRESTED.

One of the Head Movers in the Panama Canal Frauds Has Been Made a Prisoner.

Was at a Hotel Near London and Was Arrested on a Warrant For Extradition.

He is Very Ill and Could not be Safely Moved, so the Detectives Remain With Him.

Herz Denies He is a Mere Adventurer and is Going to Fight Against Extradition.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Dr. Cornelius Herz was arrested at midnight last night on a warrant issued on demand of the French government, on the charge of having been fraudulently implicated in Panama swindling and corruption. The detectives assigned to make the arrest went about their work very cautiously, as although it was reported that Herz was sick, it was thought from his previous record both in America and France that he might be shamming illness and would take an opportunity to escape. It was known that Herz was at the Tankerville hotel, Bournemouth. The detectives started for Bournemouth after dark and although not especially disguised they presented the appearance of ordinary travelers. When they presented themselves at the hotel they at first stated that they had come down from London and proposed to stay a short time, and, as if incidentally, asked for Dr. Herz. The reply was that Dr. Herz was too ill to be seen.

The detectives then said: "We are officers of the law and must see Dr. Herz." The clerk said: "Allow me to announce you in advance and no doubt he will be willing to see you." "No," said one of the officers firmly. "We will announce ourselves. Let the porter show us the rooms." The porter led the way to Dr. Herz's apartments and knocked at the door. It was then midnight and the indications were that all within were asleep. In a few minutes the door opened slightly and a female voice asked what was wanted.

The porter, who appeared to have the best of feelings for Herz, who is said to be very liberal with tips, replied with much apology that a gentleman gentlemen were there that wanted to see the doctor. "But he cannot be disturbed," answered the woman. "I am very sorry, madam," put in one of the detectives. "We must see Dr. Herz at once. We are officers of the law, and although we wish to act with all proper consideration, we must perform our duty. Please tell Dr. Herz to dress at once. In the meantime we will wait in the ante-room."

The detectives quietly opened the door, Mrs. Herz retiring to her husband's sleeping apartments. She came out in a few moments. Her face showed signs of grief and agitation, and she could scarcely restrain the tears as she said, "Gentlemen, the doctor is too ill to get up. You are welcome to go in and see for yourselves."

The detectives entered the sleeping room. The doctor was in bed. He had just been propped up with pillows by his wife. His face looked pale and wasted. His eyes were sunken and he bore every sign of being a very sick man.

"I know your business, gentlemen," he said in weak tones, as if it was difficult for him to talk. "You see my condition. I am willing to go with you, if it is possible for me to be moved."

The detectives looked at the man and concluded that it would not be proper to take further action without medical service. The doctor who had been attending Dr. Herz was called in. He declared that Herz was in such a serious condition that he could only be removed at the immediate peril of his life, and that from present appearances it would be impossible to remove him for some time. The detectives telegraphed this statement to London and were told to remain with the prisoner, but to take no action toward his removal without further instructions.

The detectives then took turns at watching, one of them remaining near the sick man while the other found what rest he could within easy call. Herz, notwithstanding his illness, has made energetic preparations to contest the effort to extradite him to France. He has retained Mr. Lewis, the well known solicitor, and Sir Edward Clark and Mr. Gill for counsel in the case.

Some surprise is expressed that Herz should now prepare to contest extradition to the last point, when before arrest he had professed his readiness to surrender.

AN INTERVIEW WITH HERZ.

He Denied He Had Been an Agent of British Interests.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The Figaro publishes an interview between a correspondent and M. Cornelius Herz. The visitor found Herz in bed and Mrs. Herz attending him. Dr. Herz looked worn and exhausted with physical and mental suffering. He seemed particularly hurt by the charge that he was a mere adventurer, who had gained position and honor by unscrupulous audacity.

He enlarged upon his honorable career and mentioned the list of learned societies to which he belonged. He showed letters from M. Barboux and M. de Freycinet and also from Baron Nordenskiöld, the noted Swedish naturalist and explorer, expressing their appreciation of his services in the cause of science. He said that he also considered it an honor to number M. Clemenceau among his friends, although the connection was proving fatal to his interests. He had held the best relations with Republicans of every shade and had been especially intimate with Gen. Boulanger and M. Sarrien.

Dr. Herz vehemently denied that he had been an agent of British interests. It was true that he had always and since the winter in England but that was with a view to the education of his children. While in England he lived in retirement and he had not a single political friend in Great Britain. When questioned regarding the attempt to have him extradited, Dr. Herz said that he rested his whole hope on the respect entertained in Great Britain for individual liberty and the traditional repugnance of the British to extradite for political offenses.

Dr. Herz also protested earnestly against the suspicion that he had been an agent in France of the Triple Alliance. The only foundation for such a report was a statement made by Bohutet, a brother of his first wife, who long ago attempted to extort money from him on the threat to denounce him as a Prussian spy, and who had even sent documents to Gen. Boulanger, then minister of war, endeavoring to establish the accusation. Gen. Boulanger had felt so little confidence in Bohutet's statements that he declined to inquire into the charges and handed the documents to Herz.

SANFORD IS NOW MAYOR.

The Dispute in Long Island City Has Come to an End.

LONG ISLAND CITY, N. J., Jan. 20.—Immediately after the adjournment of the board of aldermen last night, City Clerk Matthew J. Goldner made a demand upon Assistant City Clerk John P. Hayes for the election returns in the mayoralty contest. Mr. Hayes complied with his demand, and the new city canvassed the returns and then made a certificate of the canvass, declaring Horatio S. Sanford the duly elected mayor by a plurality of 136.

Mayor Sanford immediately took the oath of office. Duplicates of the certificate of the canvass were filed this morning at the offices of the city clerk and county clerk. All the requirements of Justice Bartlett's decision are now complied with, and Mr. Sanford is mayor de facto and de jure.

Mayor Sanford will probably make his appointments today and the police will be ordered to report to his police commissioners.

Favor Sunday Opening.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 19.—In the state senate yesterday a resolution was introduced to instruct the Indiana delegation in congress to vote for keeping the World's fair open on Sundays. Vigorous opposition was encountered from the Republican side, but the resolution was adopted by a party vote. It is believed that the lower branch of the legislature will endorse Sunday opening. In the house Representative McCannas' bill to fix the penalty for prize fighting at $50,000 was, after a warm debate, referred.

Totally Destroyed.

ZANESVILLE, Ind., Jan. 20.—Fire was discovered in a stable belonging to Terrence O'Brien. The flames spread so rapidly with the aid of a strong wind that they soon reached the furniture establishment of J. W. Ball & Co., totally destroying the building and its contents. There were six horses in the stable at the time, two of which were seriously burned and will die. The loss is about $25,000 and is almost covered by insurance.

New York State Finances.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 20.—State Comptroller Campbell in his annual report to the legislature says: There is now practically no state debt and the state's finances are in a satisfactory and sound condition. The balance in the treasury Oct. 1, 1891, was $7,549,751; receipts from all sources during the past fiscal year were $15,221,769; total $22,771,517. The payments during the year were $10,323,494; the balance in the treasury Sept. 30, 1892, was $3,448,053.

Guilty of Murder.

WEST UNION, Jan. 20.—The jury in the Sylvester Howe case brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree last night. Howe was being tried for the murder of James Shaw, near Buena Vista, July 8.

Dempsey Convicted.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 20.—The jury in the Dempsey case found the defendant guilty as indicted.

A Frisco Failure.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—The Richards' Drug company has suspended business with liabilities of $65,000. The assets, it is claimed, will exceed the liabilities by about $10,000.

Massachusetts Day.

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—Governor Russell sent a message to the legislature recommending that June 17 be observed as Massachusetts day at the Chicago exposition.

Held for Murder.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—The coroner's jury in the case of the murdered Chinaman, Jung Din Kuk, found dead in his laundry Wednesday morning, held Jung Lin, the dead man's cousin, for trial, and he was committed to jail.

Died of Pneumonia.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Jan. 20.—J. R. Price Campbell, an ex-city councilman and a prominent business man here for twenty years, died suddenly this morning of pneumonia. He was seventy years old.

A Fly Wheel Burst.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Jan. 20.—The fly-wheel of the 750-horse power engine in the Alice Kober mill, weighing 40,000 pounds burst last evening wrecking the engine room and causing $15,000 damage. Of the 1000 persons employed not one was hurt.

Hame Works Burned.

SUNAPEE, N. H., Jan. 20.—The Suneppe Hame works were burned this morning. The fire originated in the wood department of an old shop. Loss $50,000; insurance $30,000.

ON CONSULAR SEALING

President Harrison Will Soon Send a Message to Congress on the Canadian Bonding Privilege.

A Plan Which Will Hit the Canadian Pacific Road Without Breaking the Washington Treaty.

This Scheme Would Make it Impossible to Send Goods in Bond From Duluth Eastward.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—A Washington special to the Press says: The president will soon send to congress a special message in response to the Hitt resolution calling upon him to inform the house what regulations are now in force concerning the transportation of imported merchandise in bond or duty paid and products of manufactures of the United States from one port in the United States over Canadian territory to another port therein, and especially whether a careful inspection of such merchandise should not be had at the Canadian frontier.

The Press correspondent claims to be able to state on high authority that the message of the president will point out clearly a plan by which the discrimination in favor of the Canadian Pacific railroad may be effectively prevented without violating the treaty of Washington.

The president will declare that this government has a right to require the inspection by its customs officers of goods received from a territory not contiguous at one American port and sent by the high seas to another American port for transshipment. For example, the greater bulk of the silks and teas sent from the Orient for importation into this country are delivered in bond at San Francisco and then sent by vessel to Columbia in the state of Washington, whence under seal they are carried over the Canadian Pacific road and thence across the border to New York or some other United States port.

Under the view which President Harrison will take, such importations would hereafter receive examination by United States custom officers upon arrival at San Francisco and the duty upon them would be immediately levied and collected. The effect of this would be to throw their transportation across the continent into the control of American railroads instead of the Canadian military line. These will be the chief points of the retaliatory message soon to be submitted to congress.

THE PLOT AGAINST DAVIS.
It Was Engineered by Prominent Politicians in Minneapolis.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 20.—It is gradually being admitted by the Republicans of the legislature that all of the plotting to prevent the election of Senator Davis was engineered by men high up in the politics of Hennepin county, and that it was done—not because of any opposition to Davis, but because of a fear that unless Davis was sacrificed now, Washburn could not be elected two years hence.

The name of one Minneapolis politician who has been honored by his party, who has occupied a seat in the state senate, who has represented in Minnesota the Republicans at national conventions, and who has been an active politician all his life, is especially mentioned as being at the head of whatever movement was made against Davis. His work was done through lesser lights, and it came very near being successful. It was stated that neither Governor Clough or H. F. Brown is the man referred to.

There is today considerable gossip about the possibilities of two years hence. Merriam is of course out of the race and must wait six years before he will have an opportunity to gratify his consuming ambition to sit in the American senate. Washburn is spoken of, of course, as his own successor, but the fact is not lost sight of that the wheat gamblers will spend money like water to defeat him.

Minnesota politicians recognize this fact and are casting about for a man on whom to unite in case it is apparent that Washburn cannot win. By mutual consent Charles A. Pillsbury seems to be the selection, although, so far as anti-opposition is concerned, the objection to Washburn would hold good as to Pillsbury. Of course the country members urge that it is about time that they were considered, and many names are mentioned, including those of Moses E. Clapp and Judge Start. The name most prominently mentioned, however, is that of Governor Knute Nelson, and his declaration in which he intimated that he would not decline such an honor in 1895, was actually, at this early date, placed formally in the list as one of Washburn's dangerous antagonists.

AN EXTENSIVE FIRE.
It is Raging in a Tennessee Town and Causing Much Loss.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 20.—A special received late last night from Shelbyville, Tenn., sixty miles southeast of here reports an extensive fire raging at that place. At latest reports the following business houses were burned: J. W. Ward, shoe store; J. H. Hix, saloon; Gazette printing office; N. Lowenstein, dry goods; Hopkins & Nance, undertaking establishment; J. W. Froson & Co., lumber yard; and W. D. Edmiston, furniture. Owing to frozen hydrants the firemen were having great difficulty in fighting the flames. It is feared the total loss will reach $100,000.

Stuck in the Ice.
NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 20.—Off Ocean View in this harbor are fourteen schooners and at Lynn Haven bay are two others lying signals of distress, and yet help they cannot get, for no boats can get near them. They are bound fast in the ice and no one knows how long they will have to wait for their signals to be answered.

Extradition Refused.
BALTIMORE, Jan. 20.—Governor Brown yesterday decided not to recognize the application of Governor Chase, of Indiana, for the extradition of Amos H. Hozier and Edwin W. Russell, the indicted Iron Hall officers who are charged with embezzlement.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.
An Officer of a Benefit Society is Strangely Missing.

DENVER, Jan. 20.—George C. Below, who acted as deputy supreme president of the defunct order of Aegies of Boston and later in the same capacity in the reorganized order, which has headquarters in Baltimore, has mysteriously disappeared from Wheat Ridge, a Denver suburb, where he has been sojourning for two months.

He has been in Colorado for some time organizing lodges at Denver, Arapahoe, Golden, Harris and Wheat Ridge. The disclosures of alleged crookedness in the affairs of the order aroused some bitterness in this vicinity, and now it is charged that Below had a hand in the questionable transactions. No trace of the man has been found, though he has been diligently searched for.

It is known that he had in his possession thousands of dollars collected from the new lodges.

WANT CLOSER RELATIONS.

The Hawaiian Legislature Has Sent a Commission to This Country.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—The steamer Mariposa, which arrived from Sydney via Honolulu yesterday, brings news that the want of confidence resolution in the Hawaiian cabinet introduced on the 4th inst., was lost by a vote of 10 to 22. In view of the unsatisfactory condition of existing commercial relations with the United States, the legislature has decided that a royal commission be appointed by the cabinet and approved by the queen to consist of five persons, who shall proceed to Washington to obtain information as to terms upon which closer commercial relations can be established between the two countries.

A VERDICT FOR BURNS.
The Baseball Player Gets Judgment Against the Pittsburg Club.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—The jury in the case of Thomas Burns, the ball player of the Pittsburg baseball club, brought in a verdict yesterday in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $1500. The case has been on trial since Monday and attracted a large attendance.

Burns, who was third baseman and manager of the Pittsburg club under contract, was discharged for alleged violations of the club rules and neglect of duty, and brought suit with the result stated. The attorney for the club gave notice of his intention to take an appeal.

BARDON MAY GET IT.

A Superior Man Not Unlikely to Secure the Senatorship.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 20.—Col. Knight and his lieutenants are vociferously proclaiming that they hold the key to the situation. Senator Kingston of Ashland, says that there will be a deadlock between Mitchell and Briggs and then Knight or Knight's man will be nominated. When the break comes Kingston says that Knight will throw his strength to James Bardon, of Superior.

Married to a Marquis.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—A wedding of international note was celebrated yesterday at St. Patrick's cathedral. Fifth avenue and Fifth street, because of the contracting parties being Miss Maria Devalle, of this city, and the Marquis de Casa Argudin, of Spain. The ceremony was performed by Archbishop Corrigan and has the special sanction of the queen regent of Spain. The bride is the daughter of A. G. Devalle. The Devalles are related to the duchess of Manchester, daughter of the late Antonio Yzaguas Del Valle.

The Cingalese Exhibit.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 20.—The Cingalese exhibits for the World's fair brought on the steamship Empress of Japan will be kept here until the balance arrives on the next steamer, when a special train will convey them to Chicago. Over 500 packages were received, mostly ebony, teak and other building materials for the Cingalese building. Several Cingalese are expected by the next steamer who will erect the building.

Searching for Counterfeiters.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Jan. 20.—For several months United States Detective Bauer, of the secret service, has been on the look-out for a gang of counterfeiters, who have been industriously shoving bogus silver dollars in Indiana and Kentucky, but without succeeding in their capture. The gang has operated in several of the towns in the gas belt of Indiana and at Louisville. It is believed the counterfeit factory is in Louisville.

Wishes She Were a Man.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—Mrs. Hearst, widow of the late senator and millionaire, denied last evening that she was engaged to marry Senator Faulkner or in fact anyone else, adding that she did not know the West Virginia statesman. She did not understand how the report could have originated, and added that similar stories made her wish sometimes that she were a man long enough to punish their authors.

The Canal Endorsed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The national board of trade discussed the interstate commerce law yesterday. Upon the subject of a ship canal around Niagara and from the lakes to the sea, respecting which the Albany, Cincinnati, Rochester and Duluth chambers of commerce asked action, the board adopted the resolution proposed by Albany, urging congress to appropriate the money to make a survey for the proposed canal.

Death of a Baron.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Baron St. Oswald died today. Rowland Winn, Baron St. Oswald, was born Feb. 10, 1820. He represented North Lincolnshire in the house of commons from 1858 to 1885, in which latter year he was elevated to the peerage. He was a lord of the treasury from 1874 to 1880. He leaves a widow and eight children.

MARRIED FOUR YEARS AGO.

That is the Story John L. Now Tells About Miss Livingston.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 20.—John L. Sullivan, who appeared here Wednesday night caused quite a sensation by registering at the Arcade hotel together with the large, handsome woman who accompanied him as "John L. Sullivan and wife." His manager, John J. Howard, furnished the information that Sullivan was married four years ago in England to the woman, Miss Livingston, of Boston.

The manager objected to any publicity being made about their being together, holding that the public had no right to know anything about John L.'s private affairs.

TOOK HER OWN LIFE.

A Prominent Hebrew Lady, of Cleveland, Commits Suicide.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 20.—Mrs. Charles Harris who committed suicide at the Marlborough hotel, New York city, last night, was formerly Miss Ida Fuldheim, of this city, and was prominent in Hebrew society circles.

Her brothers carry on an extensive boot and shoe trade here and hold a high place among business men. I. L. Fuldheim, one of the brothers, was stunned by the news of his sister's tragic death. One of Mrs. Harris' sisters attempted self destruction several years ago by jumping into the lake here, but was rescued.

A Big Price.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Brookdale, that famous old stud farm, the property of the late D. D. Wither, near Red Bank, N. J., has been sold. William P. Thompson, head of the lead trust, a man of large fortune with a decided taste for breeding fine stock is the purchaser. The price agreed upon is thought to be in the neighborhood of $150,000.

Strong Witnesses.

Among the thousands of testimonials of cures by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, is that of Nathan Allison, a well-known citizen of Glen Rock, Pa., who for years had shortness of breath, sleeplessness, pain in left side, shoulders, smothering spells, and one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and one box of Nerve and Liver Pills cured him. Peter Jaquet, Salem, N. J., is another witness, who for twenty years suffered with heart disease, was pronounced incurable by physicians, death stared him in the face, could not lie down for fear of smothering to death. Immediately after using the new cure he felt better and could lie down and sleep all night, and is now a well man. The new cure is sold, also free book, by all druggists.

OFFICE —OF— City Comptroller

CITY OF DULUTH.

January, 12, 1893.

Notice is hereby given that I have caused to be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for St. Louis county, Minnesota, a list of the delinquent taxes made by the city of Duluth, for the purpose of defraying in whole or in part the expense of making the improvements hereinafter mentioned.

Notice is further given that at a general term of said district court, to be held at the court house in said county, in the city of Duluth, on the seventh day of February, 1893, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, I will apply to said court for a judgment for the amount of said several assessments and costs against said property.

All persons interested in said lands or said assessments are required to appear at said time and place and state their objections in writing. If any they have, why said judgment should not be rendered.

The assessments and property affected thereby for which judgment is asked, and which are situated in the city of Duluth, county of St. Louis, state of Minnesota, are described as follows, to-wit:

IN A PECK OF TROUBLE

The Health Officer, the School Authorities and Several Doctors Very Much Exercised in Mind.

The Album Child's Death, the Closing of Two Schools and The Herald are the Cause.

Evidence Now Shows That Dr. Taylor
Exercised Great Care and Some One Else is to Blame.

The city health commissioner, two or three physicians, Superintendent Den-field and several members of the board of education are having more worry than a pet poodle with fleas. The Album child's death, the closing of two rooms in the Jackson school and the naughty Herald (that prints the news when news is news) are a few of the thorns pricking the equanimity of the aforesaid professional gentlemen.

Soon after the clock struck 9 this morning Dr. A. C. Taylor stepped into Superintendent Denfield's sanctum. A Herald reporter, who was at the Central High school building, was invited to hear Dr. Taylor's version of the affair.
He was called in about 3 a. m. by the Album family. He thought the child showed symptoms of diphtheria, laryngitis, but had no mirror and could not positively determine. He saw that it was a delicate case and decided to call in counsel. At 9 a. m. he was called back and then saw the nature of the disease. He told the parents of the child that he would call in a specialist. In about an hour a Dr. Weston turned with Dr. Taylor but in the interval the parents had called in Dr.
Magie. Drs. Weston and Taylor worked over the child until 11 a. m. after which Dr. Taylor went at once to his office and reported to the board of health by card.

The doctor stated to Superintendent
Denfield and the reporter that he prides himself on the care he exercises in his practice and that he was very unwilling to shoulder any responsibility and blame in this matter. He expressed himself as feeling hurt and wronged that the members of the school board and Dr.
Goffe had not called for his version of the matter before talking about arresting him and making an example of him. He also named instances that fully showed him to be a very careful, conscientious physician in contagious diseases. In the case of his own son, he rented a house out at Lester Park and quarantined him there a week so that no infection to others might result, the act
not being required by law and entailing much expense and trouble. Superintendent Denfield backed up his action in the matter, and said that the only thing
he had attempted was to ferret out the one to blame, and from remarks he made afterwards to the reporter, it was evident that he has been convinced of Dr. Taylor's innocence of mistakes or delay.

The reporter next met Dr. Goffe at the city hall. He entered into a long exposition on his idea of the ethics of journalism and asserted that he could not see what business a newspaper had to print matters that concerned only himself and Dr. Taylor. When asked by the reporter if the matter concerned only himself and Dr. Taylor what business he had to make a statement that the child's death was more likely the result of an unskillful and bungling attempt to insert a tube in the child's throat, than from diphtheria, the handsome health commissioner waxed dumb. While he objected to The Herald's saying that he was reported to have made such a criticism of Dr. Taylor's methods, and skill, not a single word would he say in denial, probably fearing that the reporter would confront him with several reliable witnesses to rebut
any such denial.

The reporter next called on Dr.
Weston to see what he had to say about Dr. Taylor's treatment of the child or its condition before death, but he refused to say a word and no wonder, for Drs. Taylor and Goffe were in an adjoining room smoothing over matters evidently. They all scowled when the reporter came in, but "professional courtesy" evidently had got
in its work and all was harmony.

Dr. Taylor in the morning had been very anxious to go to any extent to report cases, but when with his professional brethren he stated that if the school board wished to compel any prompter reports of contagion it would have to alter the existing law. The members of human constitutions and anatomy also hinted that if the school board and the teachers send pupils home because of contagious diseases before notification from the board of health, they must do so at their own risks.

Up to date, however, Dr. Goffe, the health commissioner for the city of Duluth, has not denied the report that he stated in the presence of several witnesses that the Album child died from a bungling insertion of a tube into the sufferer's throat, and not necessarily from diphtheria. Reliable men say that the learned doctor cannot nor dare not deny it.

Later.
Since the above was written the following letter has been received:
To the Editor of The Herald:
In justice to Dr. Taylor and myself I wish to emphatically deny having made the remark imputed to me in your issue

of yesterday, reflecting on his treatment of the Album child or on his skill as a physician.
W. G. GOFFE.

It is evident that Dr. Goffe is now trying to crawl out of the hole in which he placed himself, but his denial is not accepted by The Herald. He made the statement imputed to him, but it does not follow that it was correct.

THE NEW ELECTRIC COMPANY.
In Addition to Furnishing Power It Will Do Manufacturing.

Secretary G. A. Leland, of the Commercial Electric Light and Power company, said this morning in reference to his company: "We have no affinity with the Hartman or any other electric company. The mere fact that we own the same building indicates nothing in common or any other way with the Hartman company. I bought that building personally a long time before our company was organized, and the Hartman company is my tenant; that's all on that score. We shall use that and other buildings in our business, and we shall furnish power for heating and lighting and other purposes. We shall also manufacture electrical machinery and appliances, of various kinds such as dynamoes, lamps of arc and incandescent patterns and styles and shall make all the little fixtures which go to make up the stock of the complete electrical fur-nishers."

The company has a large amount of capital of its own and is backed by a very large amount of Eastern money and will not only be able to hold its own here but will also be able to go into the sections now occupied by other established manufacturers. It will be at work in a few weeks now and have an assured market already for a great portion of its products.

George W. Curtis Stands Ready to Wrest Macpherson.

George W. Curtis writes from West Superior to the sporting editor of The Herald, in reference to the challenge recently published in these columns from John D. Macpherson. Curtis says:
"Kindly state through the columns of your paper that I accept John D. Macpherson's challenge. He offers to wrestle me any style I may choose. I therefore choose collar and elbow style and will wrestle him either in public or private for $50 or $100 a side or I will wrestle any 140-pound man in the world
a mixed match of one fall each, catch-as-catch-can, collar and elbow and side fall style for $100, and allow the gate receipts to go for the benefit of the girls who were left penniless by the recent fire of the St. Louis hotel."

ONE MORE BODY FOUND.
The Remains of Preston Were Discovered in the St. Louis Ruins.

Yesterday afternoon the body of E. C.
Preston, the St. Paul & Duluth railway baggage man, who lost his life in the St.
Louis hotel fire, was found. At the time of discovery the remains were in the vicinity of a hot bed of ashes and coals.
The hose was turned on, but after the heat was subdued sufficiently to handle the corpse, there was little left except the skull and other bones. The identification was made by means of keys found near and a tooth that had been filled. The wire work of a bed was found under him and it is not improbable that the deceased was cowering under the bed when the fire broke out. The work of overhauling the ruins is being pushed today but up to 3 o'clock, no more bodies have been found. The majority people, however, expect to find more victims before the search comes to an end. The usual amount of stuff is exhumed. One lady, who had a room over the Omaha ticket office, lost
a lot of diamonds and other valuable jewelry. The casket and the jewels have been found and most of them in good condition.

Went Through the Trap.
Lawyer Schmidt sank suddenly through the floor of the court house this morning in the clerk of the court's office and for a time it was exceedingly doubtful whether or not there would be a vacancy in the legal firm of which he is a member, but he reappeared in a moment and was unharmed. He was standing on a little trap door in the floor and while joking with Deputy Clerk Rohrbach he stamped his foot to emphasize his remark and he was "out of sight" in a moment.

PLACED ON THE RACK

Friends of Dr. Herz in France Are Being Examined For Evidence to Use Against Him.

Clemenceau Was Put on the Rack But the Authorities Learned Very Little of Moment.

Feeling is Being Excited Against Herz For the Reason That He is of German Birth.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—The authorities appear determined to show by their energy in obtaining evidence against Dr. Cornelius Herz that they are earnest in their effort to procure his extradition. They realize that they labor under a considerable disadvantage in dealing with Dr. Herz at the distance of London. If they had him here they could subject him to the usual French process of examination, which includes brow-beating, confronting, entrapping, etc., to secure a confession. But as Herz cannot be subjected in advance of extradition to this sort of racking, the authorities are doing the next best thing for their purposes by putting his friends through the process. M. Clemenceau was confronted yesterday with M. Herpin, with the view of eliciting if possible some acknowledgments that might be sent to London to strengthen the case against Herz. The examination was private, but, according to the Petit Journal, listeners on the outside heard enough to convince them that a very lively political encounter was in progress. Clemenceau stood his ground under all the pressure, and the examination closed without any admission of wrong on his part and it is understood without any additional damage to Herz. All parties are furious against Herz. The Panamites, as they are called, are enraged against him for the share he is alleged to have taken in betraying them to Andreux and assisting the ex prefect in the exposures which have caused so much scandal; while those who were not implicated in the scandal would like to see the chief responsibility for the disgrace laid upon a foreigner and a German at that. One of the charges most generally uttered against Herz is that he is a Bavarian and consequently a conspirator of the soldier brigands who fired the bullets in the chamber 1870. One of the newspapers go so far as to declare that foreigners are chiefly responsible for the Panama scandal. "Paris," it says, "has become the great society metropolis. It is well to encourage wealthy foreigners to come to live here. They are rooms and flats at the highest rents in the neighborhood of the Champ d'Elyse, spend money on objects of taste and luxury, do not trouble themselves about politics or politics in connection with bribery, and are really happy if they can succeed in climbing on a mail coach and sit beside dukes and princes. Foreigners, wanting to get on should not only be given a wide berth, but pushed from the door of the confiding and ever hospitable France."

The authorities appreciate, however, that denouncing Herz as a German will have no influence on a British court of justice, and they will have to make out clearly a probable case of guilt in order to obtain his extradition. Herz's apologists, of whom there are some, express admiration for his shrewdness in securing a chance to defend himself in England, and intimate that it might have been better for some others of the accused if they had adopted a similar course. In connection with the prosecution of M. Herz attention is called to the evidence of M. Andreux before the committee of investigation in which Andreux stated that Herz had his possession the original of an important document revealing official corruption. "As to the document itself," said Andreux, "I received it from M. Cornelius Herz. He holds the original. I have been promised the proof as regards a few of the which will give you one document which will prove my own faith; it is a copy I made at an hotel table almost in sight of M. Cornelius Herz."

M. Beisson—The copy of the original is in the hands of M. Cornelius Herz. M. Andreux—I will endeavor to procure it for you. Cannot M. Cornelius Herz appear in person? The document can be put in; M. Cornelius Herz is ill. M. de Villebois Mareuil—Who put you on the track of that document? M. Andreux—It was M. Cornelius Herz himself who told me he had a conclusive document in his possession. That was before the death of Baron de Reinach. He then only gave me details successively and without being pressed by me. I made the copy hurriedly. Asked how it was Baron de Reinach had made M. Herz his confidant, M. Andreux said they had been found wanting, had quarreled and afterwards renewed their friendship through the marriage of Madeleine de Reinach and M. de Reinach, who was an officer in the army. Asked whether M. Cornelius Herz had related to him the visit of M. Rouvier and Clemenceau, witness said yes and added that he believed it was himself (Andreux) whose campaign they wished to stop. The document alluded to by M. Andreux, and of which he produced a copy before the committee of investigation, was a memorandum representing the amounts alleged to have been paid in bribery to Rouvier, Brozat and others. Specially, the Austrian newspaper correspondent who was recently expelled from France because of certain dispatches he sent to his paper in which an attempt was made to connect Baron Mohrenheim, the Russian ambassador to France with the Panama scandal, has written a letter to the Matin, declaring that the information concerning Baron Mohrenheim he telegraphed to his paper was furnished by a man named Gromier. A representative of the Matin at once hunted Gromier up to learn if this statement was true. Gromier when seen denied that he had ever made any communication to Szeckely about Baron Mohrenheim or any other person in connection with the Panama affair.

WRECK AND EXPLOSION. A Double Disaster on the Big Four Line in Illinois.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 21.—A bad accident occurred today at Alton on the Chicago & Alton road. A passenger train dashed into a train of oil cars, wrecking them and setting fire to the wreck. Engineer Ross was killed and several of the passengers were injured. At noon today while a large gang of workmen were engaged in clearing away the wreckage, a gas tank reached a gas-line tank which exploded, scattering the blazing oil in all directions. The vicinity of the wreck was crowded with spectators watching the workmen and they were drenched with oil. Many of them are reported seriously injured. Joseph Fitzpatrick and Andrew McMillan, section men, were badly burned and were taken to their homes at East St. Louis. Timothy Houlihan, another section hand, was so badly burned that his death is expected. It is reported that nearly fifty spectators were more or less injured by burning oil and many of them were carried with care to neighboring farmhouses where they are receiving medical attention.

DIED FROM STARVATION. A Young Swede, Who Was Ill, Refused to Eat Anything.

MENOMINEE, Mich., Jan. 21.—Fred Peterson, a young Swede, who conducted a grocery store at Garney, Mich., died in the poor house yesterday. Death resulted from starvation, he having fasted for sixteen days without food or water. Persuasion and force were used to make him take nourishment, but to no avail. Peterson was a strong, robust man when he entered the hospital, weighing over 160 pounds, but at his death was a feeble, withered being of less than 100 pounds. Three days ago Peterson wrote to his old sweetheart in Sweden and told her to come to Michigan. He did so, but on her arrival here for some unknown reason he refused to wed, and this led to the suicide by starvation.

INSURANCE OF COTTON. An Important Change Made by the British Companies.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—A very important decision in relation to the insurance of cotton has been reached by the fire insurance companies of Great Britain. A secret conference has been held of representatives of the various companies, at which it was decided to raise the present rates of insurance for cotton, the advance varying from 25 to 50 per cent. It was also decided that after the new rates go into effect the transfer of cotton to the United States should be stopped. The new arrangement affects cotton ashore and afloat.

LASTED TWELVE ROUNDS. A Prize Fight Near Rochester, N. Y., For a Nominal Amount.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 21.—A twelve-round prize fight for a nominal purse took place last evening in a resort just outside this city, between Teddy Lang and young England, two local scoundrels, before an audience of some fifty or sixty local sports. Lang was the victor but England was badly handicapped by broken his thumb on the left hand in the second round. However, he continued to fight for rounds thereafter. In the twelfth round England came up very groggy and was easily disposed of. Lang had hardly a mark upon him.

TWO DIVORCE SUITS RESULT. A Little Sensation That Now Stirs a Missouri Town.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 21.—For some time it has been suspected that Mrs. J. Newt Williams and William Gott, both prominent in church circles, have been unduly intimate. Last night, Fred Williams, a son about 25 years old, went to his mother's house and found Gott there. He fired five times at Gott, neither of which took effect. A rough and tumble fight ensued and both Gott and Williams were arrested. Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Gott will both sue for divorce.

Acquitted of Murder. ELMIRA, N. Y., Jan. 21.—The Frost murder trial at Bath came to a close at midnight last night when the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. Frost was indicted for killing Daniel Donoghue, a member of the American flint glass workers union at Corning last August. The evidence went to show that Frost was a non-union member, committed the murder while fearing his own life.

Mr. Blaine's Condition. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Dr. Johnson visited Mr. Blaine shortly after 11 o'clock this morning and remained about forty minutes. He said that Mr. Blaine was not quite so well, and not as strong as yesterday, but the change was a very slight one. Mr. Blaine passed a very comfortable night, added Dr. Johnson, and there was nothing unusual to disturb the quiet of the household.

The Weather Moderated. ANTIWERP, Jan. 21.—The weather has greatly moderated with the past forty-eight hours and a thaw has set in. The ice in the river has broken up and large fields have floated out to sea. Though the river is by no means free of ice, it is sufficiently so to allow navigation to be resumed.

CAUSED A SENSATION

Senator Mott's Bill Regarding Insurance by the State Has Stirred Up the Insurance Men.

Governor Nelson Has Reappointed W. D. Tomlin to be Boiler Inspector For the Fifth District.

Berni Anderson of St. Paul Made Dairy and Food Commissioner—C. P. Maginnis of Duluth is Honored.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 21.—[Special to The Herald.]—The bill introduced yesterday by Senator Mott, imposing a tax for the purpose of making the state pay all losses by fire and the elements to property has caused a sensation. It is aimed against the fire insurance companies and will knock them all out. It proposes an amendment to the constitution, allowing the state to go into such business, and will probably be popular with the Alliance people. It is probable also that life insurance will be included. Yesterday Governor Nelson appointed Berni Anderson, of St. Paul, food and dairy commissioner. He also announced the following: Member of lunacy commission, Dr. H. W. Brazie; member of game and fish commissioners, Charles C. P. Maginnis; member of board of equalization, Tenth district, Miles Carpenter; member of state board of health, Dr. H. W. Leonard; surveyor general of logs and lumber, Second district, S. S. Brown; inspector of steam boilers, Fifth district, W. D. Tomlin; member of board of game and fish commissioners, Fred Van Baumbach, of Alexandria.

ANOTHER RAILROAD WRECK. Collision Between Two Parts of a Pennsylvania Road Train. HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 21.—A repetition of the awful Dock street wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad in this city last summer occurred at Docklow, the first station east of Steelton, this morning about 4 o'clock. The fast line east, which leaves here at 3:45, stopped on the block to repair the air brake which was out of order, when the second section crashed into the rear, demolishing the Williamsport sleeper, in which were four passengers.

The car caught fire from the locomotive of the second section and was partially destroyed. Prof. Henry W. Rolfe, assistant professor of literature in the University of Pennsylvania, was returning from Williamsport where he was returning a lecture last night. He was seriously hurt about the back, but the hospital physicians have not yet learned the extent of his injuries. A. A. Stern, a wholesale jeweler of New York, is also at the hospital. He is injured about the hips. Two others were hurt but not seriously. Prof. Rolfe was doubled up between the upper and lower berths and almost suffocated by the escaping steam. Stern climbed through a window with nothing to protect him from the bitter cold but an undershirt.

GAS WORKS BLOWN UP. The Gas Light Company at Evanson Meets With a Serious Loss.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—The gas works of the Northwestern Gas Light company in Evanson were blown up at 1 o'clock this morning. Thomas Ryan, the engineer of the works, was hurled a distance of fifteen feet by the explosion into a snow bank. He escaped serious injury. Thomas Kern, his fireman, was hurled against a brick wall and had three ribs broken besides receiving internal injuries which rendered his removal to a hospital necessary.

An Actress Buried. LONDON, Jan. 21.—The funeral of the actress, Miss Kemble, who died on Monday last took place yesterday. The interment was in Kensal Green cemetery. The remains were buried beside those of Charles Kemble, the father of Miss Kemble. The funeral was attended by many well known actors, actresses and authors.

A Royal Marriage. LONDON, Jan. 21.—The Exchange Telegraph company is authority for the statement that Prince George of Wales will marry Princess May of Teck, during the second week of April.

IT WILL BE STRIPPED. Development is to Begin on the Berringer Fort.

C. J. Anderson returned from Iron Mountain yesterday and was accompanied here by Dr. J. A. Crowell, of that place, and F. R. Whitlesey, of Florence, the latter two being interested in the Berringer property, says the Mesaba Range. Mr. Anderson has secured the contract for stripping this tract, will commence building camps at once and will be ready to begin stripping by February 1. A steam shovel is already on the ground, but Mr. Anderson will not use it at first. He will employ about fifty men and will run day and night shifts.

A correspondent of the Range, writing from the Western Mesaba, reports that some good discoveries of ore have been made recently between the Diamond and Mesaba Chief from company's properties and quite a number of crews are now operating in towns 57 22 and 57 21.

The Mississippi River & Northern is at present grading in the center of 57 21 about four miles from the Mesabi Chief mine. This latter company is now putting in a good plant of machinery and will be ready in about three weeks to start regular. The road will reach the range about June 1 and some mines will be ready to ship ore as soon as the road reaches them.

CAUSED BY A BROKEN RAIL.

Ten People Were Badly Injured, and One Was Killed.

PERU, Ind., Jan. 21.—The wreck of the Chicago express on the Lake Erie & Western road yesterday was of a very serious character. The train, consisting of engine, smoking, express and chair car, was precipitated on the ice in the river thirty feet below. A broken rail about 100 feet from the river threw the train from the track and the train continued on the ties until reaching the ice, when the first two ties gave way and the entire train went down. The engine stood upright and the cars with its wreckage of three cars. A fireman jumped, but Engineer Coffin was pinned in his cab and taken out severely scalded. The wreck took fire and was burned completely. Brakeman Richard Neff was badly hurt but pulled himself out of the wreck, lighted a lantern, ran back and flagged a freight train which was following. It was stopped only about 100 feet from the wreck and another horrible wreck was averted.

It is miraculous no more were killed, as the cars were hurled over stones and not a splinter of wood was saved from the flames. The list of killed and injured are: George C. Dorland, of La Porte, Ind., an attorney, was killed by having his back broken. Mrs. Rilla Rater, of Denver, Ind., seriously injured about the head and back. Henry Griffin, engineer, very seriously scalded besides other injuries and his life despaired of. Fred Fobes, conductor, very seriously injured about head and hips. L. Liming, express messenger, hurt about the head and shoulder fractured. Frank Wade, fireman, back sprained and body badly burned. Richard Neff, brakeman, hurt about head and hips. Willard Fisher, Muncie, Ind., M. F. Bryan, Roanoke, Ind., Albert Conrad, Peru, Ind.

All these and others injured slightly are being cared for at the hospital in this city. This is the first wreck in thirty years in which the Lake Erie & Western has killed a passenger.

A COMET'S STRANGE BEHAVIOR. Holmes' Heavenly Body Has Grown in Size and Brightness.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Jan. 21.—Prof. Barnard, of Lick observatory, was interviewed in regard to the recent activity visible in the Holmes comet. The phenomenon, news of which was cabled from Europe, had not escaped the observation of the Mount Hamilton comet expert, who declared that, according to his recent observations, the comet had exhibited the most wonderful transformation he had ever noticed in the career of one of these erratic bodies. On the night of Jan. 16, after a spell of cloudy weather, Prof. Barnard pointed his telescope toward the place of the comet, hoping to obtain a final observation before its disappearance. He was astonished to find in the field a small, bright star-like body. A little study showed that this must be the Holmes comet, since its position and movement exactly coincided. It appeared round and strongly condensed, but with no trace of a tail. At times the active nucleus of the star-like central point was clearly made out. The most wonderful of all was the enormous increase in brightness. From being a faint hazy patch, almost invisible in a large 12-inch telescope, the comet had changed suddenly to a bright object equal to a seventh or eighth magnitude star and easily visible in a little eight-inch finder. Prof. Barnard said that he examined the comet in both 12 inch and 30-inch refractors. It even seemed to brighten perceptibly while under observation.

He began observing at 8 o'clock and two hours later he was sure that the comet was getting brighter and the nucleus developing. His measurements indicated that the comet was actually expanding in diameter during observations. The Lick astronomers are greatly interested in the strange behavior of the comet. It is the first instance on record where a comet has revived in brightness after receding to this distance from perihelion.

Will Contest Consideration. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The house committee on banking and currency has instructed Chairman Bacon to ask the committee on rules for a special order giving one or two days, if necessary, for the consideration of the Andrew-Cate banking and Sherman repeal bill. No day was named. The vote on asking for a day stood 8 to 6—one member favorable to the proposition being absent. The negative vote indicates the purpose of the minority to contest even consideration of the bill.

The Trade of France. PARIS, Jan. 21.—The returns issued by the French board of trade show that during the month of December, 1892, the value of imports decreased 21,382,200 francs and that the value of exports increased 16,911,000 francs as compared with the value of the imports and exports of the corresponding month in 1891.

Resigned the Senatorship. FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 21.—United States Senator John Carlisle has tendered his resignation to Governor Brown to take effect Feb. 4. The leading candidates to succeed are McCreary, Lindsay and Stone. Judge Lindsay is leading and looks like a winner but most of Carlisle's strength will go to McCreary.

Narrow Escapes. DENVER, Col., Jan. 21.—Fire broke out at an early yesterday in the Grand Central hotel, a three-story building near the Union depot. Twelve persons had to be taken from the upper story. R. E. Fair, of Toronto, Canada, attempted to break through a window. He was fearfully cut and may die.

The Dakota Senatorship. BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 21.—After two ballots for United States senator the legislature adjourned. The last, or seventh, ballot resulted: Anderson, 8; Casey, 13; Worst, 8; Kingman, 8; Smith, 9; Roach, 19; Muir, 16; Day, 3.

OUR GREAT ANNUAL

EMBROIDERY SALE

Commences Monday, Jan. 23d.

It is impossible to convey a correct idea of quality and price of Embroidery per advertisement. One can neither describe pattern nor fineness, but you may be assured that we shall even go so far this season as to outdo last season, which is saying a great deal—considering that we probably sold more Embroidery than all the other Houses in Duluth. The price was so low that the temptation to buy could not be resisted. We have all grades, ranging from 3c up to $3. and as for dainty new effects, nothing was ever seen in Duluth to equal them.

The Main Feature Will be Six Lots Divided as Follows:

LOT 1.	LOT 2.	LOT 3.	LOT 4.	LOT 5.	LOT 6.
5c a Yard, Real Value, 7c to 10c.	9c a Yard, Real Value, 10c to 14c.	13c a Yard, Real Value, 15c to 18c.	17c a Yard, Real Value, 19c to 24c.	21c a Yard, Real Value, 25c to 30c.	25c a Yard, Real Value, 30c to 37c.

Handsome New Embroidery Sets (two widths of Edge and Inserting to match) just opened. Come and see all the new things in Colored Embroidery; its going to be very popular this season. A full line of WHITE GOODS to match Embroideries.

SOCIETY QUITE DULL

There was Little Done in the World of Society in Duluth During Last Week.

The Preparations for the Columbian Ball Going Ahead Well and Great Success is Promised.

Movements of the Duluth People During the Week and the Visitors Within the City's Gates.

Duluth socially has been under the weather this week. Very little has been done and the prevalence of scarlet fever in some of the best families has checked for a time some social doings that were slated for this week. Sleighting and skating parties have been quite numerous and a few private society balls have been given, principally among which were the Assembly and Norse affairs. A few very pleasant weddings have transpired and the church people have held their usual number of socials. The Columbian ball is moving along toward its birth in a manner that leads the knowing ones to believe it will be the finest and most novel affair ever given here. It will be well attended by people from the Twin Cities. Card parties are going out of date, and but few of them were noted during the week.

Social Mention.
The ladies circle of the G. A. R. installed their officers this week.
Mrs. Sam Moles entertained the West Duluth Whist club Wednesday evening.
Miss Scott, of West Duluth, gave a party to her young friends Friday evening.

The Round Table people were entertained at Mrs. W. W. Billson's Monday evening.

Mr. J. S. Merrill and Mrs. Ada L. Brock were married in Ashland last Tuesday.

William A. Gorman Post had a decidedly lively camp fire Wednesday evening at Hayes' hall.

Commodore B. B. Inman and Mrs. May Frost were married Thursday in West Superior.

The third annual ball of the Norse society at Temple hall last evening was a very brilliant affair.

The West Duluth Horseshoe club gave a pleasant dance in Scott's hall in that suburb Friday evening.

Mrs. George T. Green entertained a number of friends Friday evening with a card party and dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Collins entertained a number of friends at 321 East Fifth street Monday evening.

The wedding of Mr. A. T. Crossley to Miss Mary L. Collins, was one of the social events of the week.

The Turners' annual ball Wednesday evening was well attended. The masquerade features were very good.

Mrs. J. Rollins entertained a number of ladies of the West Duluth Methodist Episcopal church during the week.

The Assembly hall at the Spalding Tuesday evening was like all affairs under that management—decidedly pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dorsey, at Lakeside, were pleasantly surprised by a large sleighride party which called there Wednesday evening.

Mr. and C. A. Field celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary Friday evening by a reception at their residence, 1215 East Third street.

The Saturday club meets this afternoon with Miss Thirza Nichols as leader. "Ballads" was the topic which was discussed upon under eight separate heads.

Mrs. H. G. Inman of the East End entertained the Lester Park M. E. people at the annual social of the Ladies' Aid Society. A delightful time was had.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Burrell at West Duluth was the scene of a pleasant wedding Wednesday when Mr. Wm. Korison of that village and Miss Nina McKenzie of Winnipeg, Manitoba, were married. Rev. G. A. Brandt performed the ceremony.

Social Personal.
Mrs. L. G. Palmer, is in Chicago.

Mrs. Charles Hegde is quite ill with fever.

Mrs. C. F. Green is visiting in Minneapolis.

Miss Grace Gilbert is ill with scarlet fever.

Miss Kate Brandhorst is back from St. Paul.

Mrs. B. L. Brown has returned from a trip to Tower.

Miss Emil Olund has returned from Hudson, Wis.

Mrs. Mary Aske is spending some time in Mexico.

Mrs. J. M. Root and son are back from a trip to Tower.

Mrs. F. W. Smith has been in the Twin Cities this week.

Miss Moody is expected home next week from Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Bondy have returned to New York city.

Miss Caroline Nolte is entertaining Miss M. Landner, of St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dunn have returned to West Duluth from Le Sueur.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Sider will make their future home in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Archie McMillan, of West Duluth, is much improved in health.

Dr. and Mrs. Phalen leave next Monday for an extensive Southern trip.

Mrs. Frank Greene and Miss Greene are enjoying themselves in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Merritt have gone South for a trip of a few weeks' duration.

Mrs. J. J. Ryan, of West Duluth, has returned from a long visit to Minneapolis.

Mrs. Iwan Hansen and children have gone to Spokane Falls for the balance of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Wilson are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. J. Kremer, of Cheyenne, Wyo.

Mrs. Clara, of Marquette, who has been visiting West Duluth friends, has returned home.

Miss Kate Brodie, of Dubuque, Ia., is in the city on the west of her sister, Mrs. W. R. Eichman.

Miss Mary Liebe, who went to California for the benefit of her health died there Wednesday.

Capt. and Mrs. La Salle are expected home shortly. Their wedding trip was to the Pacific coast.

Mrs. A. F. Christian and daughters, of Tower, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Coburn, of Lakeside.

Judge Stearns, accompanied by Mrs. and Miss Stearns, left Monday evening for the Western coast.

Mrs. O. W. Sylvester has been entertaining a number of friends this week from Chicago and elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Duncan are in Florida for the balance of the winter.

Miss Alice Kuhns, Miss May McNeil and Miss Booth, a trio of lady school teachers, are reported as being quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Pressnell and family left yesterday for a three months' Southern trip. The captain's health is very poor.

NINE POINTS OF THE LAW.

The Street Car Company Has Possession of the Connor's Point Bridge.

There has been considerable objection to the street railway laying their tracks over the Connor's Point bridge, says the Superior Leader, but the company now have possession which is nine-tenths of the law, and as the Irishman says: "The other point is the kaping of it."

Thursday night a large gang of men were put to work, and before morning the tracks were laid over the bridge.

The bridge is only sixteen feet wide and the cars are eight feet wide. The company will now be able to run their cars to the end of Connor's Point, as they have all necessary tracks on the point already laid.

W. P. Hall will arrive at Downie's Monday with another car of heavy, healthy Iowa horses.

We want everybody to give us a trial and be happy.

THE BIG LUMBER CUT

Figures for the Past Year for the Northwest Show That an Enormous Increase Occurred.

The Gain in the Duluth District Over the Previous Year Was Double That of Minneapolis.

Several New Sawmills Are Going in Next Season and the Output Will be Greater.

The enormous cut of white pine lumber last year in the Northwest is an interesting topic in the department of trade. The figures compiled by the Lumberman, were 4,389,314,565 feet, against 3,874,521,255 feet in 1891, an increase of 505,793,310 feet. The cut of last year was the largest ever made in the Northwest, more than, was made there in any other preceding year. The cut of pine lumber in Duluth district was about 85,000,000 more than in 1891, while the increase for Minneapolis was 41,000,000 feet. Next season the sawing capacity of this city will be increased by several mills and these will increase the cut probably to 425,000,000 feet. There is an increased stock of lumber on hand, nearly 125,000 feet more than was on hand in January of last year, and the Lumberman claims that a large part of the increase is on hand at the mills below Minneapolis, including La Crosse. A gradual decline was noted last year in the cut of lumber along the line of the Mississippi valley. Mills were operated in that part of the state, always limited in extent, is said to be very nearly all cut off. The great increase in the Mississippi valley. SERIES OF ORGAN RECITALS.

The Opening of the New First M. E. Church the Cause.

The First Methodist church people have arranged a very attractive series of organ recitals, lectures and musicals as a fitting dedicatory social opening of their handsome new church edifice.

Monday evening, Feb. 6, a lecture will be given by Bishop Charles H. Fowler, D. D., L. L. D. Subject: "Great Deeds of Great Men."

Tuesday evening, Feb. 7, a recital is on the program by Professor J. Warren Andrews, of Minneapolis, assisted by the Misses Johnson, Merrill, Williams and Massuger and others. Wednesday evening, Feb. 8, a recital and musical by Professor Sidney Brown, assisted by the above talent, Miss Moak and others.

On Thursday evening, a recital will be given under the direction of Professor Andrews. The price for the entire course will be $3, including reserved seats.

In Their Old Quarters.

The Security bank has moved into their old quarters and is ready for business there on Monday morning, Jan. 23.

If you buy a draft team of Downie's you will find them as represented.

MERRITT START A LAW SUIT.

An Action to Recover Amount of Loan With Damages.

The papers which have just been filed in the clerk's office of the district court in N. B. E. T. and T. A. Merritt vs. J. J. Merritt & Son would seem to indicate that Duluth's most numerous family is having a little legal strife within itself, although the action may be only to establish a precedent.

The plaintiffs bring suit to recover $10,000, of which amount $5000 is said to be a cash loan and $5000 is the nominal damage suffered by alleged wrong representations, on account of which the plaintiffs were induced to put up $5000 as part of an option on the purchase of a controlling interest in certain mining lands sold by C. M. Hill, of Saginaw; E. C. Gridley, O. D. Kinney, James T. Hale and John McKinley. Hill refused to be a party to the transaction and the deal fell through.

In the division of the case under the loan heading the deal was to secure the interest of A. T. Bliss, of Saginaw, in the company, should attempt to so was accomplished, but the allegation is made that the $5000 loan was never repaid.

BOGGS AGAIN CONDEMNED.

The Real Estate Exchange Resolves Against His Woodchuck.

At a meeting of the real estate exchange this morning, the following resolution, which is self explanatory, was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, there has been introduced into the state legislature a bill that, if passed, will make the offices of clerk of the court and register of deeds of this county free positions; be it

Resolved, by the Duluth real estate exchange, that we do most strongly and unequivocally condemn this bill, and the manner and method of its introduction into the house. Prof. Camp is an active, progressive man, who has learned the secret of keeping young, in spite of advancing years, and he has probably given no more valuable advice in the nearly two score years he has labored in educational fields than is contained in the following letter, recently published in the papers of New Haven, where there is a great demand for the extraordinary remedy he refers to. He says in his letter, referring to the famous compound that was first prescribed by Dartmouth's famous physician:

"I have taken Paine's celery com-not. After using the second bottle, however, I found that my health was certainly improved. I have now taken four bottles, and my restoration to strength and health is due entirely to the use of this medicine."

The best physicians unite in the statement that Paine's celery compound is of superior quality for the weak and debilitated, the nervous, sleepless, and all who are run down. It makes people well, gives them new strength and new life. It is pure and harmless, and hence is used in hundreds of families for the children and the aged.

The Weather.
D. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.
Jan. 21.—Generally fair and much warmer
weather prevails in all sections this morning.
No trace of snow. A temperature below zero.
The coldest place is Cleveland, 8; the warmest Helen, 28.
An area of low barometer hangs north of Minnesota and causes the present cloudy threatening weather. Light snow fell in several places yesterday, mostly along the lakes.
The highest temperature here yesterday was 22, the lowest last night 11. The snow did not amount to enough to measure.

DULUTH, Jan. 21.—Light snow flurries, followed by fair, slight change in temperature today, colder Sunday; wind shifting to west and northwest.
R. H. BAERSON,
Local Forecast Official.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Forecast till 3 p. m.
tomorrow: For Wisconsin: Fair; variable winds; most southerly. For Minnesota: Fair; colder in eastern and warmer in western portion Sunday morning; colder in the evening;
variable winds.

Annexation or What?
While the Tory government proceeds to pile up the already huge national debt and boasts that next year such improvements in the canal will be made, that Canada will be entirely independent of this country, it is noticeable that a very large section of the people of the Dominion are talking in an altogether different strain. With the death of Sir John Macdonald there passed away the last public man who was able to keep alive the moribund feeling of loyalty toward the British crown. Those who have stepped into his shoes may be as devout Tories and as strong advocates of retaining the present form of government and connection with the British empire, but they have not the strong hold upon the people that the old leader possessed and the popular confidence in their ability and judgment is so much less.

It is, however, very doubtful if even Sir John Macdonald would have been able to stem the tide that was setting in during his last years in all sections of the Dominion looking toward a change of the existing relations with the British empire. A new generation is upon the scene. The young men who have reached voting age during the past five years have been observing, thinking and studying. They have seen the steady flow of young Canadians across the border to the United States, and their own investigation has confirmed the statement that on the southern side of the international boundary are presented opportunities that are denied them at home. They have asked themselves why this should be the case. They have sought earnestly for the reason, and many of them have reached the conclusion that so long as Canada remains a British dependency, this state of affairs will continue. At this point there has been a division. While a great majority of the Canadian people have decided in their own minds that the political ties which bind them to the mother country must be severed, they are not agreed upon the next step. Shall Canada set up as an independent nation, or shall she seek admission into the great and prosperous American union of sovereign states which now stretch from the great lakes to the gulf of Mexico and from the Atlantic to the Pacific?

Within the past year, it is undeniable
that those who favor the annexation idea have made great headway. They have made thousands of converts with the result that this subject, which until recently was only mentioned in guarded wisperings, is now discussed in the principal cities of the Dominion and many prominent men have had the courage to proclaim their annexation sentiment.
A daily evening paper, started for the main purpose of advocating annexation to the United States, is now published in Toronto and is said to be meeting with fair success. It is now reported that Goldwin Smith will start another annexation paper in the same city in April,
backed by a capital of $200,000.

These are significant facts. That they are striking terror in the ranks of the Tories is evident from the utterances of the Toronto World, one of the ultra-loyal Tory organs, which said two days ago:
"The time for united action has come and Canadians who believe in Canada's right to a national existence on the continent must unite to a man and put down the American or annexation party in this country headed by Laurier and Cartwright, emissaries by Farrer and Charlton, inspired by Goldwin Smith, advocated openly by the Mail, and for the present secretly encouraged by the Globe and supported in the United States by the ambitious politicians and Fenians and the British haters. There is but one issue in the country today, and that is annexation or British connection."

E. A. McDonald, of Toronto, who lost his seat in the Toronto council, his commission as an officer in the militia and his fortune of $20,000 through advocating the annexation idea, in a recent interview at Buffalo, gives the following statement of conditions in Canada which have produced the strong annexation sentiment: "Real estate has become a liability. It is cheaper to pay rent than taxes. All our best blood is going to the United States. The court at Ottawa is bloated, but the people poor. The taxpayers are groaning under the weight of a government as expensive as that which rules the 70,000,000 people of the United States, besides paying tribute to England in the way of paying a governor general $50,000 a year and supporting his expensive suit at Rideau hall. The country is impoverished, bankrupt and is now experiencing difficulty in floating loans in the mother country, for England is now doubting the value of Canadian securities. Sloth exists in all the markets and the colony is beggared to support a few in magnificence." It is not strange, in view of the foregoing, that the annexationists have gained ground so rapidly in the last twelve months.

Able and Faithful Servant.
The St. Paul News commends a recent article in The Herald respecting the diffpancy of a Washington correspondent of a St. Paul paper who gave currency to the statement that Maj. Bal-win, congressman-elect from the Sixth Minnesota district, acquired his title of "major" in suppressing a Kansas
railroad, and it declares that as Maj.
Baldwin is to represent an important
district in the Fifty-third congress, it is no more than just that his actual participation in the events of times that tried men's souls have at least as wide currency among the people of the state as the uncalled for sneer at a brave, true man.

The News concludes as follows:
"Minnesota will not be so strong at Washington but that she will need the good offices of all her representatives, and it is highly probable the representative from the Sixth district will prove an able and faithful servant of the state,
as he was a gallant soldier of the Union."

The legislative committee on normal schools, according to a St. Paul paper, held a meeting immediately after the adjournment of the house yesterday morning and decided to visit the Mankato and Winona normal schools Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The week following they will visit St. Cloud and Moorhead, and they may accept an invitation to visit Duluth at a later date.
Such a visit would no doubt improve the chances of securing the establishment of a normal school here, and it might be well to invite the committee.

Duluth is forging ahead as an electrical manufacturing point. The big plant of the Great Western Supply company is going in at West Duluth, the Commercial company has organized to make incandescent and arc lamps, etc., and now it is stated the Peoria company's plant is to be moved here and consolidated with the Phoenix company and will manufacture dynamos, motors and generators.

The Kansas Populists are really distinguishing themselves as reformers. It has been a pet cry of the Populists that the old parties were run by scheming politicians who were without honor or fairness, yet now we find the Populist
members of the Kansas legislature un-seating Republican members as fast as their names can be called, in order to get complete control of everything.

An interesting communication on the municipal charter question by Mr. T. T.
Hudson is published in this issue. Mr.
Hudson is opposed to the cities being divided into classes, and advances numerous arguments why one general law should apply to all cities in the state.

The Wisconsin legislature yesterday
passed a resolution requesting the congressmen from that state to vote for the anti-option bill. This turns down Senator Vilas, who has opposed the bill.

Devouring Abroads.

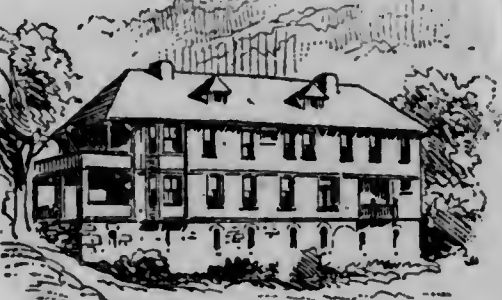

The most miserable of lives, probably,
that of the "harm stormer," or comedian who goes about with others in a company, performing in small towns and villages. Not infrequently these people encounter audiences which express deserved contempt for them in ways which are not kind. Take the case of one of these performers at the close of one of his expeditions, "that you got pretty much everything thrown at you?"
"Oh, yes—apples, principally. And now and then turnips and frequently potatoes."
"And occasionally cabbages, I suppose?"
"Unfortunately we were very seldom hit by a cabbage."
"Unfortunately! What do you mean by that?"
"Why, bless your soul, it was the best luck we had when people threw those things at us. We had so little to eat that we were thoroughly glad to swallow their insults."—Youth's Companion.

Got Along Very Well.

Mr. Green (who has been listening to Mr. Brown's account of a trip around

Mrs. Brown—Well, I didn't see much of the scenery, but the cabin was very comfortable and the stewardess a most sympathetic woman.—Pick Me Up.

From India to Vermont.

In the Green mountain region of Vermont Rudyard Kipling has arranged to make his home. It will be remembered by all who have taken an interest in his writing that he is a native of India, and he long ago to the sister of the late deceased American novelist, Walcott Balestier. Resultant to the wedding was a trip to the United States, and in sturdy old Vermont
Mr. Kipling resolved to make his home.
One cannot help calling to mind India transported to a New England hillside
when he sees the long, low house with pro-

KIPLING'S VERMONT HOME.
jecting roof that has a hint of thatch, and the wide covered veranda built to catch every breeze. It is a house with individuality quite as strong as that of its future proprietor.

It does not look like the country house of an Englishman, and it is possible less like the typical American summer home of gingerbread carvings if cheap, and of fantastic towers if expensive. Still, that it is American and fitted to the surroundings is evident from the colonial character of much of the architectural detail.

It was hardly to be expected that Mr.
Kipling would make Vermont even a temporary home, and when about a year ago
he settled down for a few weeks to write for American newspapers articles about the New England which he had hardly seen it is not likely that he himself expected to do so. But Mr. Kipling is now just a wee bit of an American. The Kiplings are a Vermont family, and Mr. Kipling may before long find himself as much an American as he was little an Englishman when he went back home after life in India.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.
Why Should Duluth be Put in a Special Class
by Itself?

To the Editor of The Herald:
The proposition has been made and seems, by common consent, to have been settled upon as the proper line of action,
that our representatives in the state legislature try to secure the passage of three municipal acts, one relating to cities of a population not exceeding 30,000, one relating to cities of over 30,000 and not exceeding 100,000 and one for cities exceeding 100,000. The professed hope of those advocating this plan is that the city of Duluth may be thrown into a class by itself; that it may have just such legislation as it needs, and it is contended that the needs of this city are very different from those of the larger cities or those of the smaller cities in this state.

There may be a grain of truth in the claim made, but we think, when carefully considered, that the needs of this city in the matter of municipal legislation will be found to be very similar to the necessities of other cities. The objects of city government are the same.
The manner of supporting city governments should be uniform. Take the matter of local assessments. All cities and villages are laid out according to the same general plan; all improvements made bear the same relation to and affect property rights in the same way. The advocates of special legislation for our city, when asked in what regard the requirements of our city differ from those of other cities, usually answer that we want a tunnel under the canal. They don't advance other arguments. Is it because there are none? If this is the only difference between the needs of our city and other cities in this state, the question whether or not the tunneling of the canal can be reached by a general law relating to that subject alone, it would seem, ought to be settled before placing our city in a class by itself.

We believe that the evils that will grow out of the plan proposed will largely exceed the benefits derived by this city. There are, among others, the following objections to the scheme proposed:

First. This city ought not to put on a municipal charter every year or two. All the troubles that affect Duluth as a municipality have grown out of hasty and ill-considered legislation. There is not time enough before the close of the present legislative session to prepare, discuss and adopt any satisfactory and well-considered act.

Second. Before our legislature will meet again and could pass such additional legislation as would be needed to meet up the hasty and ill-considered act that would be now passed, our city will have more than 100,000 inhabitants and would be transferred to the next class, and we would then, begin breaking in another municipal charter.

Third. The principal objection to proposed procedure is that it is an attempt to do just what the people at the recent election have said should not be done, namely, to enact special legislation.

That such special legislation is harmful to the locality it affects there is abundant evidence on every side. Special legislation, ostensibly enacted in favor of some section, has fastened upon this state all the monopolies from which it suffers. The bill for cities of 20,000 and less than 100,000 inhabitants would undoubtedly contain a large number of provisions that would bear the light of day, but would slip through the house as did Mr. Boggs' repeal of the fee bill, because it only affected Duluth. The main value of the no-special-legislation condition is, that every section of the whole state, are compelled to be on their guard that no injurious act is passed; the consultation among, suggestions and good judgment of, the whole legislature is brought to bear upon securing a law, as near perfect as may be.

The proposition to authorize all municipalities to issue bonds to the extent of 10 per cent of the assessed value of the several municipalities, is comparatively harmless, since the joint wisdom or common sense of the whole state is decidedly opposed to it. But apply the proposition to a particular city only, and it becomes at once dangerous. Some growing locality, counting its future as already secured, would think nothing of going into debt to the 10 per cent limit.
The provision allowing any municipality in the state to issue bonds for one large improvement in excess of the 10 per cent limit, and without submitting the question to the voters of the municipality, would not stand the slightest show of becoming a law. But a good many members of the legislature would be willing to allow Duluth to undertake the dangerous experiment, and no legislator seems to have been startled by the provisions now in a bill before the legislature to allow any city council to make all the tunnels it wants under navigable waters and issue unsecured bonds therefor, because he thinks only Duluth would be in danger from such a provision.

Fourth. The chief objection to a special charter is that legal decisions made, affecting the other city acts, would not be a guide for our city officials, because the charters, being different, the decisions are rarely in point. Our city would be compelled to fight over, piece
by piece, each and every act of legislation to find out what it meant, and long before its construction had been settled

TO BE MADE A BISHOP

Next Wednesday Morning at St. Paul's Church Rev. Dr. Barker Will be Consecrated a Bishop.

The Bishop of Oregon Will Perform the Consecration and Five Other Bishops Will be Present.

The Degree of Doctor of Divinity Has Been Conferred on Mr. Barker by Seabury Institute.

Rev. Dr. Barker, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city, will be consecrated bishop of Western Colorado on Wednesday next. The consecration services will be held at St. Paul's church promptly at 11 o'clock in the morning. The bishop of Oregon will be the consecrating bishop and he will be assisted by five other bishops.

The service, which will be fully choral, consists of the litany and communion service; the special act of consecration coming after the second. The music has been most carefully arranged and rehearsed, and will be rendered by the full choir of the church, assisted by any outside talent. The principal anthem will be "The Lord is My Strength," composed by Mr. Cushman, the organist of St. Paul's church, in which the soprano and bass solos will be sung by Miss Theresa Nichol and Mr. G. V. Quillard, Jr., respectively. A very large number of clergy are expected to be present, all of whom will be fully vested and walk in the procession, which on this occasion will enter from the main door of the church, which will have an imposing effect. The Rev. W. Poole, late rector of St. Paul's church, will act as master of ceremonies. Mr. Barker's new episcopal vestments, a gift from the ladies of the parish, will be used at the consecration service and are very handsome. The degree of doctor of divinity has been conferred upon Mr. Barker by the Seabury institute.

WEST DULUTH HAPPENINGS.

The Horseshoe Club's Dance Was a Great Success.

About sixty young people attended the dance of the Horseshoe club last evening at Scott's hall. The music was excellent, the hall was prettily decorated for the occasion and all present enjoyed themselves hugely. It is hoped that the club will continue the dances in the future.

Mr. W. E. Mars gave a party to a number of her young friends last evening.

Hugh Steele, of Ashland, Wis., was a guest of Paddy McDonnell yesterday.

The Swedish Baptists have bought a double corner on Fifth avenue west and will build a $2500 church in the spring.

The ladies of the Methodist church will give a Washington birthday entertainment and supper next Wednesday.

AT THE SPECIAL TERM.

A Large Number of Cases Before Judge Ensign Today.

The special term of the district court this morning before Judge Ensign was quite crowded with parties to suits at law and with interested spectators. The Borgess divorce case was continued, as was J. L. Washburn vs. G. J. McManus et al. Judgments of foreclosure were ordered in L. F. L. Ferry vs. H. E. Long et al., and Paul Ekelman vs. Jennie Cole et al.

An order was issued altering and re-arranging the plan of Leventon addition to Ironston. A. R. Macfarlane's appeal from the Sixth street south assessment in West Duluth was fixed for hearing next Thursday. The sale was confirmed in F. G. Stevens vs. J. H. Carlson, L. S. Franklin vs. Wm. Hanley was heard and submitted.

The court adjourned at 12:30 to 2:30. The case of the Iron Range road vs. Edward Lynch will come up with a lot of other actions.

NO MORE BODIES FOUND.

The Search in the St. Louis Ruins Still in Progress.

The turning over of the debris of the St. Louis hotel fire is still in progress. No more bodies had been discovered up to 2 o'clock this afternoon. One gang of men, however, were close upon the spot where the body of Alice Swanson, the servant girl, is supposed to be, if it is in the ruins at all, but up to the above named hour, no traces or evidence of the remains had been revealed.

The interest in the search held by the general public is still unabated, large crowds constantly coming and then going, after gazing upon the ruins and searching workmen.

Both Legs Broken.
Louis Chibabath, an Italian, working at the Minnesota mine near Tower, met with a terrible accident and yet had a miraculous escape from instant death last Monday morning at 8 o'clock. He was barring ore down through a chute, and in his work incident thereto got down into the chute and while working stood on the body of ore. He was engaged in prying loose. The jam suddenly gave way and Chibabath went with it. The result was he had both legs broken.

TRADING WAS RATHER QUIET.

Prices of Wheat Fluctuated but Closed Same as Yesterday.

Trading in wheat today was restricted almost entirely to the May future, and about all the business in that was disposed of in the first half of the session, leaving the market dull and lifeless during the latter half. The opening was firm and unchanged from yesterday. Prices fluctuated considerably. The close was firm and slightly irregular, but practically the same as last night's figures. Following were the closing prices:

No. 1 hard, cash, 69½¢; January, 69½¢; May, 70½¢. No. 1 northern, cash, 67½¢; January, 67½¢; May, 70½¢. No. 2 northern, cash, 65½¢; No. 3, 64½¢. Rye, 56¢. Flax, cash, $1.11½; May, $1.16. Car inspection today, 48¢. Receipts—Wheat, 25,000 bus.; corn, 11,750 bus. Cars on track, 39; last year, 36.

Outside Markets.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—The close: Wheat, January, 70½¢; February, 71½¢; May, 70½¢. Corn, January, 48½¢; February, 48½¢; May, 47½¢. Oats, January, 31¢; February, 31½¢; May, 31½¢. Pork, January, $10.25; May, $10.67½. Lard, January, $10.50; May, $10.25. MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 21.—Wheat, January closed at 67½¢; May opened at 71½¢ and closed 71½¢; July closed at 73½¢. On track, No. 1 hard, 69½¢; No. 1 northern, 68¢; No. 2 northern, 66½¢.

DULUTH STOCK EXCHANGE.

Duluth Continues But Hope of Better Trading is Still Firm.

The duluth stock exchange is not so active as it was on Saturday last, but there was some trading today, and that was confined to unlisted stocks. A general apathy pervades the market, and it is thought the late inactivity may be followed by an upward tendency in prices and more activity in sales. Below are the quotations:

A Sad Death.

Miss Emma Laux, whose sickness with scarlet fever has been previously mentioned, died this morning at 6 o'clock. She was 20 years old. At 1 o'clock this morning she said to her watchers: "Oh, I feel a great deal better," but after that she sank rapidly and died just before daybreak. She was quite prominent in Roman Catholic church circles. She resided with her parents at 325 Third avenue west. She will be buried tomorrow at 10 o'clock. Interment will be at Calvary.

Requiem high mass for the repose of her soul at St. Anthony's church at 6 o'clock Monday morning.

Noble Sampson Seriously Injured This Morning—Other Accidents.

Noble Sampson, a well-known young man, who used to be a member of the police force, but who was lately employed on the Sheppard block, fell from the top floor to the bottom this morning, a distance of about forty feet, breaking his collar bone and elbow and inflicting other serious bruises. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital. He attempted to pass from the third to the second floor by means of a rope and tightly grasped one end, the other end sliding out of the pulley with the above result. He is resting easily and will probably recover.

Harvey Eaton, of Cloquet, who fell from the Lake avenue viaduct last evening, and was at first thought to be seriously injured, is all right today, but very stiff and sore from his severe twenty-foot tumble.

Ole Peterson, an Omaha freight handler, who was injured by having a heavy case of plate glass fall on him yesterday afternoon, is at St. Mary's hospital. The doctors say he was resting easily at 2 o'clock. There no broken bones but he was severely crushed and bruised and the result of his injuries will not be known for some days.

EIGHT FIREMEN HURT

While Engaged in Fighting a Fire in New York, a Brick Wall Fell Upon Them.

Forty of Their Comrades Rushed to Their Rescue and Hauled Them From the Ruins.

Three of the Unfortunates Were Found to Be Seriously Injured—Fire Loss Was $75,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Seven or eight of the firemen of hook and ladder truck No. 8 were injured, three of them seriously, at 1:20 o'clock this morning by the fall of the west wall of Story & Co.'s four-story storage warehouse at the southwest corner of King and Washington streets. The building is 100 by 75 feet on the ground, numbered 542-8 Washington street. It carried a heavy store of merchandise, most provisions.

Charles B. Bartell, foreman of the street cleaning department, discovered the fire. The firemen who first came encountered the greatest difficulty in getting at the fire, because of the iron shutters that protected the windows. Firemen of the truck took their position on the roof of a warehouse immediately to the west of King street and were engaged in raising a ladder to the burning building, when with a crash at 1:20 o'clock the west wall of the building bulged and fell on them.

Some of the men escaped, but several were struck by the falling brick. The men had been at work under command of Capt. Van Horn. Chief McGill ordered forty firemen to the rescue and they rushed to the help of their comrades. Capt. Van Horn and firemen Robertson, Coyle, McCurran, Reynolds, Wall and Lawler were taken from the ruins, all of them hurt and several unconscious. Both of Reynolds' legs are broken. Fireman Lawler's spine was hurt and he was badly bruised.

One of Joseph Coyle's hands are hurt and one of his arms is broken. Robertson also has a broken leg. McCurran escaped with bruises and possibly an injury to the spine. Robertson, Reynolds, Coyle and Lawler were taken to St. Vincent's. The others did not go to the hospital. Several of the injured men were taken into Jerry McCarthy's saloon at 326 West street where rude beds were improvised for them until the ambulances should arrive.

The saloon was besieged by a crowd of men and women with blanched faces. They poured in and out of the place until the police were obliged to close the doors and shut everybody out. The story was that half a dozen men had been killed.

At 1:45 o'clock the building was a mass of flames. At 2:30 o'clock a section of the wall on King street fell in a mass across the street reaching entirely to the opposite side of the street. The fire was under control at 2:30 o'clock. The damage was probably $75,000.

THINGS GROWING WORSE.

The State of Affairs in Argentine is Becoming Very Serious.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Valparaiso says: The condition of affairs in the Argentine province of Corrientes is growing steadily worse and it may yet lead to serious complications for the federal government. In fact, it is generally believed here that a crisis, which may end in the deposition of President Pena, is imminent.

The radicals in Buenos Ayres have issued a manifesto of sympathy for the revolutionists in Corrientes. It is thought that the only remedy is a resignation of the ministry and a radical change in the policy of the government. It is extremely probable that the ministry will resign.

The government troops are acting in a most unlawful manner in Corrientes. Ranches are burned by them, people robbed and women maltreated. Near Mercedes they destroyed the Estancia of a Spaniard, killing the residents. The revolutionists are organizing into small bands of guerrillas and are little behind the Gobiernistas in making reprisals.

The revolutionary chiefs declare that the Intervenor favors the government party. In Buenos Ayres the newspapers denounce the outrages as a disgrace to the republic and demand that the government put a stop to them. Dr. Alem declares that a presidential crisis is imminent and that the people will not much longer stand the barbarous cruelties, and that the radicals will join the people of Corrientes.

The Spanish minister demands immediate attention to the claim of his government for reparation for the outrage on a Spanish citizen of Mercedes and threatens to back up the claim with force.

A New York Man Who Can Sympathize With Donnelly.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 21.—In the libel suit of William Bennett, of Port Jervis, against C. MacArdell, publisher of the Daily Argus, for $25,000 damages, which has excited considerable interest in Orange county and which was tried before Judge Brown and a jury in the circuit court at Goshen this week, a sealed verdict was opened at noon yesterday.

It gave the plaintiff $1 damages. Bennett defended the murderer, Fred Maguire, who was executed by electricity at Sing Sing, Dec. 19. A witness named Hummel told clear Maguire perjured himself, telling a story which fixed the crime on Sarah Brown.

Hummel, when convicted and about to be sentenced, said that Bennett had fixed up the story for him and told him to swear to it. It was for publishing these facts and commenting upon them unfavorably that led to the suit.

The Populist House in Kansas Busy Turning Out Republicans.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 21.—The Populist house settled down for work yesterday and unseated seven Republican members almost as rapidly as their names could be read. Their seats were given to Populists.

The senate last evening began the same process, which will be continued until the Populists will have a working majority in both houses. Of course the courts will be called upon to do undo all their work, and meantime the Republicans and Democrats will continue to recognize the Republican house.

The Democrats have served notice on the Republicans that a Democrat must get the United States senatorship, or the alliance will be terminated.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Demise of a Woman Prominent in St. Louis Society.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 21.—Mrs. John J. Mitchell, of 3015 Locust street, was found dead in bed yesterday by her attendants. Mrs. Mitchell was a well known and wealthy member of society, although advanced in years, and was a very charitable woman.

Only a month ago Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell celebrated the forty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. Mr. Mitchell has been for years president of the Chicago & Alton railroad and is one of its principal stockholders. He is also president of the St. Louis, Kansas City & Chicago road. Mrs. Mitchell leaves five children, all daughters, two of whom are married.

Beer Drivers on Strike.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 21.—The drivers employed by the Anheuser-Busch company threaten to strike unless their wages are advanced $5 per month. They claim the company has failed to make the increase in wages as agreed to some time ago. All trade and labor assemblies will be called on to support the drivers in their demands and if the company does not grant the increase a general strike may result.

NATIONAL BOARD OF TRADE.

Various Resolutions Approved and Executive Committee Named.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The national board of trade yesterday passed the resolution of the Portland (Ore.) chamber of commerce, expressing the approval of the board of all measures calculated to further protect the timber lands of the county and to make additional reservations of the same. The report of the committee appointed to frame a declaration of opinion upon the financial and monetary questions was presented.

It recommended to congress the cessation of the purchase of silver under the Sherman law and the appointment of a commission to revise the monetary and banking systems of the country. After a brief discussion the subject was postponed until the next annual meeting. The same course was taken with the resolution of the Rochester chamber of commerce that the rate of telegraphy should be reduced to one cent a word within a radius of 1000 miles.

The resolution of the New York board of trade, recommending the consolidation of third and fourth classes of mail matter into one class, to be mailable at the rate of two ounces for one cent, was passed. The resolution of the St. Louis Merchants' exchange, recommending a more reliable support by congress of the state militia and national guard, failed to receive the required two-thirds vote.

President Fraley announced the following executive committee for the ensuing year: John A. Gano, Cincinnati; George M. How, Chicago; E. O. Starnard, St. Louis; Ambrose Snow, New York; E. P. Bacon, Milwaukee; A. J. Halford, Indianapolis; Harry Weissinger, Louisville; Blanchard Randall, Baltimore; Jonathan A. Lane, Boston.

Settled Their Differences.

BELGRADE, Jan. 21.—It is reported that a reconciliation has been effected between ex-King Milan and his divorced wife Natalie. What the political result, if any, of this will be cannot be prophesied, but the official statement that the differences between the ex-king and Natalie have been settled has caused great rejoicing among the people.

SUIT FOR A LARGE AMOUNT.

Three Ex-Clergymen Who Appear to Have Profited Largely.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The trial of the suit brought by Arnold Morley, the postmaster-general, and his brother Samuel as executors of the will of their deceased brother Henry, against three ex-clergymen of the Church of England, named Longmans, was continued yesterday.

The action is to recover the sum of £140,000 which it is alleged, the Longmans obtained from Henry Morley by undue influence. All the Longmans and Henry Morley belonged to the religious sect known as the Plymouth brethren. The first witness called testified that when the Longmans were asked to explain what had become of £50,000 that Henry Morley had received a short time before his death, they admitted that they had received that amount of money as a gift from Mr. Morley.

They said the money was given instead of bequeathed to them, so that they might save the amount that would have been collected as legacy duty had they received the money under the will. The whole £50,000 had been invested by them for religious work. They were called upon to place this money at the disposal of the same.

Samuel Morley was next called. He testified that some time before his brother's death he heard his memory. So bad was his affliction in this respect that he could not remember the names of his near relatives. Arnold Morley testified that the relation of Henry Morley with his family had been cordial. The witness had never railed at his brother for living with the Longmans, though he had urged him not to keep aloof from his family.

Two People Charged With Purloining the Property of a Dead Man.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 21.—Mrs. Jennie Marsh and James McIntosh, charged with purloining property of the late chief of police, Gamble Weir, were placed on trial before Judge Stowe yesterday. Before Weir died, he lived at Mrs. Marsh's house.

When the administrator of Weir's estate went to Mrs. Marsh's house to claim the property of Weir, nothing but his old clothes and a cuff button were found. Mrs. Marsh and McIntosh left for Staten Island, where they were arrested afterward and a trunk containing many of the effects of the late chief of police was found. These goods were placed in evidence yesterday.

MUST RESPECT AND OBEY.

A Pastoral Letter by Cardinal Gibbons Respecting the New Legislature.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 21.—It was stated yesterday that Cardinal Gibbons has written a pastoral letter, which will on Sunday be read in every church in the diocese, to the effect that, as the pope has seen fit to appoint Mgr. Satolli apostolic delegate and to make the office permanent, all good Catholics must render him respect and obedience.

The particular reason for the appointment of a permanent apostolic delegate said to be announced in the letter is the constant decrease of permanent rectorships which are now to come especially under control of the delegate in question. Archbishop Satolli is the first incumbent of this office in this country.

"In buying a cough medicine for children," says H. A. Walker, a prominent druggist of Ogden, Utah, "never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. 415 West Michigan Street, CHAS. O. FALLER, Prop. DULUTH, MINN.

PERSONAL.

Superintendent of Telegraph Hope, of the Omaha line, is in the city today.

General Roadmaster P. J. Mungavon, of the Northern Pacific, is here to overlook the condition of the yard tracks of his company.

President McCormack of the Ophir company is at Duluth and members of the Ophir and International companies of Duluth, leave tonight for that point where they will meet the chief executive tomorrow.

R. L. Belknap, president of the Duluth Gas and Water company, is in the city. A. D. Thomson has gone to Chicago for New York this afternoon and will attend a meeting of the American Steel Barge company while there. He will probably visit the Gulf of Mexico before he returns.

F. A. Patrick started for Chicago this afternoon.

Jos. Donauer and family left today for a four months' visit to their "little German home across the sea."

VERY SUCCESSFUL.

Two Dentists Who Are Winning Success and Honors in Their Profession.

Drs. von Suessmich and Day, the Duluth dentists, who have lately sprung into such prominence in dental circles on account of their recent improvements in crown and bridge work and the introduction of a wonderful local anesthetic for filling teeth, are two very interesting men to talk with. A reporter who called at their offices in the Hunter block was given the privilege of witnessing some of their operations.

It is a wonderful thing to see a tooth that has been so sore and tender that no person could touch it, in a few seconds rendered so completely insensitive to pain that the forceps can be applied and the tooth removed without the patient suffering the least inconvenience, although perfectly conscious all the time. The same applies to the filling of a tooth, and the most sensitive teeth can be properly and thoroughly filled with no pain whatever.

"Do you have any failures with your anesthetic, doctor?" asked the reporter. "I have had just three cases in which it practically failed to work, but I credit that to the exceedingly nervous condition of the patients, and I have used it upwards of 350 times. I do not consider that a bad showing. Even chloroform fails to work occasionally."

"People appreciate this sort of thing do they not?"

"Judging from the way they are crowding us, I should say that they did. We cannot begin to attend to all who apply to us for sittings. This is particularly true with regard to our new system of crown and bridge work. We are both of us working until late every night in order to keep up with our work and we are in correspondence with an expert crown and bridge worker whom we will employ to do all the laboratory work allowing us to give our entire attention to work at the chair."

"You evidently believe in keeping up with the times, doctor," remarked the reporter, gazing around the laboratory at the bewildering array of appliances. "Indeed we do," said the doctor. "No man can do the best work unless he has the best instruments and as we do nothing but the best work, we are compelled to furnish ourselves with the latest and best appliances. A tooth can be extracted with a pair of blacksmith's tongs, but not very successfully, whereas it may be done with the proper instruments better and with one-tenth the pain."

The reporter was then invited to witness the extraction of twenty-six teeth from an old man who had been waiting patiently for two hours for his turn, but being somewhat in a hurry and not over-courageous at the sight of so many defunct molars, he declined with thanks and left.

MORE INDUSTRIES YET

Lon Merritt Says the Company's Plans Call For a Large Smelter and Furnaces in Duluth.

Work on Some of the Various Proposed Plants Will Commence in a Month or Two.

Phoenix Company Will Bring the Peoria Electric Plant Here and Make Motors and Dynamos.

The building of numerous docks and the constructing of an extensive system of roads and terminals of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern company is but a part, and a small part, of the ultimate intention of the Merritts and their co-laborers and owners of the great Mesaba range. The Herald announces today upon no less authority than the statement of Lon Merritt that plans for the establishing of a large smelter and other furnaces are about adopted, the location to be between Oneco and Duluth on this side of the bay. Said Mr. Merritt this morning:

"We propose and have made initiatory arrangements for the establishing of every kind of plant, on a large scale, for the handling, reducing and manufacturing of our iron from the time it leaves its native bed until it is a manufactured product fit for all the ramifications of the iron and steel trade demand."

This outlines the employment of more capital in development of the iron industry than has yet been hinted and Mr. Merritt assures The Herald that work on some of the various proposed plants will commence in a month or two.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Dynamos, Motors and Generators to be Manufactured Here.

Still Duluth gathers them in. The latest is that the Phoenix Electric company is negotiating for the plant of the Peoria Electric company, of Peoria, Ill. If the negotiations are successful, and The Herald understands there is no doubt about that part, the capital stock of the Phoenix Electric company will be increased to $250,000, the Peoria plant moved here and the manufacture of dynamos, motors and generators will be taken up in Duluth along with the furnishing of a full line of electrical supplies.

"ROMEO AND JULIET."

A New Version to be Given Soon by the Travesty Club.

The Travesty club will give a performance of a new version of "Romeo and Juliet" at the Lyceum theater on Feb. 22. The libretto has been entirely revised and brought "up to date" by C. H. Eldridge, the author, while several innovations and improvements have been introduced into the musical department which is under the charge of Mr. Cushman, who will conduct the performance.

The characters will be sustained for the most part by the gentlemen who scored such a success in them at the performance, though some change have necessarily been made. The rehearsals are proceeding very satisfactorily, and no expense or trouble is being spared to secure a first-class production.

A Coming Marriage.

Next Wednesday, Miss Lizzie Craig, a teacher in the Lincoln school, will be married in this city to Mr. W. H. Niles, a prominent farmer and stockman at Fergus Falls. Last evening, Miss Craig's fellow teachers in the Lincoln school called upon her at her place of abode, 409 Eighth avenue east, and not only left an abundance of handsome and valuable presents, but spent the evening in social festivities in the nature of a farewell to single misery and an initiatory step towards double blessedness.

If the Portland and Endion people would use a little precaution in selecting cars during the morning hours, from 7 to 9, and in the evening, from 4 to 7, the unnecessary crowding noticeable of late in the Lakeside cars could be entirely avoided. It is frequently the case that a Lakeside car leaves Third avenue west with sixty people on board and the next car follows with perhaps ten or fifteen. A little care and patience on the part of the traveling public and everybody would be comfortable.

Geo. Dinwoodie's coal office is now at 208 West Superior street. Telephone 413. Best coal, lowest prices, promptest delivery.

GUARDING AGAINST DISEASE.

The School Authorities Trying to Prevent the Spread of Diseases.

The following special notice, dated January 18, 1893, and bearing the signature of "R. E. Denfield, superintendent of schools" has been sent to each and every teacher employed in the city schools. While it is of direct concern to teachers only, a great many readers of The Herald will be interested in it so much as it shows that the school authorities are doing their duty in the grave matter of watching against infection and contagious diseases and that no duty on their part in that direction is being neglected.

"Owing to the fact that many children have been exposed to the contagious diseases, diphtheria and scarlet fever, it is very necessary that the strictest possible vigilance be exercised by each and every teacher, and the responsibility not only rests upon the teacher, but doubly so upon the principal of the building, who must not only give individual attention to the matter, but see that every teacher is duly posted with reference to the directions given in Notices No. 2 and 3.

As stated in Notice No. 3, a failure to give proper attention to this will constitute good grounds for dismissal, and the board will not overlook any negligence in reference to this matter.

All children who are known to have walked, talked or played with children in whose homes a contagious disease is known to exist, must be excluded from the privileges of the school, and all others warned not to associate with them, because the health of the school would be endangered.

"This notice must be given to each room on receipt of the same, and the principal is warned to see that nothing prevents her from so doing. After conversation with the health officer, he has promised to deliver notices of contagious diseases by messenger, as soon as the contagious disease is reported to the department. The health officer will co-operate of all to check anything that would create epidemics, and must have it."

Reduction of Freight Rates.

On Feb. 1 the Northern Pacific railroad will put into effect a rate on canned salmon in carload lots, of 75 cents per 100 pounds between Portland and Columbus river and Puget Sound points and the head of Lake Superior. This is a reduction of 25 cents from the former rate.

Bid in favor of the Creditor.

An execution in favor of the Duluth Gas and Water company was issued against all debts of Fannie L. Mitchell due or liable to become due to the Tribune Printing company, and the accounts, bills and demands were bid in by the plaintiff creditor for $793.64 at the sheriff's sale this morning.

Thanks From Davis.

The following county building officers were made very happy this morning by the receipt of personal and individual letters from Senator Davis, thanking them for their efforts and congratulatory telegrams from Charles Sinclair, Ayer, Crockett, Armstrong, Ed Long, LaVaque and Shepard. Congressman Cotton was the recipient of a lengthy letter from the senator in glowing terms for his brilliant nominating speech.

DISTRICT COURT JURORS.

Grand and Petit Venires for the February Term of the Court.

The following are the names of the citizens called to serve as jurors at the next term of the district court:

Grand jurors—R. H. Fagan, A. W. Fimple, John M. Root, Geo. F. Piper, W. H. Burris, W. A. Kennedy, K. A. Tansig, R. P. Faine, F. B. Lavier, J. B. Root, Ed Hazen, L. R. Bondy, J. H. Crawford, W. S. Conklin, J. W. Earle, A. V. Kelly, Frances Smith, of Duluth; P. B. Gaylord, of Lester Park; Nels Benson and Henry Nelson, of Tower.

Petit jurors—R. M. Gray, W. A. Holgate, T. J. Monahan, Harry D. Haines, G. A. Flack, H. H. Bell, A. C. Parsons, T. E. Bowen, A. M. Jarances, Alois Ebner, H. A. Norton, J. C. Fisher, S. V. Gilbert, C. N. Clark, D. T. Adams, D. A. Abell, H. H. Hanford, A. D. Cummings, Levi Barber, K. McGregor, Emil Schried, C. M. Manseaur, L. G. Lange, C. B. Aske, W. C. Kilgore, R. H. Harris, C. L. White, H. J. Atwood, W. C. Finney, W. B. Bradley, of Duluth; Frank Daily, J. B. Beckner, D. R. McKinley, Wm. Bennett, F. E. E. E. George, Wm. Alford, of West Duluth; W. B. Pratt, of Merritt.

THE NEXT BONSPIEL.

Duluth and Milwaukee Are Favorites With the Curiers.

At a meeting of the Northwestern Curiers' association at St. Paul the old board of officers was re-elected, as follows: John Johnson, Milwaukee, president; W. F. Myron, St. Paul, secretary and treasurer; and J. B. Hill, Chicago, vice president. The president appointed the following gentlemen as the executive committee: Hon. H. W. Cary, St. Paul; John Goodnow, Minneapolis; W. A. McFarlane, Duluth; A. J. Towner, Fortage la Prairie; O. W. Robinson, Minneapolis.

There was discussion as to the selection of the city at which to hold the next bonspiel, but it was decided to leave that point to be determined at the next business meeting. Milwaukee and Duluth, however, appear to be the favorites.

MR. BELANGER ACCEPTS.

A. A. Cross' Successor at the Great Northern Elevators Appointed.

About four weeks ago A. A. Cross tendered his resignation as general manager of the Great Northern elevators to accept the management of the Superior Water, Light and Power company.

No one was appointed to fill the office until Wednesday when E. D. Belanger, formerly of the York Iron foundry, received word from President A. S. Alexander of the Eastern Minnesota railway, that he could have the position if he cared to accept it. Mr. Belanger at once signified his willingness to accept the position and notified President Alexander that effect.

Mr. Belanger is quite well known in Duluth and has only recently moved to Superior. His former home was at Utica, N. Y.

"Alvin Joslin."

Charles L. Davis and his company appeared at the Lyceum last evening to a crowded house, in "Alvin Joslin." There is nothing of merit to the plot of the play and some of the acting was very poor, notably that of J. E. Gilbert as Bob Ford, the confidence man. Davis is, of course, very good and a number of his performances were fair. The company showed under many difficulties, however. Starting from Eau Claire at 4:20 yesterday morning they were delayed en route and only arrived here at 7:15 last evening, minus breakfast, dinner and supper. The same bill is on this evening.

More Mining Leases.

R. T. Herndon has leased his iron lands in 58-17 to P. L. Kimberley. The property consists of 280 acres on the Mesaba range and the lessor has the choice of either $3000 advance royalty or one-half the product. The lessee puts in the machinery and gets the property in shape to become a shipping mine.

At King Oscar's Court in Old Sweden

The ladies wear roses according to the color of their eyes. So a lady with dreamy beautiful deep blue eyes carried pink roses. La France, sparkling black eyes, bright red, such as Meteor, Bennett, etc.; brown aristocratic eyes would wear the cream or yellow, Sunset, Pearl or Marechal Niel roses; light mild blue eyes sought the purity of white, such as Bride, Nephiteous, etc., but the ladies of Duluth follow their own tastes in this matter. We often wonder why they wear flowers at all as they are so pretty without them, but of course it adds to their beauty and grace. And as we all know God created first Adam then Eve and next the flowers, therefore we men like to look upon a lady carrying a few roses as they are so becoming to her. And nowadays in Duluth ladies, or better still gentlemen, stockholders in iron, etc., can buy the rose, beautiful, fresh and cheap, in all colors, from the florist.

TO FREEDOM'S HEIGHT

Another Effort to Lead the Women of Minnesota to the Chicago Congress This Year.

The Servant Girl Question Naturally Forms a Prominent Part of the Study in Hand.

A Composite Kitchen, and What it Should be Like to Meet all the Requirements.

Since last week's paper re-opened on a firm foundation this branch of the exposition work I have been asked in unexpected quarters how others could support it. I will begin modestly, and building slowly, hope to build firmly and lastingly. I want to open women's minds in Minnesota (as it is my charge) to the path that, if they enter, will lead them to the congress of 1893 at Chicago. There the experienced and practical thinkers of today will help them strongly up to freedom's heights.

But the housekeepers have had the narrow views that single homes bound. They are as ignorant of what they need, even, or of how to get it, as I was last August, when a courteous Bostonian, in trying to help me—as the women I was hunting for were not in town—said to me: "If you have only to October (as I thought then) you will be able to do nothing that I can see." He must have "seen," as he tried to explain the beginnings of this ponderous exposition work to me, that I was, as I felt, set down in a maze, whose beginning I needed first to find, and probably thought, as men do, that it was like a woman to get into a snarl without knowing why she wanted to get in. But I had had a personal acquaintance with the skirting edges of this snarl for so many years that I felt like a hand-to-hand fight with its mazes. I knew I needed it, and I had heard faint (?) sounds of distress from others of that ilk.

I will not say to you: "If you have only till May, you will be able to do nothing that I can see," because since then I have seen much for you to do, that you might be prepared to understand, at first hearing, what it has taken those, who will speak to you at the congresses, years of failures and successes, of struggle and of study to get, to win now, and to find fit to "hold fast." Having entered the maze before you, I can understand your bewilderment.

The first thing you can do is to fill the maze with so many that all helping all, shall soon define its roads and end perplexity. Be ready with intelligence to understand the congresses that grapple with our difficulties. Learn where to look to find the women who are trying to unravel our puzzle. The difficulty always is to know where help is ready. Work and workers always abound, but often do not know where to fitly bestow themselves.

The beginning of this work does not require anything but setting up the guide posts and explaining the road and its endings. It needs liberal advertising and explaining to guide those who have never heard of it, and yet comprehend its scope. Send out the papers. If they, in themselves, do not fit, they do open up knowledge that such a work is being started. Inquiries will be sent to find the work. When found, workers and work will find themselves fitting and fitted. As I find some, who did not see the initial paper of Nov. 26, do not understand that it is only the weekly, or Saturday Herald, that gives us our income, I will repeat. The Saturday evening Herald, at 15 cents for the month, is ours for 100 subscribers. That means $15 to us. Send the names of the new subscribers and their money to me, that treasures may not get mixed. Help also those who do take it by sending your copies, after read, to anyone, anywhere, that you think it might gain for subscribers, or through them might perhaps reach others. When the work is fully understood the nation will be its followers. The first work must be to help all housekeepers to understand that there is such a work and what it means to do. The next work will be to unite the minds and purses of those who do understand.

I think the first effort, when united, will be in the kitchen. It is our common difficulty. We, who are so dependent upon it, are yet ignorant of how to build it, how to furnish it, how to direct it, to control it. When we have enlightened our ignorance, those in the kitchen and those out of it will be happier. Our domestics understand their abilities, their true needs and their limitations. Their mistresses, lacking study, knowledge, experience or interest cannot teach, guide or rule; and ignorance, indifference or fear of sudden desertion covers them into a moral slavery, which the tyrant recognizes and enjoys.

Our kitchen girls are shrewder than their mistresses, for they have formed their unions. There would be no real need of unions on either side were human nature just and generous. I acknowledge there are oppressions on both sides. Capital and labor need each other. Let capital unite and study justice. Let labor unite and study needs. Let capital and labor then both unite and hear, weigh and decide. If women would reason with themselves and then reason with their help, I know, from experience, that the result would be kindness increased. I do not mean argue. Reasoning and arguing are not identical. Let the mistress consider what services her rate of wages entitles her to expect and demand. Let her demand of the employed that if counterfeited money is not given as wages, counterfeit work must not be returned. It is not only just, it is a benefit.

I read: "There is no true happiness in this world but that that comes from doing right." Teach your girl to do right, and you will benefit her, yourself, and her descendants. When she goes into a home of her own, if you have taught her to avoid even a minimum of waste, to be strictly honorable in her rendering of her promised duty; to be unselfish (as you must be to teach her) and think of what she owes to you or of what she would like you to do to her, if she were in your place; if you teach her by example and by words to struggle for wider thinking and more beautiful living; if you teach her cleanliness, daintiness, in physical person and taste; if you change her ignorance and awkwardness into refinement and true womanliness when she goes into a home of her own she will in turn be teacher to her family, and prepare them for theirs—"the end you shall never be discouraged by seeing."

I have been attacked for likening this work to a white elephant in this state. I knew what I was saying. A white elephant in its proper home is a sacred object. Ours is in its proper home, but the home does not know it. I read last winter a keeper's testimony. Quarreling among elephants is not common, but we are careful not to put the males together. Their tempers differ; the females, however, are rarely cross. There has been so much joking, enjoyed among men about women's tempers that it has affected housekeeping women. Elephants in their homes are the most useful of animals. So are men and women in theirs. "Female elephants are rarely cross." Do male humans show temper less than female humans? I have read some not uncertain reports of their meetings, etc. Mistresses of homes seem to feel that they can say: "I have no trouble with my servants," that it is a defense of their questioned temper. It is not. It is simply their acceptance of their burden. But it is not right, it is not necessary to accept it. If it is a wrong it would be right to accept it. But it does not. If it were impossible to improve it, it would be necessary. But it is not impossible.

The first mistake women make is not considering that the kitchen girl needs the money and that if the girl controls the work, the mistress controls the money. The mistress must be the ruler of her realm. It was hers before the girl entered it; it will be hers after the girl leaves it. The girl leaves behind her all the tokens of her wrecking track. It is the mistress who must reconstruct the wreck. It is then the mistress' first duty to herself, to prevent continual wrecking. Secondly, it is her duty to other mistresses to prevent such engines of destruction being let loose. Thirdly, it is her duty to so modify such wreckers that they shall be turned into doers of good to themselves and all others. The mistress has the first duty. It is threefold. She needs to stop to consider how her indifference or want of wisdom are working, perpetual increasing wretchedness. We need to look ahead always; look at the end that will come. It will in the end return to her. Some day the world will be so involved in this growing muddle, that she too, will be caught on its edges. It is her first duty to be the sovereign, just, generous, but firm. At present, the common testimony is that of a discerning servant who said: "Lor, you'd a thought I was a hiring her stid o' her hiring me."

I have begun with the moral view of the kitchen. It is only hinted at, for I offered to try to remodel it. When mistresses and servant all over the land have remodeled their misconceptions, the model kitchen will be built and managed by mistress and maid in a sustaining, cheering harmony; for both, being intelligent and ambitious for the highest and best, will work together.

Some time ago, I asked a few of the older members of the club to consider with me what they could evolve for a model kitchen, if we exhibited. I have collected during my less than three score years and ten, many hints, which I will try to put in their proper places. Last, I received an abundance, but not abundant (for they are different in meaning) help from Mr. Fitzpatrick, the architect, but he conceded what I had said, covered for myself, that if one wants to fit up a parlor, there is help enough, but great silence and dearth about the kitchen. Last week I promised to so jumble up contributions that attack would not be able to select the victim. I will now advance the jumble.

It must be a right-handed kitchen, that one can work more at ease. It must not be too large, or too many unnecessary steps will be taken. Some consider a large square, if planned with exceeding utility of space is enough. Others say 15x17 or 16x16, 14x16, or 20x25 for a large house. A long, narrow, dark kitchen is an abomination. Always furnish the kitchen well. The main thing is to systematize everything, grouping such things as belong to any particular kind of work. For instance, in baking, do not go to the china closet for a bowl, across the kitchen for flour, and to the farther end of the pantry or storeroom for an egg, have them within easy reach of each other. It should be light and airy. It should be as high as the other rooms in the house, and ventilated by a hood over the range (to carry off steam, and the smoke) and by registers near the floor in front of the range, connected with its combustion chambers. In winter, fresh air can be admitted by valved registers in tops of windows, in front of the range, fared upward. If the kitchen be located in a one-story extension, almost perfect ventilation may be secured by means of a ventilator in the roof, or by a skylight; or by a ventilator in the chimney. It is well to have a separate chimney for the kitchen to prevent odors escaping to other rooms. If poorly ventilated, strength is easily exhausted and irritation induced.

It should be lighted by electric lights with porcelain reflectors, hung from the ceiling and about 7 feet 6 inches from the floor, and distributed over the various tables, sinks, etc. One or two should be hung under a canopy over the range. Or, have bracket or wall lamps placed at each end or at the sides, so that the room may be well lighted in the evening. It should be contiguous, but not subject to the main structure, and closely connected with all the domestic offices—pantries, store rooms, laundry, scullery, larder. It should be free from hidden registers or closets should be followed. A hallway between diningroom and kitchen cuts off noises and odors. As little gas as possible should be used; no wood for shelving or table; no enclosed plumbing; non-absorbent walls, ceilings and floors; well distributed light and mechanical ventilation. There should never be bevel, beading or moulding on kitchen window or door frame, and the kitchen door leading to the dining room should be faced with rubber and closed with not too strong a spring. Over the kitchen door should be a ventilator. Place doors for convenience. Doors leading to pantry can be sliding. If desired very handsome they can be like the kitchen of W. K. Vanderbilt, no wooden trimmings but brass mouldings. Broad window seats are a convenience and can hold a few pots of flowers or herbs that are wanted for culinary purposes, as parsley, salsify, etc., which are also decorative for brightening the kitchen, and as amateur gardeners know, they will grow here better than in any other part of the house. Wire screens should be supplied in summer for doors and windows. Not less than three large windows are desirable in every kitchen, and have them open in the middle of the floor like doors. If light can be obtained from three sides, the better. Window sills should be on a line with tops of sinks and bathtubs. Windows should have a high bottom rail and an exceedingly fine meshed screen—almost a bolting cloth—inside of the glass and away from it, and independent of the regular outside fly screen, and should sit snugly to the bottom of the window when the latter is opened.

Woodwork can be oiled and varnished lightly. A wainscot is desirable. The base or skirting should be of Portland or other good cement, extending up on the wall ten or twelve inches and curved out on the floor thus avoiding any sharp internal angles. The first principal of kitchen building is the avoidance of wood about it for any purpose whatever. If the house is a frame one, the plastering in the kitchen should be applied over wire lath, fastened to the studding with a lap to prevent the natural shrinkage of the wood from causing any cracks in the plaster—the homes of roaches, microbes and other objectionable boarders. In Cornelius Vanderbilt's kitchen there is not a particle of woodwork about the place but the doors and window sashes.

I have now reached my "limitation" in space, but only began to hint what I have gathered. I found "the work" needed explaining. This is not merely a recipe column. I shall move the kitchen and its cup of coffee into next week—not then to be finished; but floors, walls and ceiling will have some notice, and the furniture and its arrangement be considered, as also the kitchen offices of laundry, pantries, etc.

Mrs. Brown's Receipt For a New Dress. 1 last year's gown, faded and dingy. 1 spool thread. 1 spool silk. 2 packages diamond dyes, the color desired.

Rip the dress and clean thoroughly. Put into the dye bath while wet, as directed on the dye package. After dyeing, wash, dry, and press. Then make up in some new style.

The result will surprise those unaccustomed to the use of diamond dyes, for the dyed-over dress will look like a brand new one.

LECTURER BILL NYE.

William Tells About His Experiences and Declares it is Not so Easy as it Looks.

Starting Out as a Lecturer on a Hill Job Under the Most Favorable Circumstances.

He Describes the First Lecture He Ever Delivered and How He Felt at the Time.

I've just been talking with a young man on the train. He squirmed a bit of sunshine into my life. So he imagined. In fact, I wanted to sleep, being short over six weeks of slumber and counting on getting a small collection of winks on the way. He sat near me in the seat and hung his overcoat over my head so that his smoking tobacco sifted down the back of my neck and tickled the top of my sensitive head.

"NINETY DAYS AND COSTS."

He said he would like some day my judgment on a book he was going to publish under the title "Gleanings." I said yes, I would look at it when I happened to be at his house. He said that would be unnecessary, as he had it with him. He opened his valise, which contained the manuscript, a pair of articles and a lunch, and took out "Gleanings." He read quite a lot of it to me.

"Now what would your judgment be on that?" he said.

"Ninety days and costs," said I as quick as a flash.

He said he was reluctantly got off the car that was a great student of Mr. Riley, the Hoosier poet. "I don't believe Jim has ever wrote anything that I can't read, and, between you and me, a heap better than he does it. I use his 'Goodbye, Johnnie; see you later,' in my lecture."

Speaking of lecturing, I have an earnest and sincere letter from a young man at Racoon Summit, Tenn., asking about my own early experience and how I like it.

The history of the lecture industry of America is one of alternate elation and depression. It is a history of alternate failure and success, written with the heart's blood of the lecturer. It is a record of hope and indignation, of exhilarating applause and nipping frosts. It is easy in America today: "I will be a lecturer. I will train my voice and warm the cold hearts of my fellows with my nice new upper register. I will train myself from an elocutionary point of view, and I will wear myself a lecture to fit the gestures that I have thought up. I will win for myself a place in the hearts of my countrymen at $200 per pop, and committees shall say, 'Lo! he is indeed a corker!' and the leading people of the town shall take me to their homes and give me of their preserves, and the committee shall meet me at the depot with a lively team."

It is easy to say all this, but it is not easy to do it. Before all this can happen the long dusty road that leads to public approval must be sprinkled with tears. The amateur lecturer must contribute many sobs and three sheet posters, and many an amateur manager must meet with reverses of his fortune, while the lecturer's cuffs are going through the same process.

Our best lecturers are too wealthy to lecture, and so the field is occupied pretty extensively by those whose fame is superior to their lectures, or whose lectures are superior to their fame. So too often it is either "a small but delighted audience," or "a large and disappointed one."

Sometimes the lecturer entirely escapes criticism, while the audience gets a terrible roasting for its apparent enjoyment. This is one of the saddest sights I have ever witnessed. A bright young critic, who has had sometimes as high as a year and a half of experience as a thought molder, takes an audience of more or less mature people across his knee and gives it a well merited rebuke. I have known an audience after such an experience to change its name and go somewhere else. No one who has never been an audience under such circumstances can imagine its chagrin when it finds by the paper that it has enjoyed a lecture which was a bitter disappointment to a blasé young critic.

Judicious advertising twenty-five years ago would have made any lecture a financial success, but now it will not. It is a queer combination of fame—ability to entertain and business sagacity—which together make up the sum of success from a box office standpoint now, and that has to be the test, at least, for lecture committees and local managers do not love one who cannot draw. You are therefore to combine your talents as a talker and as a draftsman.

To start out as a lecturer and win

wealth and fame in this way is an up hill job, even though your lecture was written by some one in whom you have the utmost confidence. Generally originality of thought and expression, which through the medium of the public press have attracted attention, are the first and strongest elements of success in the makeup of a lecture tour. Then should follow a complete study of the average audience and an effort to please its peculiar taste.

In the autumn of the year 1894 I met with a severe accident in the northern woods of Wisconsin, by which my leg was very much broken at the knee. The accident was due largely to an error in judgment by which my own eccentric bisected the orbit of a growling cyclone at a time when the cyclone's orbit was in use. "Stepping on a bright, new peal of thunder," to quote from myself, I fell quite a long distance with very little obstruction until I reached the earth, when I was shocked to find that I could proceed no farther.

Starting up, however, I was horrified to find before I had proceeded two steps that my choicest leg had been broken just below the knee. After weeks of suffering at a village, where I was carried by admiring friends, I was led to believe from the large number of people who came long distances to view the shattered limb that if I could get it on the stage, together with a few explanatory remarks regarding atmospheric phenomena, I would entertain and instruct while possibly detracting attention from the accursed ballet and thus elevating the stage.

A New York manager had previously written me regarding the possibility of my lecturing, and I had been just coy enough to keep him interested. Thus as I began to get around crutches I could not overcome the desire to appear in public, so that those who had "read after" me could also "sit under me." I wrote to this manager and told him that he might make fifty dates for me in desirable cities in December and January at an enormous price. He wrote back to know what printing and press notices I had.

I had one notice, which I sent to him at once, although he never used it. It was as follows:

"Last evening Mr. Nye spoke at the new rink here on the subject, 'Is or Is Not the Tariff a Tax?' The speaker arrived on the 8 o'clock stage from the Sliding. He was the first one in the hall and by far the last one out of it. He speaks with great difficulty, owing to the fact that he is unable to think of things to say. Some think he will improve. The lecture was free, and several came in to get warm. Those who were already warm enough did not come in."

"The janitor tells us that the lecture lasted over an hour. He thinks that if our people here had begun in time it could have been averted. He is going to resign as janitor if the owners of the building do not treat him with more consideration."

There were other notices that were better than the above—notice that I had written myself—for I was more careful not to wound my feelings than the man who wrote that one.

After a few weeks, greatly to the surprise of those who knew me, I got a telegram asking me my price for lecturing. The telegram came from a small but very active and thrifty place. I was not ready with my lecture yet, and my clothes were done, so I wired back that I would charge $300 and expenses. The answer by red message was that my terms were accepted with pleasure.

This only gave me two days in which to study my piece and finish my clothes. It was very annoying, but I could not honorably get out of it. Also by this time I had grown very tired of studying the lecture. It did not improve on acquaintance. I wondered how I could have seen anything smart in it on the start. Oh, how very true and tart and tough it seemed as I studied it walking up and down in the granary, and how I wished that I had not beaten down the price of the young man who wanted to write a good lecture for me!

Why did I try to economize by writing my own lecture? Here was a young man who had written lectures for all the prominent lecturers of the country, and eight dollars was all he asked. Why did I try to save eight dollars and there by humiliate myself before the people?

Finally the job was done. The lecture instead of the lecturer was committed, and the new clothes came home with white lasting threads in them. I had a dress rehearsal in the evening at home before I went to bed. One good, kind man went from my rehearsal to sit up with a lady who had been killed by her husband while at tea. He went rather cheerfully, it seemed to me.

ANY RELATION TO BILL NYE?

All along the way to my engagement I could not be happy. Everything reminded me of my lecture. In my imagination I could see the audience, at first expectant, then disappointed, then disagreeable, then offensive and finally riotous. I could not eat anything. I did not feel hungry. I dreaded meeting the committee. I was tempted to get killed on the road, and though I needed the advertising I gave it up. For I could not think of any kind of death that would make me ashamed to be laid out.

No one met me at the train. Then I began to hope that possibly it was all a mistake and that maybe I would not have to lecture. I went to the only hotel and registered. The landlord asked if I was any relation to Bill Nye. I said yes. "Well," said "he is here today; has been here all day."

"He has?"

"Yes. Came in on the morning train. The committee met him and took him up to see the artesian well, and visited the public school with him, and they spoke to the children, kept 'em laughing all the while, sassed the teacher, swore at the scholars and smoked the committee's cigars. Oh, he's a corker! He lectures here tonight."

"Is he stopping here at this house?"

"Yes, he stops here. Charlie, where did Bill Nye go to?"

"Why, he was here just before the train went out."

"Well, I spent you run up to No. 80 and see if he's in. Tell him there's a relation of his down here."

Pretty soon Charlie came back and said that he was gone. Also his bright little commiseration. He had gone out on the same train which brought me in. He had enjoyed himself very much indeed, it is said. He had buggy ridden all day, made a few remarks to the workmen on reciprocity and delivered a notoriously unseasonal speech before the Presbyterian synod, which was then in session there—a speech which I have been nearly eight years in trying to live down by an upright life.

I began on the evening at a great disadvantage. It had become noised about that I was a low, coarse thing, and that I had never been in good society much. One man asked at the box office if it would be a proper place to bring ladies. I do not know when I have been so pained. It is hard enough to lecture for the first time anyhow; but, oh, how distressing it is when one has been maligned and misrepresented by an alibi! I was introduced by a man who was so afraid that he might accidentally be responsible for my sentiments that he said nothing except in regard to the beautiful soil and climate of the town, and what undeveloped resources she had, and how a little foreign capital would make her what she was destined in the no great distant future to become—the gem city of the continent.

I arose somewhat irritated and said that after the beautiful and deserved tribute and introduction just given to the gem city of the continent I was sorry to state that it was unable to be present this evening, and that I had been scoured to take its place. Then I went on from that with my lecture, which sounded strange and very poor to me.

When any one snickered, it surprised and astonished me so that my very astonishment added to their mirth. I was so depressed and sad inside that it seemed to heighten the effect and add to what there was in the text that was of a humorous character. That air of intense gloom while on the platform is still with me today. It is natural and honest. It is not assumed. It was stage fright to begin with, and it has at last crystallized into habit and has been honored by the name of "art." It is not art. It is the petrification of my early horror.

AMONG THE PERIODICALS.

Some of the interesting contents of Popular Weeklies and Monthlies.

The Illustrated American for the week ending Jan. 21 devotes several pages to the second series of "The Road of the Rough," depicting low life in "Mulberry Bend" and like neighborhoods of the metropolis and its sequence. The fine illustrations of the article include a full-page engraving of a scene in the Atlantic garden. Another important article deals with the "House of the Sun," and is illustrated by portraits of Oriental princes, past and present. The demolition of La Chapelle Expatriate, in Paris, is commended. The World's events of the week, the theaters are all touched upon. The illustrations include full-page portraits of Mrs. Besant and Miss Marie Burgess, and a reproduction of one of Ludwig Knaus' most attractive paintings.

Hundreds of the subscribers to The Herald have availed themselves of the Christmas offer to secure one of the exquisite oil pictures entitled "A Yard of Fancies," but a number have been disappointed in not receiving the same. The directions were not carefully followed as published in The Herald of December 27th. The publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East Fourteenth street, New York, who supplies the readers of The Herald with the "Fancies," has an offer system perfect as thirty years' experience can make it, and each request for the "Fancies," accompanied by 6 cents in postage and the name and address of the reader, will be filled the day it is received by Mr. Demorest. He has received a large number of letters from our readers containing names but the clipping from this paper, without any name or address where "A Yard of Fancies" was to be sent. When the full name and address is given it is impossible to properly mail the souvenir. Complaints from readers who have followed the directions and failed to receive one of the pictures will be attended to immediately if a card is sent to Mr. Demorest, mentioning about what date the order was sent. Another case of delay has been the over-crowding of mail matter in the New York post office, hence complaint should not be made until a due amount of time has elapsed for the shortcomings of the postal service.

The New Peterson for February is an advance on the January number, admirable as that was in every respect. The illustrations are still better and more numerous, and the stories and miscellaneous articles are as good as they are varied. "The Evolution of Comic Opera," by Edward Stephens, is a very clever record of that favorite amusement, and gives capital portraits of the leading singers of the day. "La Perfidia" is one of Gertrude Atherton's most dramatic stories of early California days and is, respectively, illustrated. "Art in Mikado-Land," by Robert B. Graham, is an exceedingly well written paper, and the illustrations are capital. "One Clergyman and One Suburban Serving-Maid," by Joseph Kirkland, is in that popular Western author's happiest vein. "Abigail Jane Perkins, Her Skull," by Duffield Osborne, will add to its writer's already enviable reputation. The Fireside department is rich in clear, interesting and instructive matter from the pens of Minor J. Savage, Mary E. Mumford, Ella Higginson, etc. There are poems by Clinton Scollard, Angie De Vere, Minna Irving, and various other noted singers. The New Peterson is meeting from the outset with a complete success which is certain to last, because it is so thoroughly deserved. Terms, $2 per year. Address Peterson Magazine company, Philadelphia.

The series of articles on "The Development of American Industries since Columbus" will be resumed in the Popular Science Monthly for February, with an opening paper on "The Glass Industry," by Professor C. C. Stanford Henserson, in which the history of glass-making during colonial times is traced. Under the title "A Marine Biological Observatory," Professor C. C. Stanford Henserson will have in the same number a plea for extending the biological work now carried on at Woods Hole. He prints, also, characteristically letters in approval of the project from Professor Huxley, Carl Vogt, Anton Dohrn, Ernst Haeckel, and others.

Has a Few Words to Say:

Mr. Fred Birderman, employed by W. T. Baily, of Duluth, says: "For three years I suffered with pains in my back, mental depression and general weakness. I felt tired most of the time, and had dizzy spells. I tried various remedies, but failed to get any permanent relief. Finally, after reading the different testimonials in the various papers, I concluded to consult DR. S. P. MOTT & CO., New York block, West Superior. He explained my difficulty at once and placed me under treatment. His remedies have had the desired effect. My disagreeable symptoms have disappeared, and I am well pleased with the result. I should be pleased to give any information to anyone interested, and I can be found on First street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth avenues east, Duluth."
